SIX KILLED; MANY INJURED IN CYCLONE

Indiana Storm Sweeps Twenty-Five Miles of Country—Wrecking Everything Before It and Costing Several Lives.

SCHOOLHOUSE CRUSHED; TREES FALL ON MEN

At English the Loss of Life Is Not Known, as Many Residents of Town Are Missing.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 4.—A cyclone that mowed a path 100 yards wide for 25 miles across the southren end of Indiana has caused six deaths in Indiana and Kentucky so far as known. Many other persons are injured and several are missing. The property damage may touch the million-dollar mark.

At Petersburg, the Gum Tree School building was entirely demolished. Mrs. Johnson was seriously hurt by the flying debris. The barn of Mrs. Jane Tucker was blown down and her dwelling house removed from its foundations, and she was badly injured by being struck by timbers blown from a tree.

William McNeeley's barn was blown down, two horses killed and a chicken house and smoke house carried across a 10-acre field.

William Brenton's house was unroofed, his barn destroyed and 100 acres of the finest timber land in the country was almost totally destroyed, only nine trees remaining standing. Several other farm buildings were destroyed or unroofed and orchards ruined.

The path of the storm was about half a mile wide and as far as is known was about 25 miles in length, and the damage is known to be extremely heavy. The planing mill at Oakland City was blown down and three men badly injured, one of them said to be fatally injured.

Damages of $350,000 is reported from Washington and vicinity.

One of the walls of the school building, four miles east of Washington, was blown in while school was in session.

A little doughter of James Smoot was badly injured and several others were injured by flying bricks.

Frank P. Lamers' two-story building was wrecked and his barn torn to pieces. The inmates had taken refuge in the cellar, and all have escaped injury.

The storm leveled S. C. Graham's barn, and Horace Smith's barn was blown down. The floral hall in the fair grounds was destroyed. Many buildings in the city and country suffered great damage, but the most damage was done in Washington and immediately northeast of there.

The storm wassevere in the northern part of Floyd County. The barn of David Kepley was blown down and seven head of cattle killed. Two telephone lines suffered great damage.

The cyclone was preceded by a storm of hail. The wind swept a path 100 yards wide for several miles.

Oscar Cummings, a farmer, residing two miles from Alexandria, was fatally injured and his daughter, Mary, aged 8, was instantly killed by a tree falling on them. Cummings was carrying the child over a swollen stream from school.

ONE DEAD AND MANY MISSING

ENGLISH, Ind., April 4.—A cyclone at this place Friday swept everything in its path. Mrs. Jonathan Cunningham was instantly killed, and Sheridan Cunningham, her son, is lying at the point of death, with both arms and legs broken.

Several houses were torn to atoms, rendering many people homeless and desolate. The damage is estimated at almost $50,000. Several persons are missing, and it is supposed they are buried under the debris of ruined homes.

FATHER AND CHILD KILLED IN STORM

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., April 4.—Theodore Rankins and his little daughter, Mamie, were killed and Mrs. Rankins seriously injured at their home near Luzerne last night by a huge tree falling into the Rankins house in the big windstorm. The tree cut through the roof of the house into their sleeping apartments. It is thought the mother will not recover.

Heavy Wind and Cold at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., April 4.—The fierce storm that prevailed over the upper lake region yesterday swept down upon northern Ohio last night and early today, playing general havoc with telephone and telegraph wires and lashing Lake Erie into a raging sea. After a precipitation of 1.4 inches, the rain turned to snow and the temperature during the 36 hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning had dropped 47 degrees. Railroad traffic was delayed today to some extent, owing to the prostration of wires in all directions.

DEATH FOR LADRONE OFFICER

San Miguel's Aide Is Sentenced to Hang for Brigandage, but Appeals Case.

MANILA, April 4.—Col. Julian Santos, the former aide-de-camp of the late Gen. San Miguel, who participated in San Miguel's operations and was captured over a month ago by Gov. Daniel Rigard of Rizal province, personally, has been found guilty at Pasig, before Judge Grossfield, of brigandage, abduction and disarming the police at Novaliches and was sentenced to death. The case will be appealed.

SUN TO SHINE, MERCURY RISE

Nobody Who Has the Price Need Miss the Ball Game Sunday, Says Dr. Hyatt.

The April sun will shine and the mercury will rise. Dr. Hyatt says if you want to see a Sunday baseball game you had better save the price.

The weather forecast given out Saturday morning was: "Fair Saturday night and Sunday; steadily rising temperature."

The snow and the frost that followed was not only in Dr. Hyatt's domain, but extended the country over.

Fort Worth and Santa Fe had frost Friday night, and the health-seekers at Ashsville, N. C., got up Saturday morning to see the snow flying.

At St. Louis the mercury registered 32, freezing, but did not venture lower. The temperature was even the country over, with frost in many places, Arkansas and Tennessee marking the frost line east of Fort Worth.

Snow is general in the North and East, and the warm weather is coming out of the West especially for the baseball openings.

APPLIES ONLY TO CARONDELET PARK

Park Commissioner Ridgely Denies That His Picnic Order Was Sweeping.

Park Commissioner Ridgeley stated to the Post-Dispatch Saturday morning that the order covering picnics in public parks is:

"Large picnics shall not be held in Carondelet Park this summer, but all the other parks are open for school or other picnics under the same conditions what have obtained heretofore."

The following official interview in explanation of the order was given out by Superintendent Pope of the park department:

"There has been no order issued forbidding the use of the parks to the people.

"Permits have been refused, granting certain dates to large picnics. The object in doing this was to enable the young trees to take root and the lawns to recover.

"During the past eight years the increased street car facilities have concentrated far greater numbers in the parks than was anticipated. This, together with the destruction caused by the excessive drouth during the summer of 1901, has impaired the growth of trees, shrubs and lawns to such an extent that, if continued, it would ultimately destroy all forms of vegetation and defeat the purpose for which parks were intended.

"The idea was to preserve the parks for the people and have them in such a condition that they would be at the height of their grandeur and beauty during the World's Fair. To attain this, it was deemed best to prevent as far as possible large gatherings in the parks at the same time.

"This spring alone $1500 worth of trees and shrubs have been planted in Carondelet and O'Fallon parks, and they should be given a chance to take firm root or the expenditure will be wasted and the future beauty of the parks seriously impaired.

"During the last nine years 2787 permits were issued for picnics in Carondelet and O'Fallon Parks. This does not include the countless basket picnics of private parties. These alone average 25 a day and there are never less than 10 persons in each of these.

"Picnics are held during the three summer months at just the time vegetation is making its greatest headway.

"Allowing there months to the year in nine years there would be 27 months of picnic weather.

"Making no deductions for rainy days, the average is over 100 picnics a month and three a day."

John R. Wuebbold, the keeper of Carondelet Park for the past seven years, says that seed has been planted in his park and it will be nicely started about the last of May, but two picnics or gatherings like those on Decoration day will kill it all unless the grass is given time to take a firm hold.

Mr. Ridgley called upon Superintendent Soldan of the public schools Saturday morning. After the visit, Mr. Soldan said to the Post-Dispatch:

"My understanding of the order is that the resolution applies only to Carondelet Park; that public school picnics may be held in other parks under the same rules which applied heretofore."

BRINGS THE SULTAN TO TIME

American Minister Wins Concessions by Presenting Personal Letter of President Roosevelt.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Minister Leishman cabled the state department from Constantinople that he had had an interview with the Sultan, for which he had been waiting more than a month, and that it was very satisfactory.

This means that diplomas issued by American colleges in Turkey will be recognized by the government. Heretofore the doctors, lawyers and professors turned out by these colleges have been officially declared "quacks" and have been subjected to persecutions and prosecutions.

Early in February President Roosevelt wrote the Sultan on the subject. His letter was presented yesterday by Mr. Leishman. The Sultan postponed the heart to heart talk with Mr. Leishman several times, and seemed to be trying to dodge it. Mr. Roosevelt asked that American institutions in Turkey be placed on a footing with those of other friendly powers, and this will now be done.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For St. Louis and vicinity—Fair Saturday night and Sunday; rising temperature.

Missouri—Fair Saturday night, possibly followed by showers in northwest portion Sunday; rising temperature; southerly winds.

Illinois—Fair Saturday, probably followed by increasing cloudiness Sunday; rising temperature; southerly winds.

Indiana—Fair Saturday night and Sunday; rising temperature; southerly winds.

Iowa—Fair Saturday night, possibly followed by showers in extreme west portion Sunday; warmer Saturday and in east and central portions Sunday; southerly winds.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy Saturday, with warmer in southeast portion; Sunday, rain or snow and colder; southerly, shifting to northwest winds.

Tennessee—Fair Saturday night; warmer in northwest portion; Sunday fair, warmer.

TROOPS OUT FOR THE PRESIDENT

National Guard Companies Part of Receiving Body at La Crosse.

HIS TRAIN WILL REACH ST. PAUL THIS AFTERNOON

Mr. Roosevelt, in Speech at Milwaukee, Said New Anti-Rebate Law Would Cure Principal Railroad Evils.

LA CROSSE, Wis., April 4.—The presidential train arrived here on schedule time, 8:30 this morning. President Roosevelt was met at the train by a committee, headed by Mayor Boschert, C. S. Van Anken and Joseph Clark. All approaches to the depot were roped off for a block in each direction. Four companies of the Wisconsin National Guard were lined up on either side of Second street, leading to the depot, where the carriages were in waiting for the presidential party and escort. The first three carriages were elaborately trimmed in red, white and blue, and the horses gayly decorated with ribbons to match.

When the President stepped from the train he remarked on the beautiful day, and said he had a good night's rest and was feeling well.

Senator Quarles came on from Milwaukee in the presidential train.

The route of the parade extended over two miles of gaily-decorated streets, which were packed on each side with a solid mass of people. The police arrangements were of the best, and there was no delay getting to the Market Square, where a big stand had been erected.

A large crowd was gathered on the market square. The President's speech was frequently interrupted by applause. He extended a greeting to the people at La Crosse, especially to the old veterans, a large number of whom were among his hearers. He compared the warof 1861-65 to that with Spain and said that while the commanders of the lesser war did not have a big job to do they did it; but the trouble was there was not enough war to go around. He then discussed the virtue of good citizenship and referred to portions of his speech delivered at Waukesha regarding citizens of this country speaking evil of other nations.

The crowds along the route of the parade back to the depot were the largest ever seen in La Crosse.

The presidential train left for Winona and St. Paul at 10:30 a. m. He will reach St. Paul at 2:30. He leaves there tonight after addressing the legislature.

At Milwaukee the President delivered at the banquet of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association the second notable speech of his tour. He devoted himself almost entirely to a discusion of the trust problem and a narration of the steps taken by Attorney-General Knox looking toward the suppression of unlawful combinations. He also predicted much good to come from the new department of commerce and labor as soon as its organization is perfected.

Among his more notable utterances were: "We should be false to the historic principles of our government if we discriminated, either by legislation or administration, either for or against a man because of either his wealth or his poverty.

No Place for Rich Oppressor.

"There is no proper place in our society either for the rich man who uses the power conferred by his riches to enable him to oppress and wrong his neighbors, nor yet for the demagogic agitator who, instead of attacking abuses as all abuses should be attacked wherever found, attacks property, attacks prosperity, attacks men of wealth, as such, whether they be good or bad, attacks corporations whether they do well or ill, and seeks, in a spirit of ignorant rancor, to overthrow the very foundations upon which rest our national well-being.

"The necessary supervision and control, in which I firmly believe as the only method of eliminating the real evils of the trusts, must come through wisely and cautiously framed legislation, which shall aim in the first place to give definite control to some sovereign over the great corporations, and which shall be followed, when once this power has been conferred, by a system giving to the government the full knowledge which is the essential for satisfactory action. Then, when this knowledge—one of the essential features of which is proper publicity—has been gained, what further steps of any kind are necessary can be taken with the confidence born of the possession of power to deal with the subject, and of a thorough knowledge of what should and can be done in the matter. We need additional power, and we need knowledge. * * * Such legislation—whether obtainable now or obtainable only after a constitutional amendment—should provide for a reasonable supervision, the most prominent feature of which at first should be publicity; that is, the making public, both to the government authorities and to the people at large, the essential facts in which the public is concerned. This would give us exact knowledge of many points which are now not only in doubt, but the subject of fierce controversy. Moreover, the mere fact of the publication would cure some of the grave evils, for the light of day is a deterrent to wrongdoing.

New Law Is Effective.

It is clear that corporations created for quasi public purposes hold their powers as carriers in trust for the impartial service of all the public. Favoritism in the use of such powers, unjustly enriching some and unjustly impoverishing others, is palpably violative of justice. Congress, having had its attention drawn to the matter, enacted a most important antirebate law, which greatly strengthens the interstate commerce law. This new law prohibits under adequate penalties the giving and as well the demanding or receiving of such preferences, and provides the preventive remedy of injunction. The vigorous administration of this law, and it will be enforced, will, it is hoped, afford a substantial remedy for certain trust evils which have attracted public attention and have created public unrest.

"The people may wisely, and with confidence, await the results which are reasonably to be expected from the impartial enforcement of the laws which have recently been placed upon the statute books.

"Many of the alleged remedies advocated are of the drastic type which seeks to destroy the disease by killing the patient. High among the latter I place the effort to reach the trust question by means of the tariff. You can, of course, put an end to the prosperity of the trusts by putting an end to the prosperity of the nation; but the price for such action seems high. The alternative is to do exactly what has been done during the life of the congress which has just closed—that is, to endeavor, not to destroy corporations, but to regulate them."

FAREWELL, FAMILIAR MAID SO WINNING, THE NEW SPRING GOD MUST PLAY AN INNING

Come, gentle Spring, ethereal mildness*, come!
Of sylvan sights and sounds and scents the sum;
Most gracious maiden, ancient, yet renewed
Each year to suit the airy April mood
Of bard and artist—female fair and fine,
Oh, come, mild maid; for thee we pale and pine.

So sang the usual poet of the Spring,
Who tunes his lyre to this ecstatic string
As lyres were tuned in Hellas, eke in Rome,
Three thousand years agone, by Tiber's foam;
And Spring, dead sick of being thus evoked,
Came forth in form whereat the poet croaked!

No sylph-like lady wearing wreaths of rose
And violet responded for a pose
Upon the pedestal: a man instead,
Whose cheeks were sunburned to a lobster red,
And in his hands the laurelled bat and ball:
"I am the sign of Spring," he said; "play ball!"

HELP FOR THE LITTLE MOTHER

The Story of Mary Rosenau Touched the Hearts of the Generous.

Little Mary Rosenau, the 13-year-old girl who is acting as temporary mother to her six little brothers and sisters in the two rooms at 1353 Elliot avenue, is feeling somewhat more hopeful of the future.

Since the publication of the story in the er, and the destitution of the family, a Post-Dispatch of the death of her father and baby sisteer, the sickness of her moth- number of charitable people have interested themselves in the case.

The Queen's Daughters aided in burying the father and baby in St. Nicholas Cemetery on Thursday.

The mother is lying seriously ill in one of the two rooms, but is now receiving medical attention from Dr. Galland. A member of the Queen's Daughters is at the house, doing all in her power to help Mary in the care of the sick woman and the smaller children. Father Connelly of St. Bridget's Parish is also lending aid.

Several donations of food, clothing and other supplies were received on Friday and Saturday. About $25 in money has also been contributed towards supplying the most pressing needs of the family.

A large basket of edibles was sent on Saturday morning from the Louisiana Restaurant, Seventh and St. Charles streets, as well as a sum of money, contributed by its patrons.

The employes of the Raymond & Torwegge factory, Ninth street and Lucas avenue, have taken up a subscription amounting to $15.

The following contributions, sent to the Post-Dispatch, were turned over to Mary Rosenau on Saturday morning: One dollar from Marjie, Ora, Mae and Emma, $5 from "Friends," 50 cents from "A Reader."

SANDSTORM CAUSES WRECK

Train in New Mexico Is Piled Up and One Man Is Burned to Death in Pile of Cars.

SANTA ROSA, N. M., April 4.—In a rear-end collision at Guadaloupe Station on the Santa Fe road, one man was burned to death and three others seriously injured. The dead: James H. Munger, brakeman. Injured: Gus Englehart, conductor; E. K. Rempe, engineer; F. T. Bowsner, engineer. The wreck was caused by a severe sandstorm that prevailed at the time. Ten freight cars were stacked up by the accident and burned with their contents.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH

KANSAS CITY, April 4.—One man was burned to death, another was so badly burned that he soon died, and three others were slightly burned in a fire here early today in a four-story brick building at 500 West Fourteenth street, occupied by Mrs. Mary Hallen as a boarding house. William Ridgely, a railway mail clerk, was found dead in his room on the fourt[illegible] floor, and John Pugh, an employe of the [illegible]Price Mercantile Co., was so badly burn[illegible] about the body that he died on the way t[illegible] he hospital. PACKET PILOTS ARE ON A STRIKE

Wages Satisfactory to Men Employed on the Other Boats on River.

Marine engineers and representatives of the other St. Louis labor organizations met with the striking river pilots at 110 North Fourth street at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. John I. Martin talked to the meeting about the claims of the pilots, assuring them they were right.

About 16 St. Louis pilots are affected by the strike, which is for an increase in wages from $100 to $125. Only those employed on packets are out. Those employed on other boats are getting the wages they demanded. No pilots running north of St. Louis are out.

The Lee Line, the Eagle Packet line and the Tennessee River line are those chiefly affected. The steamer Chester, an independent boat, is tied up at the wharf.

The Eagle packet line's boats are running with captains and officers of the company at the wheel. The Cape Girardeau left Friday night with Capt. W. H. Leyhe, assisted by Capt. Burton of the Chester acting as pilot.

The Gray Eagle left Saturday morning with H. W. Leyhe, secretary of the company, at the wheel.

At the Lee line and the Tennessee river line it was stated that the effect of the strike had not been felt as no boats were due to arrive or leave until Monday and Tuesday.

HETTY GREEN QUITS HOBOKEN

Abandons Her Residence in Jersey Town, Taking Terrier That Caused Row With Authorities.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Mrs. Hetty Green has again changed her abode. Last Monday she gave up the keys of the flat at Hoboken and with her pet skye terrier, a trunk and a few other personal belongings crossed the ferry to this city. She gave no explanation as to the whereabouts of her future home beyond hinting that she would probably be in the West for several months.

Mrs. Green's stay in Hoboken this time was made a trifle unpleasant by a passage at arms with the local health board. Inspector Granelli discovered two weeks ago that the pet dog of the richest woman in America was enjoying the privileges of the city without a license, and as a result Mrs. Green was summoned to appear in court and show cause why the terrier should not be committed to the asphyxiation box. Mrs. Green evaded the order of the court and saved her pet's life by paying $3 to the health commissioner for a license tag.

"I wi[illegible] sure I have no more dog summo[illegible] rved on me," Mrs. Green is report[illegible] declared before she left. "I int[illegible] aphing ahead to the different pl[illegible] pose visiting in the West, inform[illegible] authorities that I want a dog ta[illegible] ense receipt left at the station."

DOCKERY VETOES "SUICIDE CLAUSE"

Kills Bill Making Self-Murder a Defense to Accident Policies.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 4.—Gov. Dockery today vetoed Senate bill No. 203, which exempts accident insurance companies from liability for death by suicide.

This bill had passed the House, when some of the members discovered it was a bad measure and tried to have it recalled and killed. This could not be done, and a protest was lodged with the governor, asking him to veto it, which he did today. In the veto message the governor says:

"If suicide should be a defense in the case of excepted companies it should likewise be permitted to defeat recovery on policies in the case of other companies governed by this state. If a wise public policy demanded that insurance companies shall be relieved from liability where the insured commits suicide, or that such companies should be permitted to so contract with the insured, then the statute should be repealed and not amended. The Supreme Court, which is the final authority for the construction of our statutes held that the statute now proposed to be amended includes all policies of insurance companies except accident companies, which are governed by another section of the law.

"If this amendment is adopted, it will be within the power of the accident companies again to put into their contracts a provision that the policy shall be void in case of suicide, whether the party was sane or insane, and to prevent liability under such circumstances. The policy of this state has been to prevent such defenses. If a man insures his life and afterwards becomes insane, and in a frenzied moment destroys his life, there is no good reason why his policy should be void. Yet, this act will permit a particular class of companies to make a contract to which this defense may be made."

GRANDJURY ADJOURNS

The February grandjury is dissolved by the time limit Saturday and the final report is made to Judge Douglass.

The jury has been in session almost every day since appointed and was called upon to handle many important matters, including the get-rich-quick concerns and the chain of improper houses on North Twelfth street.

One of the last matters of importance to be taken up by the grandjury was questioning into the cause of the delay of the pneumatic tube bill and other legislation.

Several partial reports have been made and Police Capt. Sam Boyd was one of those indicted on evidence submitted.

STEAMER STRUCK ICEBERG

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, April 4.—The steamer Sardinian, which has just arrived here, had a thrilling experience at midnight Wednesday. It was very dark and the lookout was keeping close watch for icebergs. Suddenly a huge one loomed up a short distance ahead. The helm was put hard to port and the Sardinian struck the berg a glancing blow. She shivered from stem to stern and passengers rushed on deck in terror. The steamer was not hurt, but had a close call.

THE TURK TO MEET WAR WITH WAR

Sultan Sees Russia's Hand Behind the Movement on the Bulgaria-Macedonia Frontier.

EVERY POWER IN EUROPE INTERESTED

Conditions Now Close Akin to Those Which Existed Just Prior to the Russo-Turkish Struggle in 1877.

FIGHTING FORCES.

The number of men who might take part in a general war growing out of the Balkan revolution is shown here:

Triple Alliance and Turkey.

Germany	3,561,[illegible]
Austria	1,762,970
Italy	1,962,[illegible]
Turkey	1,168,870
Total	10,456,118

The Russo-French Alliance.

Russia	5,017,703
France	5,076,[illegible]
Total	10,094,609

England has a total land force of 1,034,381 men, but the bulk would be employed in defending her world-wide empire. How many she would employ in any expedition to any part of the European continent is a difficult problem. She would make landings in connection with her naval operations against Russia in the East and also on the French coasts in the channel, the Bay of Biscay and the Mediterranean.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, April 4.—"The whole trouble in the Balkans is due to the ambitious projects of a set of political leads in Bulgaria who wish to see the borders of their country extended.

"If the Macedonians are left to themselves there will be no war, but the attempt to force Turkey to abdicate her sovereignty will be met in the only possible way—War."

This statement is made by the Turkish ambassador to France, and clarifies the situation in the Balkans from the Moslem view. The Sultan realizes that Russia is back of Bulgaria, and that once mo[illegible] attempt is to be made to drive th[illegible] lowers of the Crescent out of Europe, into Asia.

The gravity of the situation is fu[illegible] derstood in London.

Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice, a broth[illegible] Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, and h[illegible] formerly under secretary of foreign af[illegible] says:

"I take a very unfavorable view of [illegible] present situation in Macedonia. Things [illegible] going from bad to worse. The crisis [illegible] come soon.

"Before the Russo-Turkish war, as no[illegible] there were diplomatic negotiations among the powers. Everything now depends on the nature of the Austro-Russian agreement.

"I don't think Turkey will attack Bulgaria. She would not risk it. The complication will come in Macedonia itself, and that may easily involve complications among the great powers.

"The situation is one out of which anything may come, as one never knows at first what are the real springs of movements of this kind. They may be found in quarters where the loudest protests are raised."

Bulgarian agents are abroad in Albania and Macedonia.

The leader of the Macedonians is Sarafoff, who has taken a prominent part in all the revolts against Turkish rule. The alarming feature of present conditions is the probable foreign complications.

Great World War Seems Probable.

Count Lamsdorff, the Russian Foreign Minister, made a tour of the Balkan States last year and arranged with the Macedonian committee to redouble its energies this spring. Bulgaria, which is contiguous to Macedonia, acts as the servant and agent of Russia.

Austria will not permit Russia to take Constantinople and to rearrange the Balkan States to suit herself. If Russia disputes the right of Austria in the region, the Triple Alliance will support Austria. France must then rally to the aid of her ally, Russia. England will surely step in with her navy to prevent Russia from gaining Constantinople, from overrunning the East and from dominating the road to India.

Thus the world war will be started if there is to be one—a subject upon which European military men and publicists are constantly speculating.

The great powers have all important objects to gain in this struggle. Russia's object—Constantinople— is the greatest. France has historic rights in Syria and will seize that country if successful. Germany has newly developed interests in Asia Minor, including the Bagdad Rai[illegible] Italy will demand some of her form[illegible] ritory on the east coast of the [illegible] or compensation therefor. Eng[illegible] proclaim full sovereignty in Egy[illegible] is but a superficial summary of t[illegible] changes in the map which may be [illegible] by this conflict.

The universal conflict on the c[illegible] would be chiefly between the T[illegible] lliance on one side and the Russian [illegible] alliance on the other.

The Triple Alliance consists of [illegible] Austria and Italy. They have [illegible] a treaty, repeatedly renewed, [illegible] themselves to fight in defense o[illegible] of them who should be attacked. France and Russia have entered upon an agreement to the same effect, although embodied in a different sort of document.

There is one other great power that would doubtless be involved, and that is England. On account of her bitter rivalry with Russia in Asia and her historic policy of precenting the Russians from reaching Constantinople, she must inevitably side against Russia.

The other nations would take part according to their interests, their sympathies and the offers of reward and payment made by the great powers. The Balkan countries would generally side with Russia, on account of their hatred for their ancient oppressor, the Turk. Spain would take the same side, by reason of her sympathies with France.

Turkey Is Up and Coming.

The Sultan realizes to the fullest extent the danger that menaces his rule in Europe.

Orders for a large quantity of arms and munition of war have been placed abroad and negotiations entered into with the successors of Herr Krupp for the immediate delivery or several heavy cannon. Smokeless gunpowder has also been ordered in Germany and the firm of Maxim & Sons, London, has been ordered, through the Turkish minister in London, to supply at once several rapid-fire guns and mountain batteries.

Day after day troops from Asia Minor reach Salonica and are at once ordered to Macedonia and the frontiers of Bulgaria.

The feeling against the Macedonians and Bulgarians is intensely bitter, particularly against the latter, who are held responsible for the revolution.

Macedonia Close Kin to Bulgaria.

The inhabitants of Macedonia are of the same stock, profess the same religion, speak the same language, and have the same customs as the Bulgarians, and they are generally intermarried, so that the persecutions are a matter of family as well as national interest. Ever since the refusal of the Berlin conference to include Macedonia in the Bulgarian kingdom, the people of both countries have been determined to bring about annexation by force, and, soon after the recognition of the Bulgarian government, an organization was formed to promote that cause. It is known as the Macedonian committee. Its headquarters are at Sofia, occupying the second floor of one of the most conspicuous buildings in the center of the city. No secrecy is attempted. The meetings are open to the public, their proceedings are published in the newspapers, the names of the officers and committees appear upon every document issued, and a weekly newspaper maintained in the interest of the cause usually contains lists of contributors to its support, and signed articles by prominent agitators. Branch organizations exist in every community. There is not a village in Bulgaria without one, and the membership includes at least 95 per cent of the Bulgarian people. The organization is nonpolitical, but has the tacit support of the government, being composed of members of all political parties—both the opponents and the supporters of the present administration.

LARKIN D. MASON.

weakness, nervousness, insomnia, rheumatism, neuralgia and digestive troubles are most common. At this time the fact cannot be too strongly impressed upon aged people and those who care for them, that Paine's Celery Compound is what they need to renew their physical and mental powers. This great medicine enriches the poor and watery blood, braces the nerves, gives vitality, energy, restful sleep, and healthy appetite. Let us all endeavor at this time to make the dear old people in our homes happy, vigorous and contented. We can do the blessed work by giving them Paine's Celery Compound. Hon. L. D. Mason, aged 92 years, writes as follows after a long experience with Paine's Celery Compound:

"When I reached 80 years of age, I found my digestion growing feeble and my kidneys inactive. Although my store was well supplied with medicines, I had nothing that could meet my case. My grandson from Boston brought me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and it helped me. I made [illegible] other experiment, and the result was, for [illegible] the last seven years I have taken Paine's Celery Compound regularly, and now at the age of 92, I am smart and active. LAST DAY OF THIS GRANDJURY

Juror's Illness Has Impeded the Work Which Is to Be Taken Up by the Next Tribunal.

The final report of the February grandjury will be made to Judge Douglass Saturday. The work of the jury has been much impeded for the last three days on account of the absence of John C. Newberry of 1231 North Taylor avenue, who has been too sick to attend the sessions, but who promised to be on hand Saturday.

Nine members of the grandjpry can vote an indictment, but all twelve members must be present to make the report. The legal existence of the grandjury ends at midnight Saturday.

The unfinished work of the February grandjury will be taken up by the next grandjury to be appointed next week.

SERIOUS RIOT IN MADRID

Black Flag Is Raised There and Twenty Are Severely Hurt in Resulting Battle With Police.

MADRID, April 4.—The rioting here was continued until a late hour last night. The public joined the mob of students in parading the streets, a black flag was raised and there were cries of "Long live the republic" and "Death to the minister of the interior." The police charged with drawn sabers and fourteen students and six policemen were wounded seriously. Many others were slightly injured.

The Republican party is active, hoping to take political advantage of the situation, especially if the disorders spread. All the universities of Spain will hold memorial services for the students killed at Salamanca.

The prefect of Salamanca has been dismissed.

ROUTE BURGLARS TOOK IN LOOTING RESIDENCE IN DAYLIGHT AND THE SAFE THEY TRIED TO STEAL

BURGLARS LOOT A RESIDENCE AND TRY TO CARRY AWAY A SAFE IN DAYLIGHT

But for the Horse Becoming Frightened They Would Have Got Away With the Money and Valuable Papers of John Babor, of 4007 Page Avenue.

While neighbors watched their movements and a dozen persons passed by three burglars entered the residence of John Babor, 4007 Page avenue, Friday afternoon, looted it and then attemptedto carry away a 500-pound safe containing money and valuables.

First covering the safe with the counterpane of a bed, they lifted it from the corner of a sleeping apartment on the first floor, carried it through a hall, out of the front door and were placing it in a park wagon when the horse became frightened at the white counterpane.

The animal ran away and the safe was thrown on the pavement and wrecked.

One of the burglars ran after the fleeing animal, crawled into the vehicle over the back seat and grasped the lines. He checked the horse. The two other burglars clambered in and, lashing the animal, the trio made their escape.

Mr. Babor has been a provision merchant at Union Market for 17 years. The Page avenue residence is a two-story brick structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Babor and their 18-year-old son occupy the three apartments on the first floor. Until last Thursday the four rooms on the second floor were occupied by Miss Maggie Kelly.

The burglary was onducted with such skill that it convinces the police that the habits of the Babors had been carefully studied.

Mrs. Babor rarely leaves her home. Her grandson, Joseph Nettler, had been spending the week with her, owing to the illness of his mother, Mrs. Joseph T. Nettler of 4435 Garfield avenue.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 Mrs. Babor carefully locked the house. She exercised greater caution than usual, because the upstairs was vacant. She took her grandson to his home. During her absence, of an hour, the burglary was committed.

Mrs. Babor had hardly been gone a quarter of an hour when Mrs. William Anderson of 4005 Page boulevard, Mrs. A. M. Barnard of 4003 Page boulevard and a guest, Miss Howard, noticed theree men drive up to the front of the Babor residence in a park wagon.

They alighted, one of them carrying a small valise. Unaware of Mrs. Babor's absence, the neighbors concluded the men were movers and were after some of Miss Kelly's effects.

There is an areaway between the Babor and Anderson houses. The thieves wrenched open the lattice grate. They sought to force the kitchen door at the northeast corner, which faces Mrs. Anderson's kitchen window, but failed.

Next they found the sloping cellar door at the north end unfastened. The upright door leading to the cellar was forced with a jimmy and they passed upstairs to the hall on the first floor.

The pried off the lock of the bedroom and parlor adjoining, throwing the contents of the wardrobe drawers and other receptacles in confusion on the floor.

One of the men opened a clock on the mantelpiece in search of valuables and it stopped, with the hands pointing to 3:30.

The booty secured by the burglars and the value of the articles follow: Watch chain, $35; locket, $6.50; diamond stud, $10; emerald stud, $50; cameo ring, $20; baby ring, $2; money in child's safe, $15; money in Mr. Babor's trousers, $3; gold pin, $5.

In a corner of the sleeping apartment, next to the wardrobe, was a safe weighing 500 pounds. It contained jewelry worth $300, currency and coin amounting to $300 and valuable papers.

Decided to Take the Safe With Them.

They failed to work the combination and clipped it off with their tools. Then they determined to convey the safe to some place where they could open it at their leisure.

The man on guard outside was called in. One of the men opened the kitchen door to facilitate their escape should Mrs. Babor return.

A counterpane from the bed was thrown over the safe.

While these arrangements were being made, the horse walked off. The tallest of the burglars came out and brought the rig back to the curb.

The three carried the safe out and were placing it in the vehicle, when the horse, frightened by the white covering, dashed away. The safe fell on the pavement and was wrecked. The men then made their escape.

A negro porter with some provisions for Mrs. Babor gave the alarm. He found the doors open and told the neighbors. They held a conference, entered the house and found Mrs. Babor was absent. Boys, who had seen the men enter, were sent to telephone for the police. An officer was guarding the place when Mrs. Babor returned.

Miss Howard says there were three men implicated. They were all about 30 years old. They were so natural in their movements, evinced no haste, and carried out the role of furniture movers so well that no one suspected them of being robbers.

Miss Howard says she would recognize the burglars if they were captured.

SELF-HYPNOTIZED, SLEEPS IN JAIL

Alleged Noblemon Puts Himself to Sleep at Beginning of Sentence.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BUTTE, Mont., April 4.—Louis Lillinskjold, who says he is a Danish nobleman, and who has been giving hypnotic exhibitions throughout Montana, was arrested on Monday for fraud at Anaconda, was sentenced to 20 days in jail.

Lillinskjold strongly objected to being confined with the lot of hobo prisoners and threatened to hypnotize himself and sleep out the term of his sentence if not released. The jailer laughed at him, and Lillinskjold carried out his threat. He has been asleep ever since and the police officers have unsuccessfully attempted to awaken him.

MYSTERY IN AYERS' HURT

Man Who Said His Wife Was One of Bender Family Is Found Fatally Shot.

FORT COLLINS, Colo., April 4.—Frank Ayres, who, about two years ago, gained considerable notoriety by charging his wife with being a member of the notorious Bender family of Kansas, was found shot through the head and mortally wounded near his home in Owl Canon, 20 miles northeast of here.

The man who reported the case to the authorities, said that he was riding by and heard the shots. Upon investigation he found Ayres lying on the ground with a revolver and rifle beside him. He has been detained pending investigation by the coroner.

Americans Stir Paris.

PARIS, April 4.—It is reported that the project of American capitalists to purchase the Paris gas franchise is playing a considerable part in the present bitter political controversy before the municipal council aroused by the question of extending the franchise. Several newspapers have asserted that one of the leading companies seeking the franchise is American and the Matin said Rockefeller interests controlled four-fifths of its capital. This has brought out a sharp letter of denial, which the Matin publishes from several leading French capitalists interested in the company.

TRY TO SETTLE WABASH FIGHT

Conference of Representatives of Employers and of Employes.

Representatives of both the Wabash employes and officials confidently expect the wage controversy now existing on that system to be finally settled Saturday.

After the conference of Friday the terms of the agreement up to that time were typewritten, and Vice-Grandmaster Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and J. J. Hannahan, Grandmaster of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, met at the office of their attorney, F. N. Judson, to discuss the agreement.

They found that it was unsatisfactory to them only as to a few particulars. A conference will probably be held between them and Col. Wells H. Blodgett, Acting President O. D. Ashley of the Wabash and General Superintendent Magee on Saturday.

It is not expected that the conference Saturday will take much time. Nearly the entire day Friday was spent in conferences.

Heavy Gale Leaves Levees Strong.

NEW ORLEANS, April 4.—Though it is probable that a heavy gale along the river last night did considerable damage to the levees, no news came today that there had been any further break in the Louisiana line. DIECKMANN DELAYS BOODLE INQUIRY?

Jurors Want Witness Seen Thursday, but Sheriff Can't Find Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 4.—R. A. Hoffman, general agent of the Fidelity and Casualty Co. of St. Louis, and Representative Joe Tapley of Pike County, were the principal witnesses before the grandjury this morning.

The inquiry into legislative boodling has been taken out of the hands of Prosecuting Attorney Stone and the jury deliberations will hereafter be guided by Attorney-General Crow. The latter received a letter from Gov. Dockery a few days ago authorizing him to act. It is apparent now that the jury is working on several excellent clews, which give promise of yielding substantial results.

The chief difficulty now lies in securing witnesses, most of whom are members of the Legislature.

One of the men badly wanted is Senator John P. Collins of St. Louis. Sheriff Dieckmann wired today that his deputies could not locate him anywhere in St. Louis. Two or three of the St. Louis representatives for whom subpenaes are said to have been issued are also classed among the missing.

General disgust is expressed by the officials here at the failure of Mr. Dieckmann to promptly serve the subpenaes forwarded to him for service.

"It looks as though the sheriff's office of St. Louis is hindering rather than helping the investigation," said a man who is close to the attorney-general. "We sent subpenas to Sheriff Dieckmann several days ago, when it was positively known that persons whose testimony we disired were in St. Louis.

"I understand Senator Collins was at home Thursday, the day the sheriff was requested to locate him."

Baking powder legislation, insurance legislation and other important features of the Forty-first and Forty-second General Assembly are occupying the grandjury's time.

In an incidental way Circuit Attorney Folk is helping the Cole County authorities. It is known that he has furnished them several valuable tips.

REV. MR. BROOKS EXPECTS RESULTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEXICO, Mo., April 4.—Rev. Crayton S. Brooks of Jefferson City, while in Mexico en route to Bowling Green, said:

"The boodle investigation at Jefferson City conducted by the Cole County jury, is almost certain to result in the indictment of some very prominent persons. When Attorney-General Crow was called into the case it was almost beyond a doubt that something vigorous would be done. I am in possession of facts which I do not deem it best to make public at this time, but which convince me that this investigation is not going to end in a farce. You will recall that the predictions that I made several weeks ago have come true. Some of my friends wanted to know if I knew what I was doing when I made my charges and prognostications. I certainly did, as has been proved and is being proven. The crusade against gambling and Sunday saloons and the present boodle investigation will have a wholesome effect throughout the state as well as at the state capital." Mr. Brooks was in Mexico looking at some fine horses. He is a great lover of horse flesh.

WARRANTS FOR FOUR BOYS

Youths About Eighteen Years of Age Are Charge With Grand Larceny.

Warrants were issued Saturday charging four boys, aged about 18 years, with grand larceny.

John Gibson of 1432 North Fourteenth street and Jesse Keller of 618 Walnut street were surprised by the police Friday while stealing plumbing from the vacant residence at 2835 Pine street, controlled by the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. They damaged the property to the amount of $1200, but secured no plunder.

James Porter and Frederick Purcell are held for a burglary committed last Thanksgiving Eve. Clarence Willetts, who was convicted of petty thieving and paroled at Christmas, told the police about the burglary. He says he was implicated and the three of them forced entrance to the commission house of Al Walz at 110 North Jefferson avenue and took about $100 worth of meat and poultry. Willetts has not been rearrested.

TRIED TO ALIGHT FROM A CAR.

Henry Meyers Fell and Received Serious Injuries.

At noon Saturday, Henry Meyers of 2227 Ewing avenue attempted to alight from a rapidly moving westbound Market street car, No. 2188, at Twenty-first street, and fell. Conductor Frank Austin and Motorman John Grabe carried him to G. C. Penny's pharmacy. Dr. T. R. Ayars of the transit medical staff took the injured man to his home. Besides bruises on the head and face, it is thought that Meyer's left shoulder blade is fractured. Meyers is a railroad laborer, in the employ of Contractor Michael Hanie.

NO SUNDAY ICE DELIVERIES.

The Union Drivers Secure Concession—Company to Fight Trust.

Union drivers of ice wagons and a committee representing the leading ice companies have agreed that no ice deliveries will be made on Sunday. The agreement takes effect at once.

The newly organized Delmore Ice & Coal Co. announces that it will fight the Ice Trust. Some of the men identified with the new company are Thomas E. Delmore, F. D. Stanberry, A. W. Donnewald and L. H. Donnewald. The Donnewald-Stephen Coal & Coke Co. is merged into the new company, which has a capital stock of $7000.

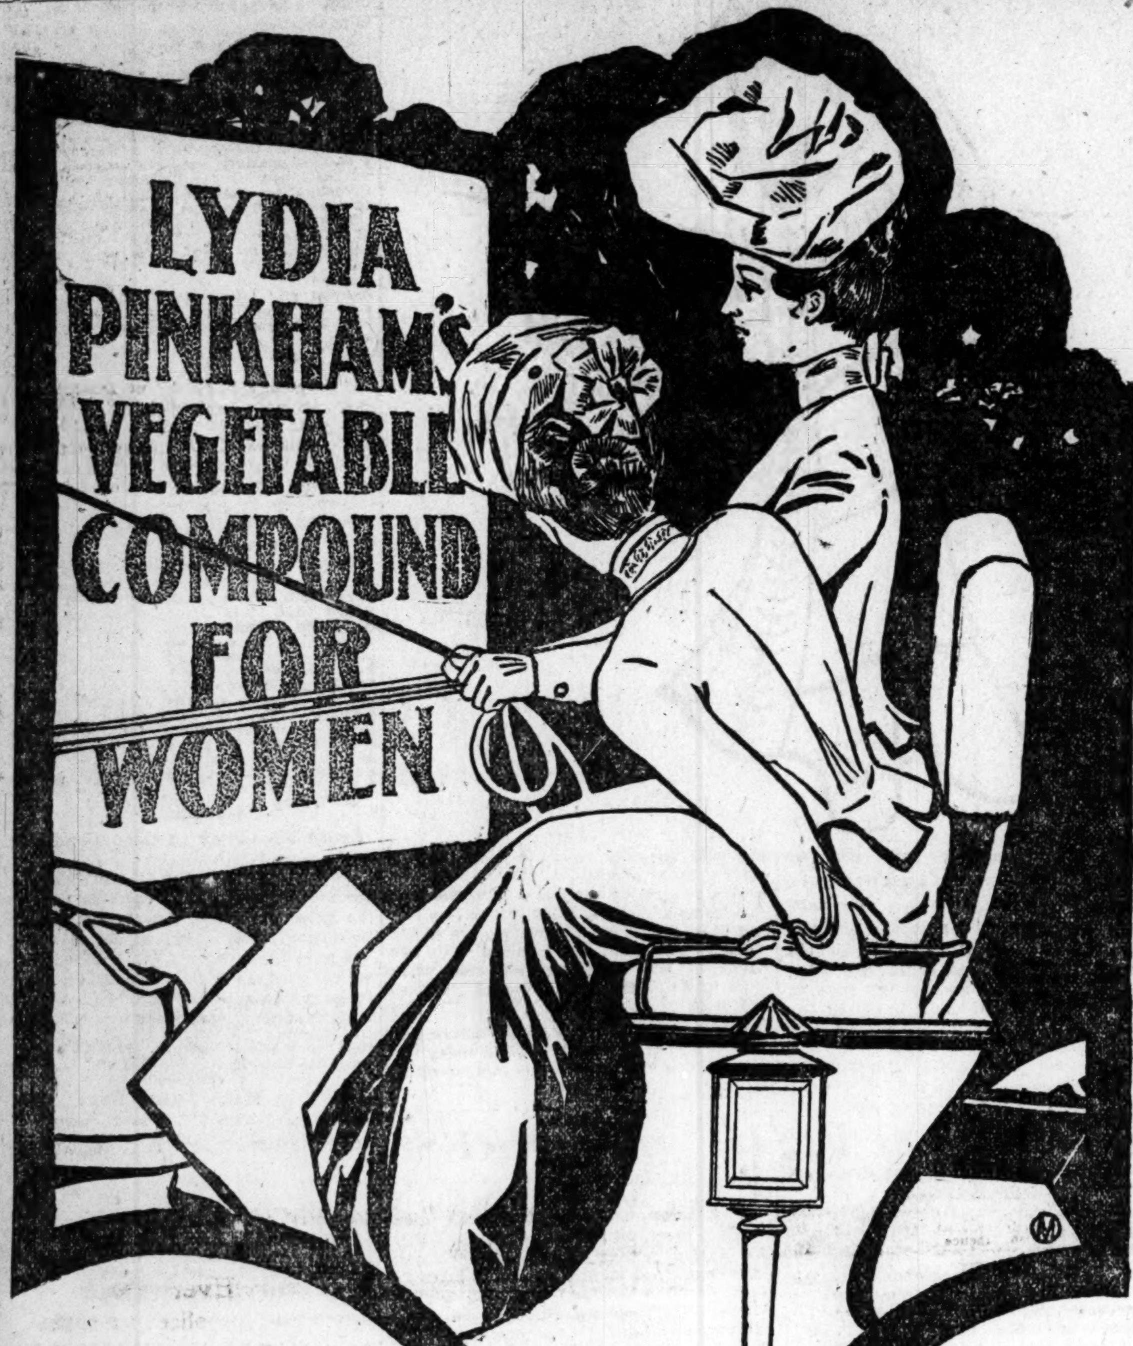

INDORSE SWINGLEY.

Mayor Wells Asked by Men Carrying Risks to Reappoint Chief.

Chief Swingley's reappointment as chief of the fire department is strongly urged upon Mayor Wells by the insurance agents. H. M. Blossom was the spokesman of a delegation calling Friday afternoon. The mayor replied by saying that he had made no selection as yet, and assured his callers that when a man was selected merit alone would determine who would get the position.

Good Roads Convention Prospects.

Preparations are going forward for the National and International Good Roads convention to be held at the Odeon April 27 to 29. Five delegates will attend from each congressional district. Communications promising support have been received from many mayors and governors.

"Saved My Life."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me when all else had failed. I suffered a long time with female troubles."

"Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine saved me from a surgical operation. Doctors said an operation was necessary."

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are writing letters of gratitude containing just such expressions to Mrs. Pinkham until she has more than a million from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is performing such remarkable cures, assisted by Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

If you are asked by a druggist to take something else, demand the medicine which you know is best—the medicine which has made the greatest number of cures—the medicine whose record is unequalled by any other medicine, exclusively for women, in the world,

U. S. Has 3,536 Centenarians.

Almost Every One of Them Owes His or Her Ripe Old Age to DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, the Elixir of Life.

The census now being completed, shows that in the United States, with a population of 76,000,000, there are 1289 men and 2247 women of one hundred years of age or more. The leading nations of Europe have but half as many with nearly twice the population.

LENGTH OF LIFE INCREASING.

Quite a large number of these old people were recently interviewed and asked as to what they especially attributed their great age. In nearly every case the answer was hard work, freedom from worry, careful living, fresh air and Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey taken regularly according to directions. Duffy's is an absolutely pure, health-giving, life-preserving, tonic stimulant, prescribed by all leading physicians and used in prominent hospitals everywhere.

104 YEARS OLD.

Strong, Healthy and Full of Vigor, Thanks to DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY.

As Well as Forty Years Ago.

Gentlemen: The benefit I derive from Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is marvelous. I owe my great age, vigorous constitution and remarkable freedom from disease to its daily use for many years. Though 104 years of age, I feel as young and hearty as forty years ago. My appetite is good and I still do all the chores. I cannot say too much in favor of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is a blessing to the old and sick. The Lord will surely bless the discoverer of such a great medicine and prolonger of life.

RALPH BULLOCK,
Brooklyn, N. Y.

102 YEARS OLD.

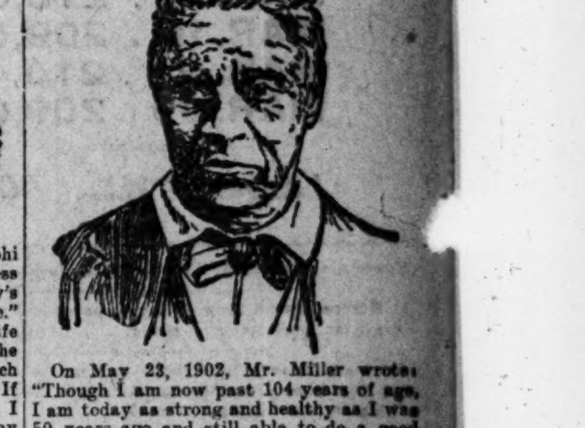

Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, Hale and Hearty.

Mrs. Hunt, who lives at 407 Adelphi st., Brooklyn, says: "My youthfulness and vigor are due to the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, my only medicine." Mrs. Hunt said: "I believe my long life and vigorous consitution are due to the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which I know has helped me wonderfully. If ever I take a cold or contract a cough, I use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and my cough is quickly cured. I have a good appetite and sleep better than I have for several years. I am possessed of all my faculties and use no other medicine but Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I shall continue to use it as long as I live. It is, I think, the greatest blessing in the world for the old as well as the young."

MARRIED AT 104.

Mr. Townsend Miller, of Jamaica, L. I., who has just celebrated his 104th birthday and married his third wife, says he is as vigorous and strong as when twenty-five years of age, thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

On May 23, 1902, Mr. Miller wrote: "Though I am now past 104 years of age, I am today as strong and healthy as I was 50 years ago and still able to do a good day's work. I attribute my health, vigor and great age to the constant use of a little Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey daily for many years. It has kept me free from disease and prolonged my life 25 years. Duffy's is the greatest medicine in the world, a godsend to old people, and I will never be without it. Yours truly."

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY

aids digestion, stimulates and enriches the blood, invigorates the brain, builds nerve tissue, tones up the heart, fortifies the system against all disease germs and prolongs life.

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheek the glow of perfect health, take DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY regularly, a teaspoonful in a half glass of water or milk, three times a day, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs; they poison the system and depress the heart (Quinine depresses the heart), while DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It contains no fusel oil.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY has stood severe tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

Caution—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous persons, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, are seeking continually to put upon the market, for profit only, and will try to sell you, cheap imitations and so-called malt whiskey substitutes, which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure to get it. It is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Look for the trade-mark, "The Old Chemist," on the label.

The genuine is sold at all druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle.

A valuable medical booklet containing symptoms and treatment of each disease and many testimonials will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

THROWN FROM FIRE TRUCK

Ladderman Frank Smith Meets with a Serious Accident While Answering an Alarm.

While on the way to a fire the sudden jolting of the hook-and-ladder truck threw Fireman Frank Smith from his position on the running board. He struck the pavement head-foremost and was still unconscious when brought to the hospital. It was feared by the house physician that he had received internal injuries which might prove fatal.

Smith is stationed at the Central Fire Station, corner Fifth and Valley streets, Burlington, Ia., and in referring to the accident, he said to a reporter: "My whole system had received a violent shock which affected my nerves fearfully. The doctor said I had nervous prostration. I would often start trembling out of a troubled sleep, covered with a cold perspiration, and imagining something horrible was about to happen. There would be times when my whole body would be numb and then again there would be terrible cramps in my limbs.

"For a long time after leaving the hospital I was so weak that I could not walk across the room and my strength steadily refused to return. I could not eat and the tonics and appetizers they gave me did me no good. I was too sick to go on duty and the doctor said it would take a long time to recuperate. I was discouraged and disheartened.

"Then a friend persuaded me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They gave me strength, quieted my nerves so that I could get a refreshing night's sleep, my appetite came back and I soon began to feel better. In a short time I was cured and now I feel perfectly well and strong."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have a double action—on the blood and on the nerves. It is not claimed that these pills are a cure-all, but the very nature of the remedy makes it efficacious in a wider range of diseases than any other. It is a scientific preparation designed to cure diseases through a direct action on the blood and nerves.

At druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for two dollars and a half.

SPLIT, BRITTLE, DULL HAIR.

All Come from Dandruff, Which Is Caused By a Germ.

Split hair, harsh hair, lusterless hair, brittle hair, falling hair, all owe their origin to dandruff, which is caused by a measly little microbe that burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle into dandruff scales and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root, causing the several diseased conditions of the hair till it finally falls out. Modern science has discovered a remedy to destroy the dandruff microbe, which is combined in Newbro's Herpicide and may be had of any druggist. Allays itching instantly and makes hair soft as silk. There are showers of April dividends in St. Louis this year.

If Europe cannot brag as loudly as we do, something must be the matter with its lung power.

Secretary Shaw's talk about taming the trusts is sufficiently tame. The Iowa idea may be booming in Des Moines, but it has no place in the Cabinet.

What will that big dedication crowd think of us if they find a boodling gang elected to the Municipal Assembly after all the good work of the grandjury?

MR. ROOSEVELT'S AMERICANISM.

President Roosevelt's Chicago address is a thoroughly characteristic utterance, reflecting his personal views and his notions of what American policy should be.

The government should devote itself chiefly to war preparations. When Germany builds a battleship we should build three. "It is too late to prepare for war when war has come; and if we only prepare sufficiently no war will ever come." A powerful armament is "the surest guaranty of peace." This is repeating what Moltke and Bismarck used to say. "If we have such a navy, if we keep on building it up, we may rest assured that there is but the smallest chance that trouble will ever come to this nation." Except the trouble of paying for it.

Mr. Roosevelt does not even glimpse the larger view. The visions of peace seem to have no hold on his imagination. International arbitration, fixed as a principle of world policy, binding all the nations of the earth into one harmonious family—the moonshine, the dream of idealogists, mere rhetorical frippery of no consequence whatever to practical men. Such seems to be his notion. Not a word does Mr. Roosevelt utter of peace promoted by the spirit of peace. Peace can be preserved only by a perpetual menace of war. War! War! War! His whole mind seems to be in his muscle, as witness his interest in the Corbett-McGovern prize fight, and he wants the nation to put its whole mind in great guns, battleships, army corps and epaulettes.

The mission of the American people is an original mission, moral, not material; humanitarian, not selfish. If we are to win the primacy of nations it will not be by repeating the dreary experience of the past, but by pushing forward and upward into a purer moral atmosphere; and it is matter for sincere regret that Theodore Roosevelt, with so many good qualities, so robustly patriotic, should yet be blind to the larger destiny of his country seeing nothing so worthy of national activity as everlasting expectation and preparation for an international killmatch.

WOMEN IN JOURNALISM.

The interesting thing about the Chicago project to establish a newspaper to be controlled, edited and published by women is that the invasion of journalism by the sex has become so general as to make this venture possible, with more than a likelihood of success.

The ranks of pressmen and stereotypers have not yet been opened to women, but in all other departments of newspaper making they are now represented in numbers. As editors, editorial writers, reporters, business managers, cashiers, auditors, circulators, they now possess a full and intimate acquaintance with a realm which in the last generation, except for a few Jenny Junes, Kate Fields and Elizabeth Cady Stantons, was exclusively man's.

It is now feasible to fill all the responsible posts in a daily newspaper office of any but the first class with women of proved competence.

The emancipation of the sex has gone far in making it thus possible to recruit a full staff from women newspaper workers. No other nation can point to anything comparable with this in feminine progress. The restraining traditions which the German Kaiser summarized in his recommended restriction of women to church, children and kitchen are too powerful on the Continent to be broken by the most persistent propaganda of women leaders. The restriction remains intact in Germany, while here it is a rope of sand.

ITALIAN VIEW OF THE MISSISSIPPI.

Sig. des Planches, the Italian ambassador, is alive to the possibilities of water navigation.

"It seems to me," says the ambassador, "that Italian merchants could greatly facilitate their business with this country by studying the capacity of the Mississippi as an international trade channel. By its use foreign imports might be introduced almost to the exact center of population of this country and then in a measure avoid much of the cost which compels the consumer to pay high prices for comparatively cheap commodities."

The quick eye and sagacious mind of this foreigner discerns the utility of water navigation and the possibilities of the Mississippi river as a part of a great international water route.

All observers are agreed. The commercial interests of the Mis[illegible]ippi valley, the consumers who constitute the entire population, and even the railroad companies realize that the direct and [illegible]t benefits to flow from a deepened channel are incal[illegible]

[illegible] drainage canal be widened and deepened and the Mis[illegible]ver made navigable at all seasons by heavy draft ves[illegible]ago and St. Louis should take the lead. The states [illegible]tral West may be expected to contribute their influ[illegible]omote the cause before Congress.

THE PASSING OF SCWAB.

[illegible]red statement that Mr. Schwab is to be deposed from [illegible]ncy of the Steel Trust contains the interesting ex[illegible]

[illegible]cism directed against Mr. Schwab [illegible] that he [illegible] to the [illegible]ation that dignity [illegible] impressive[illegible]

dency of the greatest corporation on earth. No question has been raised as to his ability. He has justified the unqualified indorsement given him by Mr. Carnegie in that respect."

Newspaper readers who have followed Mr. Schwab's meteoric and picturesque course since he became president of "the greatest corporation on earth" will not be surprised at this announcement.

It is very difficult to win conspicuous success in practical affairs without the spirit of good fellowship, but without self-control and personal dignity a man cannot retain the esteem of his colleagues or secure beyond assault the success he may have won.

In this one respect of personal dignity Mr. Schwab seems to be lacking. Fascinating in a way, and for a time, of unquestioned practical genius, he yet fails to keep the footing he gained, because of this deplorable deficiency.

He tried to "break the bank at Monte Carlo" while all the world looked on agape. He "astonished the natives" in Europe by his sizzling ostentation. He went tearing through France at breakneck speed on a red devil automobile and did a hundred and one other vanities which stamped him as woefully deficient in those qualities which his colleagues desire in the president of their corporation.

The case is instructive. Ambitious young men should make a note of it. Good fellowship is a prime factor in success, but unless it is kept within bounds by a sense of measure, by a healthy perception of fitness, by the exercise of that finer intelligence called tact—in short, by personal dignity, it will wreck the most promising career.

The shams of partisan politics are well illustrated in the present municipal campaign. Both the Republican and Democratic parties have nominated fair tickets for the Council, but neither organization is lifting a finger to elect good candidates for the House of Delegates. The Democratic party, posing as a reform party, threw the House of Delegates nominations to the boodlers and ward heelers. It is now appealing to the people to elect the Democratic Council ticket on the specious plea that Mayor Wells should be provided with a solidly Democratic Council. Mayor Wells is making a similar plea for the election of Democratic councilmen. But the House of Delegates is as important a factor in legislation as the Council. No bill can be made a law without its consent. But neither Mayor Wells nor any of the Democratic leaders are saying a word against the Democratic disgraces who are running for the House. John R. Fontana, who has proved his unfitness, and who is opposed by the respectable Democratic voters of his ward, was honored with a seat at the mayor's "representative" dinner, and has the tacit support of the mayor and his reform associates. Not a word is said by representative Democrats against him or "Snake" Kinney or Geraghty, or any other member of the House "gang," who is seeking re-election, or any Democratic candidate, no matter what his disqualifications. So far from opposing these men or helping the decent voters to get better representatives, the Democratic leaders, with reform pleas hot in their mouths, are supporting and helping them. The organization is working for and with them. Not a reform leader identified with the party dares say a word against any disreputable party candidate. Although their election will menace his improvement plans, Mayor Wells is dumb on the subject of their demerits. He dare not oppose them. The whole party is allied with the worst elements, even to the point of assenting to, if not actually joining in, the conspiracy to strike down the circuit attorney for failing to discriminate in his boodle prosecutions. Bound to such allies, how can reform be anything but a sham and a mockery?

WHAT THE GIFTS COST.

Mr. Reginald Vanderbilt will give his bride $1,000,000 as a wedding gift. He will give his best man and the ushers the most expensive presents ever given by a bridegroom.

A gift's worth is measured by the expense. It may be the most precious example of painter's art or sculptor's cunning, but that doesn't count. The expense is the main consideration.

Mr. Depew, an attache of the Vanderbilts, said, in a public speech the other day, that a dollar was the most important thing in the world, because it multiplied fastest.

This is the plutocratic view. Hence the care with which price marks are placed upon wedding gifts and the cost of dinners so scrupulously advertised. The importance of a man is indicated, not by what he is, but by what he has. The more dollars he has the more important he is.

It's one of the oddities of life. If such notions ever found lodgment in the brains of persons outside the little circle of queer people where they originate they might become dangerous. As it is, they are valuable contributions to gayety.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

Mayor Rampendahl is trying to establish the early silkworm in Metropolis, Ill.

The triumphant colored orator at Yale may one day be postmaster of some northern metropolis.

The bride of Reginald Vanderbilt has been made ill by her fatiguing experience with dressmakers. But how many women will envy her!

The farmers who come to St. Louis next year will not only travel on the trolleys, but they will have an opportunity to rush about in the automobiles.

Though the man with a large family has been greatly encouraged by the words of President Roosevelt he does not yet see how it is that "money is increasing at a far more rapid rate than population."

When the first circus opening comes to a city there can be no longer any doubt as to that city's supremacy. The elephant "goes 'round, goes 'round" in St. Louis first this year, and the band will be deafening.

When Yankee Doodle "stuck a feather in his hat and called it maccaroni" he had little idea of the extent to which we should go into the macaroni business in the Twentieth century.

The $100,000 Vassar girl who has joined the Salvation Army and is nightly exhorting the sinful may be followed by other rich angels. There seems to be a great future for the Army.

Mr. Johnson of Meridan, Kan., aged 93, wants to bet $50 that he can lift a barrel of salt into the back end of a wagon. Should the Olympian games in St. Louis next year be short an athlete Mr. Johnson will undoubtedly be sent for.

Sometimes the mammoth wagon stays on the street car track, even when the hook and ladder company is rushing and clanging behind it. There is hardly anything short of dynamite that will disturb the driver of one of these monsters when he is deep in thought.

THE LOAN OF A PARLOR

Marcia was so visibly cast down that the new stenographer ventured to ask if she felt the grip coming on. Marcia shook her head dolefully.

"Can't you read your notes or has the manager been scolding about your spelling?" the new girl inquired, sympathetically.

"You Mean thing!"

"Neither," Marcia returned. She looked about the glass case in which the Garden Insurance Co. segregated its stenographers when they were not taking dictation and then at the new girl, who had a kind face. "It's this way, Katrina — you don't care if I call you by your first name, do you? Did you notice that adjuster that was here yesterday—the one with the brown hair and the light overcoat?"

Katrina said she remembered him.

"Well," Marcia went on, "that's Jack Loring. We've been going together for a year now. He used to go to school with my brother and I'm sure he—he likes me awfully well, but he never has a chance to tell me so; I'm getting discouraged about it. If he comes to my boarding place there are five or six mummies always sitting in the parlor with us; if we go to the theater there's no chance and if he takes me to lunch the waiter is always hanging around. I suppose now we'll have to wait until it is warm enough to walk out in the parks. I tell you I envy the girl who has a nice, quiet parlor."

"I've got a parlor, but I haven't got anybody in love with me," Katrina said. "Mother and I have a little flat together. Perhaps you could come and stay over Sunday with us and then Mr. Loring could call on you in the evening. Mother and I would go to church and leave you two to look after the flat."

"Oh, you dear thing!" Marcia cried, giving her a hug. "When do want me?"

"Come next week if Mr. Loring is going to be in town then."

The second Saturday following Marcia went home with the new stenographer and was introduced to her mother.

Loring appeared promptly at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening Marcia had suddenly lost her courage and kept signaling desperate wireless telegrams to Katrina as the latter welcomed him and said how sorry she was that she and her mother must leave him to attend church. Loring said that he was extremely sorry, but seemed to bear up remarkably well under his disappointment.

Marcia followed Katrina into the hall. "You mean thing!" she whispered. "I believe I'll climb down the fire escape. I don't want to have him propose now."

Katrina laughed. "If you lose your courage this time you shall never have the loan of my parlor again," she said.

Marcia heaved a great sigh and went back into the fateful room.

Katrina and her mother walked home from church very deliberately, and as soon as they entered the lower hall they began to talk in loud, firm voices. They held a long conversation at the door before they turned the key in the lock.

As the result of all these precautions Marcia was "discovered," as they say in the play books, seated on the extreme left of the parlor, while Loring was half-way over the dining room threshold. They both rose quite maudlin in their joy at the return of the churchgoers and reproached them bitterly for having been gone so long.

She Subsided.

Katrina smiled and proposed something tossed up in the chafing dish. Thereupon both declared they were tremendously hungry, although Katrina noticed that they left the rarebit almost untouched on their plates, while they fed their eyes by surreptitious glances at each other.

When at last Loring went away after a long time in the hall, during which interval Katrina and her mother were discreetly noisy at their dishwashing in the kitchen, Marcia burst in on them, "Oh, you two dears!" she exclaimed, taking them in a double embrace. "It's going to be at the beginning of May, for he can get a vacation then. And I'm so grateful for the loan of the parlor and Jack's so grateful to you for going to church and —"

But then she subsided into a state of incoherent bliss and blushes.—Chicago News.

SOME BUDDHIST LAWS.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Prof. Maxwell Sommerville was discussing the other day the Buddhist faith, for which he has a profound respect. Some of the striking tenets of Buddhism that he quoted were:

Use not perfume about thy person.

To cough or sneeze in order to win the notice of a group of girls is a sin.

Destroy no tree.

Drink no intoxicating beverage.

Care for the aged and infirm.

It is sinful to think one way and to speak another.

Give no flowers to women and sing no gay songs.

Keep neither silver no gold.

When you eat make not a noise like a dog.

It is a sin to pass judgment on the acts of other men.

It is a sin to eat the flesh of man, elephant, horse, crocodile, dog, cat, tiger or serpent.

A priest may not wash himself in the twilight or dark, lest he should unknowingly kill some insect or other living thing, [illegible]thing an interest.

A Dainty Summer Costume

The dainty summer costume shown by the above illustration is of coral pink linen, over the same shade of taffeta. The skirt has a front panel and hip yoke in one, and circular sides formed on four shaped flounces stitched on the edges, the upper one of which being joined to the yoke by pin tucks. The front panel is cut in two pieces and is trimmed on either side with button holes and tiny jet buttons. The front of the bodice is similarly trimmed, but it has also three tucks on either side. The wide shoulder collar is trimmed with narrow bands of antique lace and bordered with a flounce of the same. Antique lace also forms the stock, below which is a soft frill of pink chiffon. The sleeves are rather small in size, and are trimmed with two bands of lace insertion and wide, tight cuffs made of alternate bands of the linen and lace.

A wide brimmed white straw picture hat, trimmed with a wreath of pink roses and black velvet loops, completes this charming costume.

GLEANINGS FROM THE PRESS

MISSOURI FIRSTS.

Col. Switzler, in the Columbia Statesman, shows that Missouri is "first" in a good many things. She is first among the states in the value of farm property, in the production of watermelons, bricks and tile; she has, in Atchison County, the largest stock farm in the world, and in Howard County the largest apple orchard in the world; she annually ships 50,000,000 pounds of poultry, more than any other state, and is the banner mule state. She has 559 banks and more than 10,000 public schools. She has had 159 representatives in Congress, of whom 69 are living. She has had twenty-five governors, of whom the last five—Crittenden, Francis, Stone, Stephens and Dockery—are living. She has the largest available school fund of any state in the Union except Texas. She has thirty-five cities with a population exceeding 4000 each, and three cities with a population exceeding 100,000 each. Of her twenty-four lieutenant governors, nine are living—Stanard, Johnson, Colman, Brockmyer, Campbell, Claycomb, O'Meara, Bolte and Lee.

COSTLY NEWSPAPERS.

Lady Randolph Churchill is not the only magazine publisher who ever charged $50 a year for a subscription. The first newspaper published in Virginia was a weekly, established in 1790. The subscription price was $50 a year.

The charge for advertising was $10 the first week and $7 for each subsequent insertion. We are assured that mankind are indebted to Queen Elizabeth and the prudence of Burleigh, her great counselor, for the first printed newspaper. It was entitled The English Mercurie, and was by authority "imprinted, 1588." The earliest number is preserved in the library of the British Museum, dated July 23, 1588, and contains the naval intelligence given after the fashion of the London Gazette of 100 years later. Advertisements of books in these Mercuries differ not very much from the announcements of half a century ago.

GREEDY OLD CATFISH.

A pair of catfish that were continuously watched in a government aquarium made a nest by removing the gravel from a corner. During the first few days after hatching, the fry, banked in the corners of the tank, were at irregular intervals actively stirred by the barbels of the parents, usually the mate. Subsequently the parents were seen to suck the eggs into their mouths and then extrude them with some force. The predaceous feeding habits of the old fish gradually overcame the parental instinct; the tendency to suck the fry into their mouths continued and the inclination to spit them out diminished, so that the number of young dwindled daily and the 500 that had been left with their parents had completely disappeared in six weeks, although other food was liberally supplied.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Select the Best Men.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Nine-tenths of the citizens of St. Louis have been waiting for an explanation from the mayor why he ignored Mr. Folk before they condemned him. It is not necessary now for the mayor to make a statement, because ten-tenths of the fair-minded citizens can smell the reason in the atmosphere, and, furthermore, it would look stronger and much worse in print.

Something must be done. The good citizen of St. Louis must think quickly and act promptly, as we have only a few days to select the best men on the ticket, regardless of party, and elect them.

Now, Mr. Editor, I am a Democrat, but I cannot possibly vote for anyone backed by the mayor or the Jefferson Club before investigating their record. I do not mean to condemn the entire Democratic ticket.

This is why I say, let the business men of St. Louis and Mr. Folk get together and select the best candidates, regardless of party, and elect them.

I feel confident every man Mr. Folk will indorse will be elected. This will be one way for the citizens of St. Louis to show Mr. Folk how they appreciate his good work. T. A. BIRD.

"Directory Service" at Postoffice.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In your issue of April 1 someone who styles himself "P. R." attempts to criticize the St. Louis postmaster for a letter being returned to him on account of the address having been misspelled, i. e., "East St. Loues, Ill." Here an "e" instead of an "i" was used.

To any person capable of thinking this statement would appear to be really absurd. But for the sake of brevity I will grant that it is true. After registering his little "hammer" he proceeds to illustrate the efficiency of the Chicago postoffice in disposing of poorly addressed mail. He says in part, "I received a letter from Chicago this morning addressed to me in care of the Pozzoni building, Chicago, Ill." Remarkable! Well, comment is unnecessary. Let "P. R." lay his "trouble" before the postmaster and ask to be shown samples of the addresses supplied by "directory service." Perhaps he will wake up. E. A. CAULFIELD.

To Make Butter Cakes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This receipt for butter cakes is sent in in response to a request by one of your readers:

Sift together 3 cups of flour, 4½ level teaspoons of baking powder and ¾ teaspoons of salt. Into this rub 2 teaspoons of butter until it looks mealy. Add 1¼ cups of milk and beat for a minute to a smooth dough. Turn in a well-floured molding cloth (muslin tacked on breadboard will do); toss into a ball with a knife. Cover rolling-pin with muslin well rubbed with flour; roll out (¾ in.) dough lightly, do not touch with hands. Cut and bake in greased griddle. Turn with cake turner when double their size.

Bring the Sailor Boys.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have noticed in your paper suggestions of many readers that it would be a good idea to have the navy boys here at the dedication of the World's Fair. I would like to say that the people in the central part of the United States don't know what Uncle Sam's navy boys look like. I, for one, think their presence in the parade would be the grandest part of the dedication. H. JOSEPH.

A Poem by Moore.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Would you please print the following poem by Thomas Moore and oblige a reader of your paper?

Farewell! but whenever you welcome the hour
That awakens the night-song of mirth in your bower,
Then think of the friend who once welcomed it, too,
And forgot his own griefs to be happy with you.

His griefs may return, not a hope may remain
Of the few that have brighten'd his pathway of pain;
But he ne'er will forget the short visions that threw
Its enchantment around him while lingering with you.

And still on that evening, when pleasure fills up
To the highest top sparkle each heart and each cupp,
Where'er my path lies, be it gloomy or bright,
My soul, happy friend, shall be with you that night;

Shall join in your revels, your spirits, your wiles,
And return to me, beaming all o'er with your smiles—
Too blest, if it tells me that, 'mid the gay cheer
Some kind voice had murmur'd, "I wish he was here!"

Let fate do her most, there are relics of joy;
Bright dreams of the past which she cannot destroy,
Which come in the nighttime of sorrow and care,
And bring back the features that joy used to wear.

Long, long be my heart with such memories fill'd—
You may break, you may shatter the vase, if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang round it still.

THE NEWEST BOOKS

Mysterious and Tragic.

A DETECTIVE story, in which the mystery is solved by clews that would have proven stumbling blocks to Sherlock Holmes, is "The Filigree Ball," by Anna Katherine Green.

There is nothing stereotyped about this tale, and one wonders, when the thread is bared before him, if the author did not have a solid substantial case of fact, rather than an imaginary episode from which to elaborate her fascinating story. The action of the narrative leads one—and in that is unlike the usual sleuth yarn—into the highest social circles and among people whom one would never suspect of harboring a secret skeleton. Yet such is palpably shown to be the case.

A room in a mansion is a fatal place. Visitors die there, wounded always in the same spot. A wound like that from a heavy bludgeon in every case provides the cause of death. In each instance, the victim was alone in the room, and on occasions the door was open. Yet the mysterious deaths continue. People for whose removal there can be not the slightest desire on the part of any known person enter the elaborately furnished parlor, and while sitting, apparently in plain view, are found dead with broken skulls. No one entered the room, no struggle was had, no outcry made, yet death by violence had been there, and the proof of it was a lifeless form on the floor.

It seems beyond belief that such things could exist, and, perhaps, in reality, they never did. But after reading "The Filigree Ball" one is persuaded of their possibility. (Bowen-Merrill Co., Indianapolis.)

Beautiful Homes.

People who are seeking practical instruction in the art of house decorating will find many useful suggestions in "Our Homes, and How to Beautify Them," by H. J. Jennings. In this agreeably bound, printed and illustrated volume the entire subject from bric-a-brac to tiled floors is covered in a plain, straightforward fashion with a minimum of decorative talk. The directions are simple and are easily followed and understood. After a brief and interesting survey of what has been done in the past, the author treats, in turn, of the principles of decorative art—its alphabet and grammar, the purposes of the different rooms in a house and how purpose and style should be related to each other, the material for decoration, suitability of furniture to its place, etc. The book will help many in the cultivation of taste, and its special merit is that the principle of taste in each case is illustrated by immediate practical application. While most attention is given to the more commodious houses, dwellers in flats are not forgotten. The chapter on this subject will be a comfort to many who cannot quite succeed in their pathetic attempts to make a flat look like a home. The illustrations of furniture, wall covering, paneling, curtains, ornament, etc., are suggestive and will stimulate invention. Although the book is English and designed primarily for English homemakers, the instruction can be applied to American circumstances where they differ from the author's conditions.

("Our Homes, and How to Beautify Them." By H. J. Jennings. Harrison & Sons, London. Imported by "Town and Country," New York.

Church History for the Layman.

The first two volumes of what is to be a series called "The Story of the Churches" have just been issued by the Baker & Taylor Co., Union Square, New York. The object is to furnish brief histories of the several denominations written by the leading historian of each sect. The books will average about 40,000 words each (235 pages, $1 net), and are designed for the especial purpose of interesting the layman, to give him a thorough, and at the same time a brief and readable, account of the different denominations.

"The Presbyterians" has been written by Rev. Charles S. Thompson, D. D., secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church of the United States, and "The Baptists" by Henry C. Vedder, D. D., professor of church history in Crozer Theological Seminary.

FEW writers have the faculty of depicting emotions in greater degree than Edwin Pugh. In his latest novel, "A Stumbling Block," he displays his gift to the fullest degree. While the heroine of the story is rather an unpromising character and one is at times shocked at her senseless frivolity, in Pugh's hands she attracts sympathy.

A shallow girl, from common stock, but having the advantages that education can give her, wins the love of a splendid young man. Her devotion to him takes the form of inflicting annoying humiliations upon him to gratify her selfish pettishness, rather than natural demonstrations of the holy passion. Still, after a manner, she thinks more of him than she does of anyone else on earth, and that, perhaps, is saying as much as she deserves.

The style of the author in dealing with this difficult subject and the opinion of the girl's dearest female friend are well illustrated in the following dialogue:

"He's gone?" asked Phebe, entering the room, and peering about her.

"Yes."

"Do you mean to say you have sent him away?"

"I mean to say nothing about it."

Phebe seized her arm.

"Bria, you have sent that noble boy away. You * * * The—the insolence of it!" She stood glaring at Bria. "He, * * * you are not fit to sit at his feet. I have said nothing. I have wiped myself out. I have borne it all, because you were my friend, and he loved you, not me. But now! God! And I would have given my life for one word of love from him!"

Bria was full of amaze.

"You, Phebe!"

"Why not? You think, because you have no self-respect, because you have never learned the decent woman's way of reticence in these things, that you only are capable of loving. What do you know of love? You child! You baby with a packet of sweets! What is your miserable affection of the vanity compared with my love? I can suffer and be silent, because I love him. And I can get a certain sad joy out of my pain, although he will never love me, because love of a noble thing is in itself ennobling. You must be fondled and petted and caressed. You must have all the vulgar housemaid part of love or you can't understand it. To him love is a thing so sacred he can find no fitting symbol for its expression. It is a thing so glorious and wonderful he scarcely dares to breathe the secret of it even to himself. And it is on you he has showered all this wealth of love—on you! And you—you have sent him away. The insolence!" She uttered a strangled cry.

Bria dropped before this fierce, unexpected onslaught.

"Phibs?" she whispered—"Phibs!"

Phebe bit her lip. "What is it?" she asked, quietly.

"Under the Rose."

FREDERIC ISHAM'S "Under the Rose" is a notable book. Dealing, as it does, with events happening in the time of Emperor Charles and Francis, of France, it cannot be less than dramatic in the telling.

Out of the vicissitudes of war and through the ambitions of powerful rulers come the incidents from which the author draws his inspiration. A high-born duke, selected by his Emperor to mate with a kinswoman of Francis seeks in the guise of a court jester to gain her love and at the proper time to reveal himself in his proper person as her affianced. Letters stolen by a free baron, Louis of Hochfeld, enable him to become aware of the intended union and substitute himself for the rightful suitor, finally winning the princess.

Notwithstanding the story carries several stars, perhaps the finest character in the volume is that of Jacqueline. This girl had been reared at the court of Francis, known to all as the daughter of a game keeper of a noble, whom the King had despoiled. She meets the Duke of Friedwald when he comes to the court disguised as a jester, and from that time on her fortunes become linked with his. Of course, all this is not accomplished without much action of a strenuous character. The false duke, brave man albeit a rogue, meets his deserts and his princess, befooled, deceived and bewildered, retires to a convent, while Jacqueline has her reward when Friedwald salutes her by her rightful title as "Jacqueline, Duchess of Dubrois," and forces a reluctant King to agree to her marriage.

The book is dramatic, while the story could, perhaps, have been told in fewer words. The dialogue sparkles and the characters are models of their kind. Never was a more lovable feminine type than that of Jacqueline worked into the pages of a story. It is almost certain that the play writers will not overlook such promising material as Mr. Isham has given them in his latest work.

(Bowen-Merrill Co., Indianapolis.)

Mrs. Burnett's New Novel.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett has again shown herself a keen analyst of character in her latest novel, "The Methods of Lady Walderhurst." It is a story of rural England, depicting scenes with which the author is at all points familiar, and deals with the remarkable history of Emily Fox-Seton, a refined but poor and self-supporting woman, after her marriage to the Marquis of Walderhurst, a middle-aged widower who marries her in order to keep his estates from falling into the hands of a despised relative, Capt. Alex. Osborn. There are plots and counter-plots, and even the captious reader will find no cause to complain because of a lack of interesting detail.

Though "The Methods of Lady Walderhurst" is considered a companion volume to the author's former work, "The Making of a Marchioness," it is a complete story in itself. But all the readers of "The Making of a Marchioness," which was one of the most popular books of the holiday season, will be anxious to read the later volume in which Emily Fox-Seton becomes "The Lady of Walderhurst," one of the richest Marchionesses of England, and the heroine of one of the most engaging romances of the day.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS

CONUNDRUMS.

When is baseball first mentioned in the Bible? When the prodigal son made a home run.

What tree is the most suggestive of kissing? Yew.

Why is it difficult to flirt on the P. O. steamers? Because all the mails are tied up in bags.

What proof have we that they had sewing machines in the time of David? Because he was hemmed in on all sides.

Why do little birds in their nest agree? For fear of falling out.

If a colored waiter carrying a platter with a turkey on it should fall, what would be the effect on the world? The downfall of Turkey, the overflow of Greece, the destruction of China and the consternation of Africa.

What were the first words the grasshopper said after he was created? O, Lord! how you made me jump!

When a little boy comes downstairs in the morning with his stockings on wrong side out, what does his mother do? Turns the hose on him.

MUSICAL CHAIRS.

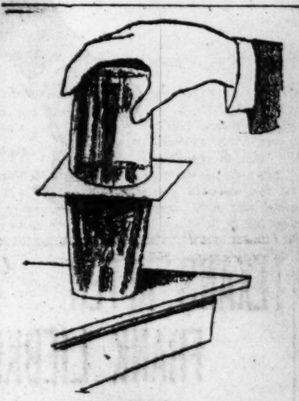

This game must be played in a room where there is a piano. Arrange some chairs, back to back, in the center of the room, allowing one chair less than the number of players. Some one begins to play a tune, and at once the players start to walk or run round the chairs, to the sound of the music.

When the music stops each player must try to find a seat, and, as there is one chair short, someone will fail to do so, and is called "out."

He must carry a chair away with him, and the game goes on again until there is only one person left in, with no chair to sit upon. This person has won the game.

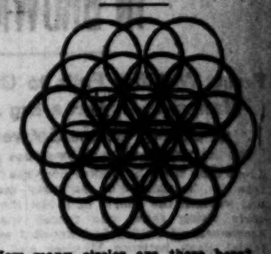

MYSTERIOUS TUMBLERS.

Take two tumblers of the same size. Be careful that they fit closely when one is placed on top of the other. Light a piece of wax candle and place it within the tumbler on the table. Place on top of it a piece of rather thick paper saturated with water. Then place upon it the other tumbler, as in the illustration. The tumblers will then be found to adhere closely. The candle will be extinguished, but while burning it has dilated the air contained in the lower tumbler and the air has, therefore, become rarefied. The exterior pressure of the atmosphere will fix the tumblers as closely together as the classical Madgeburg hemispheres are united. It is possible to raise the undermost tumbler by holding up the upper one. The paper may be scorched on the under side, but the success of the experiment is not thereby imperiled.

CIRCULAR PUZZLE.

How many circles are there here?

SIMPLE, BUT CURIOUS.

Fill a glass of water up to the brim so that the surface of the water is rounded. Then ask your friends how many coins can be put into the glass without the water overflowing. Some will say that it will not hold one. By dropping the coins very carefully into the water edgewise it will be found that even as many as five or six coins, the size of a silver dollar, can be dropped into the water before it overflows.

One day small Harry drew the pictures of a dog and a cat on his slate and handed them to his mother for criticism.

"How is this, Harry?" asked his mother.

"The cat has six legs."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the embryo artist. "I gave her two extra so she could run away from the dog."

A REALISTIC STORY OF MINING LIFE.

The Blue Goose.

A stirring and romantic novel of life in a great Western gold mining camp.

Frank L. Nason

Author of "To the End of the Trail."

It is a realistic picture of life in a gold mining camp as it is today, drawn with great vigor, and with a sense of the romance and picturesqueness of it, keen as Bret Harte's. Mr. Nason tells the love story of a mine superintendent interweaving it with the story of his struggle with a vicious thieving employes. The climax is reached in a strike, riot and daring attack on the mine. The characters are typically Western and admirably drawn, especially the fawn-like heroine, Elise.

"The whole story is full of action and intrigue of the realest sort. Nason's style is as vigorous and clean as his imagination."—Brooklyn Eagle.

BASEBALL SPRING SERIES OPENS TODAY TURF SCHORR EXPECTS TO WIN AGAIN WRESTLING JENKINS REGAINS MAT CHAMPIONSHIP SPORT NEWS

"PLAY BALL!" IS THE ORDER OUT IN BROWN AND CARDINAL CAMPS

Frosty Weather Fails to Chill Enthusiasm of Fans and Team Managers Expect a Big Attendance at the Opening Game of Spring Series Between Browns and Cardinals Today.

Old Sol was never more welcome in St. Louis than when he peeked over the housetops of the East Side Saturday morning and warmed the hearts of a few thousand early rising fans who feared that the snowstorm of Friday had knocked out the initial clash between McAleer and Donovan, or, to be more explicit, the Browns and Cardinals.

At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon the weather was more adapted to sledding than to baseball, but at 5, after a consultation at the downtown American League office, it was decided not to postpone the inaugural if Dr. Hyatt could furnish any kind of good weather today.

Robert Lee Hedges and M. Stanley Robison were out early Saturday morning, and when they saw dimly through the haze of the smoke downtown the sun hanging in the sky line a big ball of dull fire, orders were at once issued to the groundkeeper at Sportsman's Park to put his men to work on the diamond.

The sun and a light wind dried out the diamond and field at the Grand avenue baseball resort Saturday morning and the work was rushed by men who worked over the wet places on the infield and hastened the work of the sun. By the time the game is called this afternoon the field will be in shape.

"[illegible] that I hope for now," declared Mr. [illegible], "is some assurance that the air [will n]ot be so cool as to be uncomfortable [for t]he spectators, for we are prepared to [take] care of a big crowd. Every box seat [is s]old, and we had orders for more parties [th]an we could take care of. If we had given away all the passes that we were asked for I don't believe we could have got them all in the park."

The game will be called at 3:15 this afternoon.

Jack Sheridan of the American League umpire staff and Hank O'Day of the National League cohorts arrived in the city Saturday morning. The pair will officiate in this afternoon's contest.

Siever Is a Speed Merchant.

It is practically settled that Ed Siever will pitch the game for the Browns. Frank Donahue failed to report Friday, and as he will be tired from a long journey, McAleer will hardly ask him to go to the slab.

"I never saw Siever have such speed as he now shows," said Manager McAleer to the Post-Dispatch. "Perhaps that broken ligament was just what he needed. I always rated Siever a good pitcher, but I must say that he is throwing a swifter ball now than I believed he could turn out of his hand, and if Donovan's men do anything to him I miss my guess, that's all. Kahoe will catch him."

In the Br[own c]amp there is an air of overwhelm[ing conf]idence and a generally expre[ssed belief th]at the games are "all in" [illegible] [w]inners.

[illegible] [t]hat he had [illegible] [th]e series, the [illegible] number of [illegible] wager. [illegible] split it if any- [illegible] of one hundred [illegible] at I have heard [illegible] about an even [illegible] game. I'd like to [illegible] on the game Siever [illegible]

[illegible] [bac]kers, but reports from [illegible] [inte]rests about town are not [illegible] [th]e Browns. Even money is [illegible] most cases all the American [illegible] has been quickly snapped [illegible] [Brow]n backers.

[illegible] [enthusiast]ent fan was offering odds of 10 [to illegible on] the Cardinals Friday afternoon. [He] booked a few bets, but found it hard to discover Brown backers.

There will be no betting on the grounds. The officials of both clubs have laid wagers among themselves, and no matter who wins somebody will have to "buy."

Rhoades and Brown Ready for the Gong.

If the weather bird flies the proper signals at Sportsman's Park Saturday afternoon Twirler Mort Brown will be sent to the box by Pat Donovan. Brown was in the best of shape when the team left the South, but when he awoke in St. Louis Friday morning he was anything but pleased with the weather.

In case Brown does not feel able to let himself out to the limit, Bob Rhoades will be ordered to the firing line. Rhoades is the young man who was drafted from the Southern League a year ago by the Chicago club. He started poorly last season, and with practically no training essayed to pitch, and put his arm in such shape that he was practically useless the rest of the season.

Donovan has been saving Rhoades and Brown for the occasion, as neither was asked to officiate in the Little Rock games. They are two of his best men in point of coolness and cleverness in the box. Both are heady pitchers and Brown has few peers as a fielding twirler.

Browns Do Not Scare These Pitchers.

If either man is right the Browns will be facing a hard proposition, and they know it. Brown has been heard of. What Donovan particularly likes about the Omaha recruit is his nerve. The Browns don't scare him even if he never pitched in a major league before. Besides he has the same name. Brown is not over-confident, but believes that he can hold down the American League batsmen if given any support in the field. Donovan promises [h]im that.

[I]n the games in which he worked in [Te]xas, Brown displayed much ability in [kno]cking down hard hit balls and liners [tha]t most pitchers bow to. He is a stock[y] [illegible] lad, fast, and a clever base run[ner].

[illegible] [Rhoa]des pitches with a half underhand, [si]de motion. At present he has good [contr]ol and possesses the quality of deceiv[ing] batsmen by using little preliminary [flour]ishes. He is a big fellow with a sweep [of a]rm that puts much speed into his [th]rows. He has done but little curving [so] far, but can "mix 'em up." The [Brow]ns will have to hit good pitching if [they wi]n the box.

[illegible] Ryan [Behi]nd the Bat.

[illegible] [te]ams will line up the same as an[nounced] Friday by Managers McAleer and [illegible]. Jack Ryan will be behind the [illegible] [th]e Cardinals, unless his throwing [is a]ffected by the change in weather. [illegible] [a]nd Jack O'Neill have been catch[ing] [illegible] of the exhibition games, but [illegible] knows what he is doing when he [illegible] [R]yan in the game. The Cardi[nals] [illegible] [p]laying a land league team and [illegible] like Ryan's is a great aid to [illegible] [y]oungsters.

[illegible] weather is fair Sunday the turn-

"GAME CERTAIN," SAY OFFICIALS.

"We will play this afternoon and the grounds will be in fair shape," said Secretary Hedges of the Browns at Sportsman's Park at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

"The game this afternoon is a sure thing," declared Stanley Robison of the Cardinals at League Park Saturday morning. "The sun is doing its work and I look for a big attendance."

out at League Park is expected to test the seating capacity of the stands. It will be one of the most unique games in baseball history if played as now arranged.

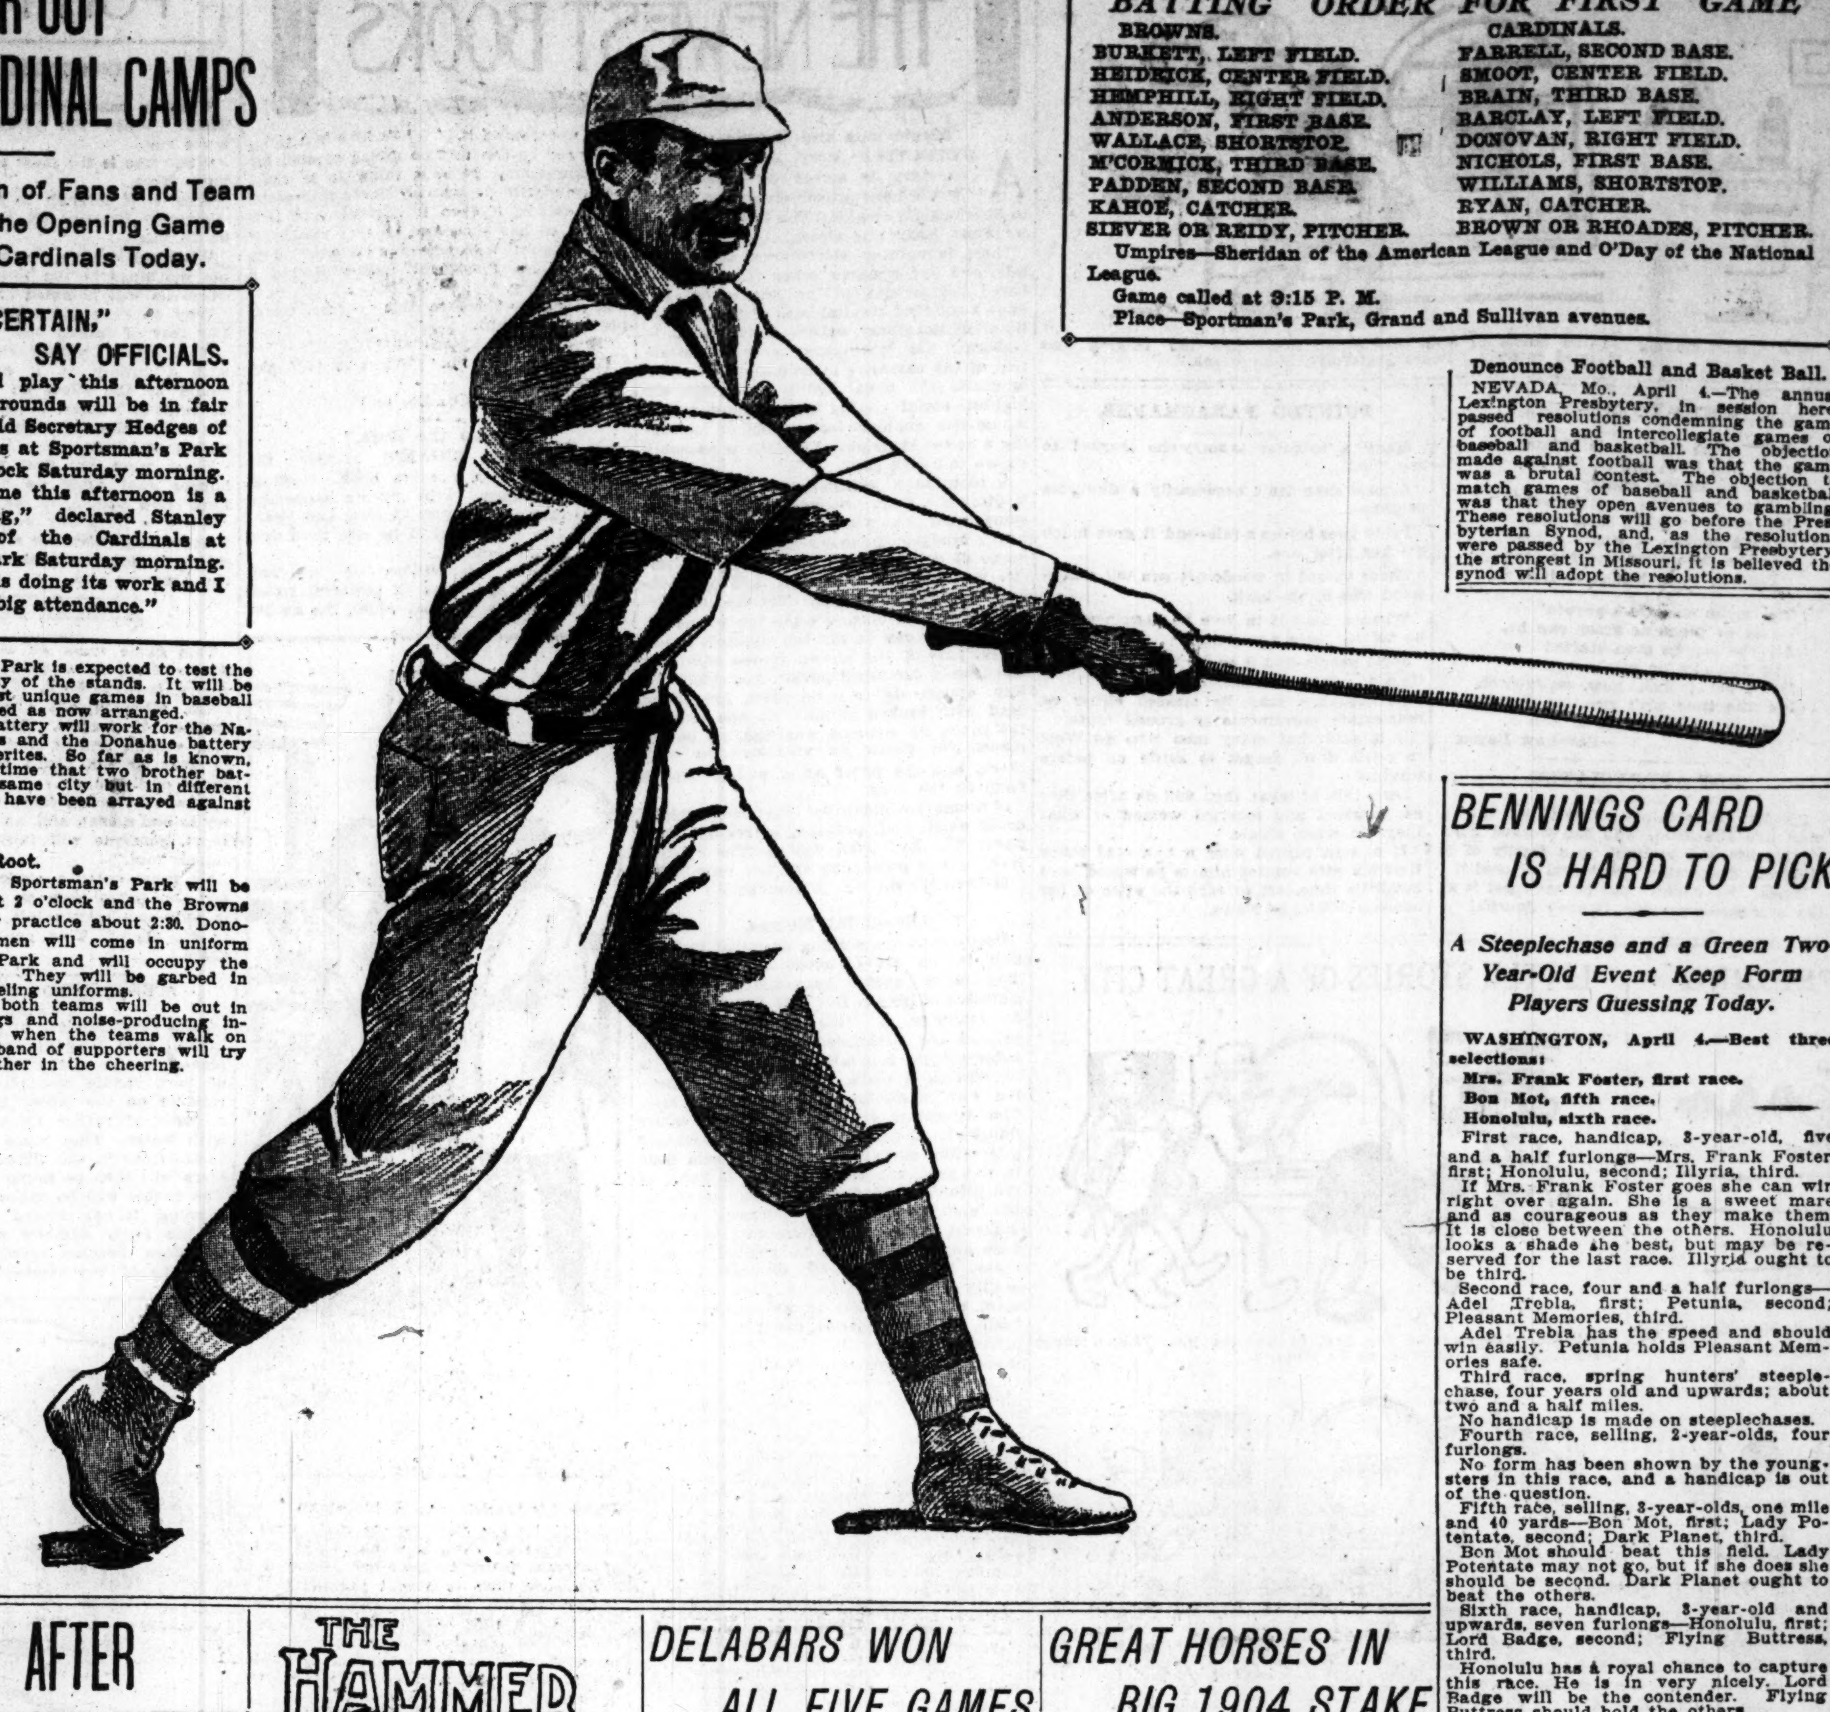

The O'Neil battery will work for the National Leaguers and the Donahue battery for the McAleerites. So far as is known, it is the first time that two brother batteries in the same city but in different major leagues have been arrayed against each other.

Rooters Will Come to Root.

The gates of Sportsman's Park will be thrown open at 2 o'clock and the Browns will appear for practice about 2:30. Donovan and his men will come in uniform from League Park and will occupy the visitors' bench. They will be garbed in their new traveling uniforms.

Partisans of both teams will be out in force with flags and noise-producing instruments, and when the teams walk on the field each band of supporters will try to outdo the other in the cheering.

Denounce Football and Basket Ball.

NEVADA, Mo., April 4.—The annual Lexington Presbytery, in session here, passed resolutions condemning the game of football and intercollegiate games of baseball and basketball. The objection made against football was that the game was a brutal contest. The objection to match games of baseball and basketball was that they open avenues to gambling. These resolutions will go before the Presbyterian Synod, and, as the resolutions were passed by the Lexington Presbytery, the strongest in Missouri, it is believed the synod will adopt the resolutions.

BENNINGS CARD IS HARD TO PICK

A Steeplechase and a Green Two-Year-Old Event Keep Form Players Guessing Today.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Best three selections:

Mrs. Frank Foster, first race.
Bon Mot, fifth race.
Honolulu, sixth race.

First race, handicap, 3-year-old, five and a half furlongs—Mrs. Frank Foster, first; Honolulu, second; Illyria, third.

If Mrs. Frank Foster goes she can win right over again. She is a sweet mare and as courageous as they make them. It is close between the others. Honolulu looks a shade the best, but may be reserved for the last race. Illyria ought to be third.

Second race, four and a half furlongs—Adel Trebla, first; Petunia, second; Pleasant Memories, third.

Adel Trebla has the speed and should win easily. Petunia holds Pleasant Memories safe.

Third race, spring hunters' steeplechase, four years old and upwards; about two and a half miles.

No handicap is made on steeplechases.

Fourth race, selling, 2-year-olds, four furlongs.

No form has been shown by the youngsters in this race, and a handicap is out of the question.

Fifth race, selling, 3-year-olds, one mile and 40 yards—Bon Mot, first; Lady Potentate, second; Dark Planet, third.

Bon Mot should beat this field. Lady Potentate may not go, but if she does she should be second. Dark Planet ought to beat the others.

Sixth race, handicap, 3-year-old and upwards, seven furlongs—Honolulu, first; Lord Badge, second; Flying Buttress, third.

Honolulu has a royal chance to capture this race. He is in very nicely. Lord Badge will be the contender. Flying Buttress should hold the others.

SCHORR'S CHANCE IN ARDELLE STAKE

Appears to Have a Mortgage On Today's Memphis Feature With Three Entries.

TODAY'S MEMPHIS SELECTIONS.

MEMPHIS, April 3.—Selections for Saturday's races:

First race—Kingstelle, Ernest Parham, O'Hagen.
Second race—Foxy Kane, Bensonhurst, Jake Greenberg.
Third race—Thane, Rightful, Rankin.
Fourth race—Schorr entry, Bernice, Carmelita.
Fifth race—Lord Radnor, Ceylon, Islip.
Sixth race—Apple Sweet, Squanto, Suburban Queen.

BY R. D. WALSH.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 4.—The feature of Saturday's card at Memphis is the Ardelle stakes for 2-year-olds at half a mile. John W. Schorr seems to have a mortgage on it, for out of the eight horses entered he owns three, one of which has already been returned a winner at this meeting.

Schorr will probably not start all three, and in that case Ed Corrigan's Bernice stands a good chance to run second. With the success Schorr has achieved thus far this year at Memphis it is a certainty that his entry will be an overwhelming favorite.

Carmelita has been a disappointment so far, and there is hardly any hope of her winning this stake.

The first and sixth races have 15 horses entered in each, and with such large fields it is hard to make a judicious selection in either event. With fair racing luck, Kingstelle has a chance to win, and she will be long in price. Ernest Parham and Alfred C. seem to be her most dangerous opponents with an outside chance for O'Hagen.

Apple Sweet should win again today, but thoroughbreds do not very frequently repeat themselves. Squanto and Suburban Queen will give her a hard battle, and if the latter has a good rider up, she may win.

The third race should prove a spirited contest, as it has the great horse Thane entered and Schorr's crack Rightful.

At the distance I prefer Thane, although the close figurers prefer Rightful. Rankin will not be worse than third and may do better. He has a good record and likes a slow track.

Foxy Kane is my pick in the second, because I think he has much improved in the last week. The distance and weight are, I think, too much for Bensonhurst. The steeplechase, at two miles, should be a spectacular affair and Lord Radnor and Ceylon should have a great battle for first honors. They are both clean jumpers, but Radnor has the greater speed and I therefore prefer his chances. Jumping races, as a rule, are dangerous betting propositions, but I thing Lord Radnor is a pretty safe thing.

Vice-Governor Wright Sails.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The steamer Korea sailed today for Honolulu and the Orient. In her treasure room there is $1,000,000 in gold for Honolulu and $250,000 in silver for Japan. She will call at Manila, among her passengers being Vice-Governor Luke E. Wright of the Philippines, who is accompanied by his wife and secretary.

Mercantile Club Cashier Resigns.

The resignation of Edward Morse, cashier of the Mercantile Club for 14 years, has been tendered and will take effect on Monday. It is said that Oscar Broyer, assistant cashier, will be promoted to the place.

County Judge a Suicide.

TROY, N. Y., April 4.—The body of Henry T. Noson, judge of Rensselaer County, who had been missing since Monday, has been found in a field south of Albany. Indications were that he had taken his own life. The reason of the act is thought to have been despondency.

Broke Monte Carlo Bank.

PARIS, April 4.—The Marchese Carlo Di Riduni, son of a former Italian premier, in the course of play recently broke the bank at Monte Carlo at roulette, which means he won at least $40,000.

TEXANS AFTER FRANK LIEBKE

Dallas Club Tenders Berth to Captain of Smith Baseball Team.

Frank Liebke, the crack shortstop and captain of the Smith Academy team, has been heard of in Texas and a berth on the Dallas team of the Texas League is open to him if he wants it.

Owner Joe Gardner of the Dallas club asked Pat Donovan his opinion of Liebke and the reply he received was very flattering to the captain of the Smith nine. There is a vacancy at second base on the Dallas nine, a Chicago boy having been tried there and released. A brother of Heiny Reitz, the once famous infielder, is playing short, but he will be switched to second if Liebke can be secured.

Gardner heard of Liebke through St. Louis men before the Cardinals reached Dallas and he commissioned Donovan to sign the St. Louis boy if possible. The Texas League ranks next to the Southern Association in the South and salaries are unusually good there.

Donovan knows Liebke well and has frequently seen him work. He has a high regard for Liebke's ability as an infielder and hitter. Last season Liebke won the batting championship in the Interscholastic League.

It is doubtful whether Liebke can be induced to play professional ball, as his father, who is a wealthy lumber merchant of St. Louis, opposes the idea.

JENKINS AGAIN IS CHAMPION

Defeated Dan McLeod at Wrestling in Two Straight Falls Friday.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 4.—By winning two straight falls, Tom Jenkins of Cleveland deposed Dan McLeod of Worcester from the heavyweight wrestling championship here last night. McLeod won the title from Jenkins several months ago, but the latter kept after him and made good the prediction that he would regain the title.

Jenkins stripped large, but he seemed better trained than when he lost to McLeod. His muscles were free, and when he stepped on the mat he seemed confident.

McLeod allowed himself to be drawn into a trap soon after they clinched, and Jenkins put his shoulders to the mat in 1 minute and 17 seconds.

Both men were wary after the first fall, and hunted for holds for a few moments before going down on the mat the second time. Jenkins secured the second fall on a crotch hold in 16m. 30s.

THE HAMMER COLUMN

The local baseball season is scheduled to open this afternoon. The mortality rate of grandmothers may be expected to increase materially.

A wise person insists that the Browns have nothing to gain and everything to lose by playing the Cardinals a spring series. This wise person should have the job of cashing up after the show.

The umpire who can render a decision satisfactory to all the crowd which is expected to witness Saturday afternoon's contest will be rewarded with permission to leave the grounds alive.

B. Stuart Muckenfuss of the Cardinals has been hanging over the back fence at League Park for two days singing in the directions of Camp McAleer, "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard."

A fan who watches the work of baseball men closely and who saw the work of Donovan's twirlers at Dallas, says the Cardinals have a sandy lot of pitchers. It is hoped he did not mean "rocky."

The outlook is rather dark for Twilight in the Memphis steeplechase today.

Judge Murphy intimates that the reason Whisky King was left at the post in a recent race is that he was too full of spirits and acted badly.

"The prospects are bright for a successful season at Kinloch," we are told. "Barney Schreiber has arrived from Frisco." It all depends upon which side of the bet you figure the success from.

DELABARS WON ALL FIVE GAMES

Shut Out Blue Ribbons in Cocked-Hat Match on Crescent Alleys Friday.

Only one regularly scheduled league game is on tonight, the Office Men's club teams having their usual Saturday match on hand.

The Delabars and the Blue Ribbons of the Mound City league held the center of the stage Friday evening. Their match was bowled on the Crescent alleys and the Delabars were fast enough to capture the series of five games. It took a 51 team average to turn the trick. Hoberg, for the winners, had his eye on the center pin and knocked off a five-game record of 62 3-5. Schmidt, also of the winning five, went 54 for the series.

The Blue Ribbons were out of form and could not work up a sweat. Miller and Beckman, who both went a fraction better than 47, were the only members of the losing five to even get warm.

The Office men and Securities of the Junior Association had a close tilt on the Acme alleys, the former team landing the odd game victory.

The last game was necessary to decide the issue, but on the showdown the Securities went to pieces. Garvin of the winning team was best with 53 1-5 average, Kaiser of the losers rolling a fraction over 52.

Cocked pins put Kicker of the winners and McCall of the losing team out of the running.

The usual Friday seance in the Meyer Brothers League, on the Royal alleys, was held last night. The Mikados and the T. F. M.s displayed the best form in their match. The Japs won out in the odd game, though the losing aggregation rolled a better team average.

Bruen of the winners had his eagle eye working and bowled out a 56 average. Delkeskamp and David of the T. F. M.'s both beat out a 52 average.

A feature of Bruen's performance in making his 56 was that in five games he failed to get a single cocked pin.

The Pearls had all the better of the bout with the Ildas, winning four of the five games played with a 42 team average. Several workouts in the 30s killed the Ildas' chances. Not a man on either five hit the 50 average mark.

The Imperial Crowns took three games from the La Tosca aggregation in a slow match.

The Eights of the Western Tenpin League won all three games from the Pairs in their match on the club alleys Friday night.

SUNDAY'S COURSING STAKE.

Several Puppies Will Try Out Against All-Aged Dogs in "Stock Exchange" Stake.

The draw for the "Stock Exchange Stake" took place at De Hodiamont Friday night, and the result will bring together 24 of the fastest greyhounds in the city for Sunday's coursing at Delmar Park.

Several puppies will make their debuts with good chances of beating out dogs of the older division, although the following stakewinners are entered, representing the more advanced class: Banastar, Lady Lee, Star of Erin, Haradene and Rolla We'ls. Among the entries Old Virginia, Mountain Chief and Linlithgow Lass are the winners of the Inaugural Stakes, which were run last Sunday.

Hueston Matched With Eby.

Grant Eby, who claims the pool championship of the world, having won the last Brooklyn tournament, is in the city and has been matched with "Kid" Hueston, former champion of Missouri. The experts will play a 700-point match at continuous pool at the Empire rooms on Pine street. One hundred points will be played each night and the winner will take down a purse of $200.

GREAT HORSES IN BIG 1904 STAKE

Entries to $50,000 World's Fair Stake Make Event Biggest Ever in the West.

Secretary Hachmeister of the St. Louis Fair Association, anticipates receiving Saturday, the final batch of entries to the World's Fair Handicap, which will be run off at the local track next year.

The only entries remaining to be heard from are those from 'Frisco and a few from the east.

According to the list received to date, the affair will be the greatest in the history of the west. No such collection of great thoroughbreds was ever nominated for one event in this part of the country.

Every owner of noted runners in the country is represented, including W. C. Whitney, L. V. Bell, August Belmont, Whitney & Duryea, John Drake, E. E. Smithers and many others.

According to the entry list, if McChesney and Hermis do not meet before next season they are due to come together in this event, the owners of both horses having nominated their cracks.

The handicap will be worth $50,000. Following is the entry list:

BISHOP CAN'T MARRY THEM.

Positive Orders From Rome Prohibit Catholic Wedding for Vanderbilt.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Owing to the reception of orders from the propaganda at Rome, Archbishop Farley will not officiate at the wedding of Reginald C. Vanderbilt and Miss Cathleen Neilson.

Positive instructions have been received by the Roman Catholic hierarchy of the United States forbidding them to officiate at any more weddings in which one of the contracting parties is a noncatholic.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF FINANCIAL AND MARKET DOINGS

BAD BANK STATEMENT CAUSED LOWER PRICES

After a Sharp Decline There Was an Equally Quick Reaction.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The opening today was quiet and lower than yesterday's close. London came lower and inactive.

The positive denials made by Morgan and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. that they had purchased the pool holdings of Southern Pacific had a depressing effect on that issue and the price sagged off to 56⅝ with a later recovery to 57⅝. The Southern Pacific quarrel seems to be the most disturbing element in the market at present and until the differences between the Keene and Harriman interests are adjusted an unsettled market is to be expected.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit is being persistently boomed for a raise on increased earnings and decreased operating expenses, but the market today showed prices some lower than yesterday.

American Car & Foundry showed considerable early strength on reported increased earnings, though there were trades of only moderate amounts.

The bank statement, as usual on Saturday, was the all-absorbing topic, and the early impression was that it would be unfavorable. Banks have lost largely this week to both the subtreasury and the interior and a statement that has favorable features will be most gladly received by the long interests.

The expected consolidation of the lead interests received somewhat of a setback when it was announced that there was a hitch in the merger because the options on some of the plants that would be acquired under the plan had expired.

When the bank statement appeared there was active selling all along the list. Prices were lower and soon struck the low level of the session.

A decrease of $4,150,075 in the surplus reserve, coupled with a decrease of deposits of over $5,000,000, did not appear at all attractive to the floor. Prices quickly responded to the feeling, and for a time it looked like there would be a decided drop.

At the low period the short interests appeared on the scene and by active buying saved the close from being the low point.

The bidding was of a character that bore out the impression that the short interest was becoming worried and the close was quiet and well above the low point, but still below the opening prices in most instances.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Opening prices were lower than last night owing to the denial of rumors of a settlement of the Southern Pacific contest. Southern Pacific receded ¾. Other losses were limited to within ¼. The trading was very dull.

Some further slight declines were made, but there was no pressure of consequence outside of Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and Louisville & Northern. Southern Pacific touched 56⅝ and Illinois Central and Louisville lost a point. Business was virtually stagnant until Wabash preferred was lifted a point.

The market was dull and steady at the rally until the appearance of the bank statement.

The large reduction in surplus reserves induced prompt reselling, which carried prices to the lowest of the day. Declines below last night reached 1⅛ in Sugar, 1⅜ in Southern Pacific and Brooklyn Transit, 1⅛ in St. Paul and Colorado Fuel and a point in Atchison, Rock Island, Texas & Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern preferred and Amalgamated. Westinghouse Electric fell 2, Lake Erie & Western preferred 3, and Des Moines and Fort Dodge 5, with a rally of 1⅛.

There were fractional rallies all around the room and the closing was dull and about steady.

GRAIN MARKET BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, April 4.—A bearish sentiment prevailed in the wheat pit during the first hour of trading and lower prices were realized, May selling down to 73¼c, after opening a shade to ¼@¼c lower, at 73⅞c to 73⅝c. The Missouri crop report was decidedly bearish and was largely responsible for the easier tone of the market. There was only a moderate trade, with commission houses the best buyers. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 282 cars, which, with local receipts of 27 cars—none of contract grade—made a total of 259 cars, against 199 cars last week and 252 cars a year ago.

Corn opened easier, with liberal offerings of both May and July. Trading was small and featureless and there was little change in prices the early part of the session, May holding steady around 42½c, after opening ⅛c to ¼c lower, at 42⅝c to 42½c. The weakness in wheat and favorable weather were the bear factors. Local receipts were 147 cars—two of contract grade.

There was only a light trade in oats and the tone of the market was somewhat easier along with other grains, May opening a shade to ⅛@¼c lower, at 33½@33⅝c. Selling by commission houses and scalpers soon carried the price down to 33⅛c, with little support at the decline. Local receipts were small, at 186 cars.

Provisions opened easier on quite general liquidation, May pork being 2½c lower, at $17.70; May lard was off 5c, at $9.85, and ribs were down 7½c, at $9.62½. Offerings in pork were liberal and resulted in a further drop of 15c.

MAY COTTON GOES TO RECORD MARK

With Shorts in Panic to Cover, Staple Reaches 10:20.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Extensive covering by the shorts sent May cotton up 20 points to 10:20 today. This is the highest figure reached in the present movement, exceeding by 3 points the record price for May cotton, touched during the Sully-Price contest, a few weeks ago. From the top figure May declined 10 points and then made a partial rally. From outward indications the bull element seemed to oppose rather than encourage the advance which was due primarily to realization by the shorts of the difficulty of meeting contracts. All ordinary market conditions were ignored, however, in the wild scramble to cover.

July cotton was a good second in the excitement that attended the opening, selling up to 9.73 and there was talk of a possible corner in that option. The market steadied soon after the opening, but continued more or less irregular.

A continuance of short covering kept prices pretty near the top, and the closing was strong and steady. May closed 10.14@10.15; July, 9.69@9.70; Sept., 8.73@8.74, and Nov., 8.36@8.37.

UNUSUAL SATURDAY SESSION TODAY

Light Trading and Local Market Lacks Features.

BANK OF COMMERCE SCORES ONLY BANK SALES

Tractions Were Neglected and Only Two Trust Company Stocks Appeared on the Record.

The session this morning was of the usual Saturday character. Orders were few and interest was lacking.

National Bank of Commerce was the only bank stock that sold, and that issue showed practically the only life that was apparent in the market. The price did not vary from $365.

Missouri Trust had strong early support at $127, but later fell to $126.87½. Commonwealth Trust came in to the extent of 5 shares at $297.

The miscellaneous list was entirely neglected as far as sales were concerned, though quotations were made on several stocks that have not been mentioned for some time.

THE WEEK CLOSED WEAK

Disappointing Cables Caused Freer General Selling of Wheat.

ALL GRAIN MARKETS DECLINED IN VALUE

The Settled Weather Affected Corn and Oats—Receipts Were Liberal and Expected to Increase.

Grain.

Wheat bulls met with a sore disappointment in the cable information handed out to them this morning. They had gone home loaded up with bullish statements of damaged crops and light stocks abroad and that foreigners were buying every thing offered them, and they were also loaded up with long wheat to be fixed for the run away Saturday. When the market closed for the day most of these bulls were in the "also ran" class. For the cables showed that foreign markets were dull and lower, little buying was heard of and Beerbohm indicated that Monday's cable statistics would be bearish. As the weather had turned fine on this side the water and no crop complaints heard, there was wheat for sale by the bulls of yesterday and a slump in price occurred. The settled weather and the weakening in wheat unfavorably affected coarse grain, corn suffering the most. The cash market for both corn and oats was dull, but that of corn was exceedingly so, besides being lower in price.

WHEAT—Nothing in the early cables gave evidence of the uneasiness that was reflected in those of yesterday on the markets abroad. Liverpool had declined ⅛d and was inactive and Paris was reported ⅛@⅛c lower. After all the advices yesterday of damaged crops and light stocks in France and statements that that country was a heavy buyer in America, this weakening in the Paris market was especially striking and appeared to indicate the late strength there was due more to shorts covering than anything else.

The effect on domestic markets was decidedly bearish, especially as nothing bullish enough to offset the freight news. Weather conditions were settled and prospects for warmer temperature. Nothing wrong with the crop was heard and the Missouri state report was excellent on condition of the plant, though indicating a smaller crop than last year. Receipts locally were 49,200 bu, against 23,000 bu one year ago, and Kansas City had 630,000 bu, against 16,000 bu. The local stock had decreased 44,000 bu.

May opened at 68⅝@68¾c, where it closed yesterday, and sold off to 68⅛@68¼c. July opened ⅛@¼c lower at 66⅝c and sold down to 66¼c.

Selling out by longs and the selling by bearish traders kept such a pressure upon the market that May sold down to 68⅛c and July to 66c. A strong reaction followed the statement that foreigners were buying freely at the lower prices, a large amount being reported as taken here. Local exporters did report a good inquiry and they were working on several lines, but all reported here was 40,000 bu No. 2 red from store and 16,000 No. 2 red and 44,060 No. 2 hard at the seaboard. May advanced to 68½@68⅝c and July to 66¼c, but fell back to 68⅜c and 66¼c. At close 68⅝c asked for May and 66¼c bid for July.

Primary receipts today were 411,000 bu, against 307,000 bu one year ago, and for the week 2,673,000 bu, against 2,191,000 bu last week and 2,556,000 bu one year ago. Since July they are 224,958,000 bu, against 211,410,000 bu for the same period last year and 193,648,000 bu for two years ago. Shipments were 215,000 bu for the day, against 603,000 bu last year and for week 1,247,000 bu, against 1,280,000 bu last week and 1,092,000 bu a year ago. Clearances in flour and wheat today were 502,000 bu.

Cash market—Received, 1467 sacks and 43 cars local and 8 cars through. Exporters were inquiring after both hard and soft winter wheat, but the scarcity of former and the price of latter restricted sales. One lot of 40,000 bu No. 2 red sold from store to go by barges, and 16,000 No. 2 red and 44,000 hard winter at the seaboard were worked. No sales from store to outside mills reported. Sample soft winter was steady, but dull, as milling demands light. Hard winter very scarce and firm. By sample, delivered—No. 2 red sold destination at 71c and choice worth 71½c, but 70c best bid local; No. 3 red at 68½@69c local and 69½@71c destination; No. 4 at 66c for choice and poor quotable at 58@60c; No. 2 hard at 72c and quotable at 71c to 73c, latter Turkey; No. 3 hard quotable at 67c to 72c for ordinary to Turkey.

CORN.—A return to settled weather and evidence of weak markets at other points caused the local market to decline, the May option displaying most weakness, as no buyers showed and there was some pressure to sell. That option was offered ¼@⅜c lower at 39⅛@39¼c and had no buyers at that. July only lost ⅛c, opening at 39⅝c and selling off at 39½c. Receipts were 80,600 bu, compared with only 12,700 bu one year ago. Liverpool was reported inactive and unchanged.

The opening trades in May were at 39⅛@39¼c, and then it sold at 39⅛c, but later stiffened up a little, May selling at 39⅛c and July at 39⅝c, and latter bid at close. No export business was heard of. The local cash market was dull and easier.

Primary receipts for the day 259,000 bu, against 181,000 one year ago and for the week 205,300 bu, against 2,081,000 bu last week and 1,759,000 bu a year ago. Shipments for the day 305,000 bu, against 314,000 bu last year, and for the week 2,097,000 bu, against 2,232,000 bu last week and 1,389,000 bu a year ago. Clearances for the day were 198,000 bu.

Cash market—Received 1646 sacks of 52 cars local and 33 cars through. Dull and lower. Demands very light, both local and shipping, especially for the low grades. Only sound stock looked for. By sample delivered—No. 2 sold at 39¾@40c, No. 3 at 38c (for destination 38½c bid) for choice, No. 2 white at 42@42½c and fancy St. Charles at 43¼c, No. 3 white at 40@41c, No. 2 and No. 2 yellow sacked and in elevator at 39½c.

OATS—Weakness in all other grain caused May to be offered at 33½c without a buyer. The better weather conditions had some effect, as did receipts of 90,450 bu, against 33,350 bu one year ago.

The future market received no attention whatever subsequently and so closed.

Primary receipts, 442,000 bu, against 175,000 bu one year ago, and for week, 3,178,000 bu, against 3,039,000 bu last week and 1,904,000 one year ago. Shipments, 498,000 bu, against 236,000 bu a year ago, and for week, 2,925,000 bu, against 2,803,000 bu last week and 1,488,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were next to nothing.

Cash market—Received 49 cars local and 18 cars through. Steady, but slow, as demands small. By sample delivered—No. 2 sold at 35c to 36c, No. 3 at 34½@34¾c, No. 4 at 32¼@33¼c, No. 3 white at 35@37c, No. 4 white at 33½@35c.

RYE—Dull. Not much offered or wanted. No. 2 sold at 49½c delivered east side, and No. 2 quotable at 47c.

Trade Topics.

The Missouri state report on crop conditions estimates the average for winter wheat on April 1 at 91, which is 1 point above the condition at same time last year and 7 points above the average for previous five years. The estimated area is 2,331,900 acres, or about 11 per cent below that harvested last year, but above the normal and 42 per cent greater than that harvested in 1900. The warm weather of March started wheat and grass to growing nicely, and oat sowing begun and well advanced. In several southern counties, however, only 16 per cent was sown March 20, where 62 per cent last year. The soil is reputed as too wet for working well, though corn plowing begun.

The estimated condition of winter wheat on April 1 and the acreage reported by the Missouri state board points to a prospective corn crop of 46,300,000 bu. Last year's Missouri [illegible] was reported by [illegible] ernment at 45,827,000 bu and by the state board at about 60,000,000 bu.

Next week the markets of this country will be closed during two days. Next Tuesday elections will be held, and on the following Friday Good Friday will be observed.

In Liverpool wheat, the easiness in American markets yesterday caused slightly easier tone at opening, initial prices being ⅛d lower. Later the market steadied on the forecast of very small shipments from America to Liverpool this week, but towards noon this advance was lost on realizing, induced by the weakness in Paris. The decline in America yesterday was responsible for opening losses of ⅛d in corn during the morning. This slight decline was recovered and better undertone prevailed, the factors being covered by shorts owing to fewer offerings from America and a better inquiry for corn on spot.

Broomhall estimates the world's wheat shipments for week at 1,000,000 bu, of which 10,000,000 bu to Europe. He says there will be an increase on passage.

Minneapolis wires: "Seeding started in Manitoba Wednesday, and will be general next week. In North Dakota ground is about ready for work, and seeding will be under way next week. Conditions very promising."

Estimates are for about 1,000,000 bu decrease in the American visible. One year ago the decrease was 1,200,000 bu.

Lead and Spelter.

LEAD—Firm at $4.57½ bid for soft Missouri and chemical hard.

SPELTER—Little offered and salable at $5.40.

On the Curb.

St. Louis—Wheat lower. May sold at 68⅝c; puts, 68c to 67⅝c; calls, 68⅝c to 68⅞c. July sold at 66c; puts, 65⅝c to 65⅞c; calls, 66¼c to 66⅝c. Corn stronger. May, 39⅝c; puts, 39⅛c; calls, 39⅝c.

Milwaukee—May wheat puts, 73⅛c; calls, 73⅞c. July puts, 69⅝@69⅞c; calls, 69⅞c. May corn puts, 42⅛c; calls, 42⅝@42⅞c. July puts, 43⅝@43¼c; calls, 43⅝c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

FLOUR—A quiet day. No cables to speak of were received and domestic sales light.

Soft winter flour—Patent, $3.30@3.45; straights, $3.15@3.25; extra fancy, $3@3.20; clears, $2.75@2.90; low grades, $2.40@2.60; hard winter flours—patents, $3.20@3.30; straights, $2.90@3.10; clear, $2.50@2.70. Foregoing prices for lots from first hands, track or at depot this side. Orders higher.

U. S. STEEL'S BIG EARNINGS

Made Ten Millions in March, and Increase for Year Over Last Twelve Months Is $30,000,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The net earnings of the United Steel Corporation for March are said to be over $10,000,000, while the earnings for January, February and March are said to aggregate $29,000,000, as compared with $25,000,000 for the corresponding months of 1902.

It is said that the coming report of the corporation will show $62,000,000 cash in hand and $220,000,000 cash assets, while the net earnings for the current year will exceed those of last year by $30,000,000. It is said Mr. Morgan had these figures before him when he declared the end of prosperity was not in sight.

FEE FOR SURGICAL OPERATION.

Dr. N. B. Carson Obtains $3000 From the Lincoln Estate.

Dr. N. B. Carson was allowed $3000 on his claim of $5000 against the estate of W. S. Lincoln for a surgical operation to remove the Gasserian ganglion. As told in the late editions of Friday's Post-Dispatch, Lincoln was a man of considerable wealth and lived at the Southern Hotel. Dr. Carson was called upon to perform the operation to relieve brain trouble, resulting from neuralgia, caused by a defective tooth.

The operation was a delicate one and has only been performed in St. Louis a very few times. During the hearing of evidence regarding the claim before Judge Crews in the probate court Friday, it was stated the European physicians had received as high as $30,000 for similar operations. Lincoln died in the Mullanphy Hospital five days after the operation.

Gundlach Among the Speakers.

Eighteenth ward Republicans were urged to put up a solid front at the coming municipal election by speakers who addressed a meeting at Social Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Monroe streets, Friday evening. Joseph Gundlach, a candidate for the City Council: Judge John A. Talty, C. O. A. Brunck, Thomas Walsh, Henry Rotermund and others spoke for support of the ticket.

WILLIE'S ENGINE CAUSES A FIRE

It Exploded, Damaging Engineer Willie and His Home.

BUT THE BOY ENGINEER IS NOT DISCOURAGED

He Will Undertake to Operate Another Toy Engine If His Father Will Buy Him a New One.

Willie Ogan, with hands bandaged and a good deal the worse for wear, will not admit that his ambition to become an engineer has been satisfied.

His engine exploded and Engineer Willie was burned and his father's residence at 3520 Texas avenue endangered by fire, but Willie will not give up.

He is confident that he will know better next time and that two engine explosions do not come in the life of one engineer.

Willie was using the dining room for an engine house Friday evening and was getting along fine, but he let his watchful eye stray from the water gauge.

He did not know the water was so low.

He thinks the scars on his hands will keep him mindful of this point and the passengers on his steamboat or train never need be fearful that he will overlook the water again.

Willie is a son of Evans Ogan, who owns and occupies the two-story brick residence at 3520 Texas avenue and when the explosion occurred and the engineer called for help there was a lively time about the house.

James Ogan's first thought was of the fire department and he turned an alarm, but the other members of the family organized a volunteer department and put out the fire with very little loss.

While Willie's burns are painful, they are not serious and he will be ready for duty as soon as he can get another engine.

CLEVELAND TO AID TUSKOGEE

Ex-President Will Preside at Meeting to Further Work of Booker Washington.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland will preside at a public meeting to be held in this city next Tuesday evening for the discussion of the methods and needs of the work of Booker T. Washington at the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.

Mr. Washington will make the principal address. Other speakers will be Edgar Gardner Murphy of Montgomery, Ala., Dr. Lyman Abbott and William H. Baldwin, Jr. The Hampton Singers will be present and sing.

FATHER COFFEY TO SPEAK.

Will Address City Government Club and a Political Meeting Saturday.

"The Work of the Excise Commissioner" will be the subject of an address to be made Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. Father Coffey, in the parlors of the First Congregational Church, Delmar boulevard, near Grand avenue, where the Young Men's City Government Club will meet. All young men interested in civic welfare are invited.

At Armory Hall, in Kirkwood, Friday evening, Father Coffey made an address encouraging the anti-saloon element, which seeks to banish saloons from Kirkwood. The saloon element won by a small margin at the last election. Father Coffey said that the saloon was the training school for the corrupt politician.

Father Coffey will also speak in behalf of the independent candidate, William A. Block, for the House of Delegates, from the Eighteenth ward, Saturday night. The address will be delivered at a mass meeting to be held at Social Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Monroe streets.

Salvation Army Announces Efforts for Self-Denial Week Charity.

The week of April 5 is the annual prayer and self-denial week for the Salvation Army. The organization asks that its friends during that period will be particularly generous with financial aid for its charitable work.

This is the thirty-eighth year since the establishment of the army. During that time it has grown from a small band of enthusiasts to a world-wide power.

CIRCUS IS COMING TO TOWN.

The Forepaugh & Sells Combination Will Open on April 20.

On Monday, April 20, the consolidated Forepaugh & Sells' circus will make its first appearance in St. Louis.

Tents will be pitched April 15 at Laclede and Vandeventer avenues, and rehearsals will be held until the opening. The engagement will last the entire week beginning April 20, and there will be two performances each day.

The circus comes directly from its winter quarters. In former years it has always opened the season at Madison Square Garden, New York.

The circus has a very complete menagerie, and the usual ring features. One of the remarkable attractions of the ring will be the bicycle riding act of "Dare-devil Diavlo," who "loops the loop" on his machine. He dashes down 100 feet from the top of the tent, and with this tremendous momentum goes completely around the inner side of an upright ring, man and bicycle turning a somersault in midair.

SLEEPING QUARTERS IN HALLS.

World's Fair Management Arranging for Dedication Crowds to Sleep.

Three large halls leased by the Young Men's Christian Association have been offered as domitories during the World's Fair dedication if there is any lack of accommodation for visitors. It is estimated that 800 persons can sleep on cots in the halls which are located at Grand and Franklin avenues, 1907 St. Louis avenue and 1300 South Eighteenth street.

Representatives of the exposition management are trying to induce the lessees of other large halls to allow them to be used as dormitories, and it is probable that several of the Turner halls will afford sleeping quarters for many. An information bureau will be established at Union Station about April 23 and in counting rooms of daily newspapers.

SEVEN IN PERIL ON SHIP ASHORE

Other Sailors of the Albion River Are Rescued Off San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—At an early hour this morning 18 passengers and two of the crew of the steamer Albion River, which is fast on the rocks at Bodega Point, were landed in this city by the tug Defiance. Seven men remained on the wreck and were burning signals of distress. The wind was blowing a gale and their rescue seemed a difficult task. The life-saving crew from Point Bonita with their lifeboat were on the revenue cutter McCullough near the wrecked vessel and were using every effort to save the men on the lost steamer.

The men on the wreck when the last advices were received here were: Capt. Bash, Chief Engineer John Ryan, First Assistant John Dykeman, Cook Eugene Burke, Seamen George Palmer, Bob Howe and a sailor known as Charles. Seafaring men say their position is extremely precarious, owing to the fact that a strong wind is blowing off the coast.

Capt. W. J. Woodside of Alameda, part owner of the Albion River, is inclined to attribute the wreck to carelessness. He says that the vessel was eight miles out of her course when she struck the rocks.

Mr. Heuer is a popular young St. Louisan, and is receiving congratulations from many friends on his new distinction.

BOY REFUSES TO TAKE MEDICINE

Son of Christian Science Teacher Scoffs at Doctors and Dies.

FATALLY ILL, BUT WANTED TO GET OUT OF HOSPITAL

Threats and Persuasions Fail to Induce Twelve-Year-Old Lad to Follow Advice of the Physicians.

"Refused to take medicine" is the entry in the records of the City Hospital opposite the name of Henry Lemberger, 12 years old, of 2335 Randolph street, who died from dropsy early Saturday morning.

The boy was a son of Mrs. Rose Lemberger, who is one of the teachers at "The Vanguard of Christian Science," a school conducted by Christian Scientists. From March 27, when the lad entered the hospital, he refused medicine.

He fought the attendants when they tried to make him take medicine, and at times when he was able he tried to escape from the institution.

"I want to go home and leave these doctors," he used to cry. His disease progressed rapidly, but neither threats nor persuasion could induce him to submit to treatment.

INTENSE INTEREST CREATED

The Manoeuvres and Generalship of Captain Rexall and Her Little Army

Create the Most Unique Series of Advertisements Ever Produced.

The people have been taken by surprice, and during the past week, if curiosity could kill, not less than two-thirds of the people of St. Louis would have departed this world.

There has never been any question in the minds of the people of St. Louis regarding the enterprise of the firm, Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. Their enthusiasm in carrying out successfully any project into which they enter is characteristic, and certainly the advertising of this prominent firm of druggists during the past weeks has aroused unbounded curiosity. Even the newspaper publishers admit that this feeling of curiosity has been responsible for increased sales of their papers.

On the appearance of the first advertisement, last Monday, one immediately took on a feeling of anticipation, believing that there was something out of the ordinary about to happen in the advertising field. Friday the series of five advertisements spelling out the name Rexall was completed, and only after five days of waiting was curiosity satisfied.

It seems that Rexall is a name under which will be manufactured a line of medicines—a special and separate remedy for each human ailment. Each preparation will be made from a formula that specialists of highest standing in their particular line of practice have demonstrated to be most efficient.

There are few who take interest in advertisements that realize what time, brains and money such a plan of advertising costs. The average reader thinks an advertisement good or bad, as it strikes him, but he should go back to the beginning before he criticises. Take, for example, this Rexall advertising; there is no evidence here of haphazard work. The whole scheme must have been evolved by hard thought, and probably required months to perfect the idea. Each advertisement is one of a series, and each ad must fit in consecutive order to form part of the complete whole.

To work out such a plan, it is necessary to have artists, and good ones at that—it is necessary to have a trained corps of writers. There is no business so full of detail and no business where a slight error is so costly. It is only once in a long time that an advertiser makes a hit with the public, and then, although his advertising may be particularly strong, unless his goods have special merit, he might as well throw up his hands.

Merit, Mr. E. H. Wolff tells us, has had much conideration in the preparation of the Rexall Remedies, and a novel feature will be the introduction of a guarantee.

With each package bearing the name Rexall is a warrant , under the personal signature of the firm, to refund price of purchase if the remedy does not fulfill all that is claimed for it. According to the statement of the firm, they do not want money from those who are not benefited, and when such is the case, it is their wish to refund the money, which, they claim, belongs to the purchaser. There seems to be no humbug about this guarantee; it appears to be absolute and unequivocal.

Speaking of the free distribution of the 1000 packages of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, Mr. Wolff said:

"There is much Dyspepsia in and around St. Louis, and we want everyone to know about Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. We have such great faith in the curative properties of this preparation that we took this distribution as one means of introduction. When one person is relieved or cured he will tell his friends and neighbors and this free distribution will at once show merits of the remedy."

We feel that Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. are to be congratulated on their methods, and we predict success for the Rexall preparations. Their warrant is so honest as to convince one upon reading it. No one could afford to offer such a broad guarantee if they were not absolutely certain of the quality of their goods. The guarantee means simply this: You can try this remedy at their expense; if it does what they claim for it, you pay, if you are not satisfied you get your money back. Nothing could be fairer, and such methods deserve success.

PUBLIC DOCKS ON THE LEVEE

Thomas Warren Preparing Ordinance to Set Aside Thirteen Blocks.

Thomas Warren, secretary of the East End Protective Association, whose office is at 200 North Second street, has prepared an ordinance giving control of that part of levee which lies between Washington avenue and Plum street to the St. Louis Dock, Railway and Warehouse Co.

Warren says the ordinance will be introduced in the Council soon after the new Municipal Assembly is organized. Probably next week, he says, articles of incorporation will be filed by the company with the recorder and secretary of state.

Warren says hewill be one of the stockholders, but he refused Saturday morning to say who his associates would be.

The ordinance Mr. Warren has drawn grants a 99-year-lease on the 13 blocks of river front to allow the company to "erect and maintain public docks, railways, stores, warehouses and manufacturing or power plants thereon." It also gives the company the privileges of crossing or connecting with all intervening streets and alleys.

The ordinance specifies that the main floor of the warehouses are to be about on a level with Main street and the east wall of the warehouses are to be out in the water sufficiently to allow steamers to land freight and passengers directly. The railroad tracks are to run through the warehouses on the surface.

In return for this privilege, the most important ever asked of the city, the ordinance provides that the company shall pay $5000 a year for the first five years, $15,000 the second five, $35,000 the third five, $40,000 the fourth five and $45,000 a year for the remaining 69 years of the lease.

Mr. Warren said Saturday that it would cost at least $10,000,000 to carry out the plan, and possibly it would require $20,000,000. He said that if he and his associates can get the franchise they can get the money.

Mr. Warren explained, however, that the company would not be incorporated for more than $100,000, possibly for only $50,000, and possibly for even less. "We can increase it, if we get the franchise," said Mr. Warren.

Mr. Warren, in reply to questions, stated that no definite plans for the construction of the warehouses had been formed and no architects employed to draft them. "There's no use going to that expense right away," observed Mr. Warren.

Mr. Warren is seriously opposed to the plan of the Terminal Association to enlarge its elevated trackage on the levee. He protested against council bill No. 266 which recently passed that body and is now in the House. It gives the Terminal the right to construct two additional elevated tracks from Chestnut street south.

"That will cover what is left of the levee surface if the Assembly permits the bill to go through," said Mr. Warren. "In return for disfiguring the levee, the Terminal need only pay $5000 a year to the city. If our bill is passed we will improve the levee and give the city more money for the privilege."

IN USE SINCE 1844.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—The One That Cures and Is Prescribed by Leading Doctors:

Whenever you have a case of cough, cold, bronchitis, croup, asthma, whooping cough, measles, hoarseness or sore lungs in the family, and the doctor wishes to give the patient speedy relief and a positive cure, he prescribes the medicine that always cures—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

In these days of substitution the public should be very careful about substitutes and new remedies claiming to have been in use for many years, when in fact they were never heard of before.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup contains no injurious drugs and leaves no bad after effects. There is no case of hoarseness, cough, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, quinsy, whooping cough, croup, measles, grip or consumption that cannot be cured speedily by its proper use. Thousands of letters have been received from grateful people who were cured by it. It has been a household remedy for over fifty years, and there is scarcely a home or a cabin in the United States that has not a bottle of this wonderful cure in the medicine chest.

LAST OF RYAN DIVIDENDS.

Payment of About 15 Per Cent Will Be Made in Ten Days.

United States Marshal Morsey announces that the John J. Ryan depositors will receive their last dividends in about ten days. From the claims and certificates filed by the 12,000 depositors, it is thought that the payment will amount to about 15 per cent.

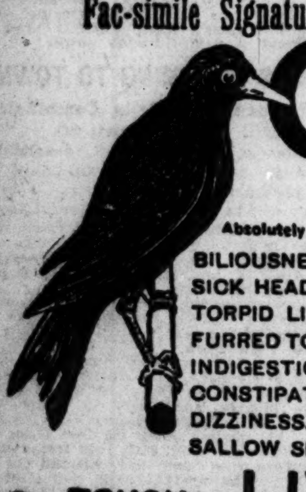

The list for sending remittances has been arranged alphabetically, and the names near the top of the list will receive remittances first.

Big Fire in Joliet.

JOLIET, Ill., April 4.—The Bates Machine Co.'s works, one of Joliet's main industries, had a narrow escape from destruction early today. Fire totally destroyed the foundry, entailing a loss of $50,000, partially insured. The pattern warehouse, containing $100,000 worth of patterns and the machine shop, were saved. The fire caught from the coke oven in the foundry.

Said One Woman to Another

"Queer, isn't it, what creatures of habit we women are? We get in the habit of doing certain things and keep on doing them year after year, even when we have been told time and time again of a better way."

And so it is. Take for example soda crackers, or biscuit, probably there isn't a woman in the land who wouldn't say she knew all about Uneeda Biscuit, but as a matter of fact millions of women know nothing about them, or they would never again buy loose soda crackers in a paper bag.

When soda crackers are packed the ordinary way every cracker must be handled several times before it leaves the bakery. When the cracker box reaches the grocer, he, of course, uncovers it, the air and dust and flies get in and destroy the crispness and flavor of the crackers. Every time there is a call for crackers they must be handled again and again.

Every woman knows the above to be true, for she has seen it over and over again. Why then does anyone continue to buy crackers in this way?

It is not the price, for Uneeda Biscuit are only 5 cents.

It is not a question of taste, because everyone likes Uneeda Biscuit.

It is habit—simply habit.

Every woman by this time ought to know the advantages of buying Uneeda Biscuit. They are baked in the cleanest of bakeries, under the most rigid system of cleanliness and care. When they come from the oven they are immediately packed in In-er-seal Packages, an airtight, germ and moisture proof covering, which not only protects them from contamination, but actually preserves their original flavor until the package is opened.

Economy, cleanliness, healthfulness and delicacy are all found in Uneeda Biscuit in In-er-seal Package with red and white seal, and every careful housewife ought to know these facts, and knowing them should insist on having Uneeda Biscuit.

UNION BANK ROBBERS TELL FOR THE FIRST TIME OF THEIR DOUBLE FLIGHT ACROSS THE CONTINENT

Rudolph and Collins Were on a Big Lark in St. Louis While Organized Posses Were Scouting the Country for Them.

WHERE THE ROBBERS AND POLICE WERE

Where the Robbers Were.	Date.	Where the Police Were
Stanton, Mo.	Jan. 24	Stanton, Mo.
Potosi, Mo	Jan. 25	Beaufort, Mo.
Memphis, Tenn	Jan. 26	Potosi, Mo.
En route to Hartford	Jan. 29	Flat River, Mo.
Hartford	Jan. 30	Hilderbrand's Cave, Mo.
Hartford	Feb. 1	Near St. Louis.
Hartford	Feb. 1-15	Somewhere in Missouri.
Hartford	March 2	Hartford.

HOW ROBBERS TRAVELED 6000 MILES

From Stanton to Potosi, about 50 miles, on horseback. Twice en route met by searching parties.

Potosi to Bismarck, 15 miles, on foot.

Bismarck to Allenville, 50 miles, by freight.

Allenville to Poplar Bluff, 35 miles, by freight.

Poplar Bluff to Jonesboro, 40 miles, by freight.

Jonesboro to Memphis, 50 miles, by freight.

Memphis to Hartford, via Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburg and New York, 1400 miles, by Pullman palace cars.

Hartford to St. Louis and return, 2400 miles, by Pullman palace cars.

Returned to St. Louis as prisoners, 1000 miles.

Total distance traveled, estimated, 6040 miles.

While organized posses with bloodhounds scoured Missouri and the police of the whole country were on the qui vive to take them dead or alive, Rudolph and Collins, the Union Bank robbers, asknowledge they were in St. Lou's on a lark.

Feb. 2, according to their story told to a Sunday Post-Dispatch reporter, they left New York on the Big Four railroad and arrived at Union Station Tuesday, Feb. 3, about 7 o'clock in the evening.

Spent $1000 in Two Days.

A resort in Jefferson avenue was visited and at the expense of $1000 for two days they held high revel.

Champagne flowed freely. Singing and dancing were kept up day and night.

"We had nothing but money," Collins says, "and when we got off the train we heard a newsboy calling, 'Extra! Extra! All about the Union Bank robbers!'

"I handed the boy a dollar and told him to keep the change. I was startled at the look he gave me. Fearing that he might have recognized us we lost no time getting out of the vicinity.

"Our stay in St. Louis would have been a longer one were it not for an article we read in the Post-Dispatch.

"In looking up the papers to see what was printed regarding us, I discovered in the Post-Dispatch of Monday, Feb. 2, an item which stated we had been seen the previous Wednesday at the depot. A train caller, according to the report, had seen two men answering our description, get off a train from De Soto.

"Realizing that Chief Desmond's men would be hot on our trail if we remained longer, we returned to Hartford, Conn., post haste. During the two days we were here, we kept indoors most of the time.

About the queerest experience the marauders had during their several visits to St. Louis since the date that marked the eventful bank robbery, was when they themselves were robbed.

With their ill-gotten money they went in a state of chaos. All about the room were their garments, with the pockets turned inside out.

The prowler was rewarded with $30, which Collins had left in his vest pocket, but overlooked several thousand dollars which was under Rudolph's pillow.

Being robbed was such a novelty to the bank robbers that it took some time for them to believe that it really happened. At first they thought their bank roll, too, was gone. When they found the money still under the pillow they gave vent to their joy by yelling and laughing so loudly that other roomers in the place were attracted.

When the landlord asked the cause of their hilarity they replied that some one had stolen their car fare.

"If we had gone over to Central Station and made complaint it would have been the same as throwing a rock into jail," declared Rudolph, humorously. "Besides, we had plenty of coin.

"However, just now we are up against it, ing from 9 to 10 and in the afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock.

During their exercise time they do not mingle with the other habitues who are at present charges of the city.

Collins has found a companion in a prisoner who wears Uncle Sam's uniform and is being held on a charge of desertion from the ranks during service in the Philippines. The friendship that has sprung up between Collins and his deserter-friend and is probably due to the fact that the former served two years in the Philippines in one of the Texas regiments.

Three weeks ago when Rudolph and Collins were brought here to wait arraignment they were light and bouyant in spirits. They did not seem to care what happened to them and treated their arrest much as a huge joke. They chatted gayly with the crowd of visitors. Now they take little time to talk to anyone, particularly the many curiosity seekers who daily call at the jailer's office for passes to see them

It would be an easy matter to make money with Rudolph and Collins if they were placed on exhibition, as their worshipers amongst readers of trashy novels and the class that always seek people who have gained notoriety are legion.

As it is, many of the visitors who call on the young desperadoes give them a little change for their trouble of standing up to the cage and conversing.

Hordes of sheriffs, constables and petty officials from country townships throughout the state are pouring in constantly and viewing Rudolph and Collins.

This contingent makes every effort to couple the prisoners with crimes unheard of heretofore. In most cases the aim of the officers is merely to gain an audience with the widely heralded culprits.

Both men seem to now realize the gravity of the offense with which they are charged. The charge of murder is, however, the only one they fear. They do not mind the robbery charge, but feel that their necks are in danger of stretching hemp, unless some unforeseen streak of good luck comes to their assistance.

Whether or not they shall meet their fate on the gallows hinges on their ability to prove that Pinkerton Detective Schumacher started firing first, as they allege.

"If we wanted to kill Schumacher we could have done it Jan. 22, when he came to my mother's house for dinner," Rudolph declares. "I knew when he came in, in the guise of a hunter, and asked for dinner, that he was a person who was spying on us. I did not fear him. We had all our money which we stole from the bank planted, and I knew that they would have a hard time in proving that we were the robbers.

"I think Schumacher feared us. That is the reason he took the shells out of his gun while we ate. He wanted to give us the impression that he did not come for any hostile purpose, and to demonstrate that was the reason he took the shells out, and for a bluff he says, 'I don't like to see a loaded gun around the house when there are small children about.'

"When he, Schumacher, returned two days later with his five assistants, and they opened fire with their guns, we had no other alternative but to shoot in self defense.

"In the house at the time when we were raided there were my mother and several children of the family.

Their Perilous Trip.

"When the officers came we could see them with their guns in their hands several hundred yards away.

Rudolph and Collins allege that until now they have never given a concise and true account of the perilous trip to evade the law.

On horseback they rode to Petosi and from there to Bismark they went on a blind baggage. Arriving at Bismark about midnight Sunday, they hung around the Iron Mountain Railroad tracks and about 2 o'clock in the morning caught a freight train that took them to Allendale, where they arrived at daylight.

In a barn they sought rest until noon, after having something to eat, they burned their overcats in a bonfire which they kindled alongside the railroad tracks, thinking that this would remove some marks of possible recognition.

While awaiting for another freight train they were approached by a brakeman who discovered that Rudolph had two big revolvers protruding from under his coat. When questioned by the brakeman about themselves, they told him that they were Wabash detectives looking for car breakers and said they were on the way to Poplar Bluffs, where they understood there was a possibility of catching several law breakers.

The story went with the railroad man and he permitted the young desperadoes to ride in an empty boxcar to Poplar Bluff, which point they reached about 3 a. m. Monday.

From there they walked to Neeleyville, a distance of 15 miles. While en route they become exhausted and laid down for five hours beside the road and slept on the ground, which was nearly covered with snow.

They resumed their journey and at 7 p. m. caught a freight that took them to Hoxie, Ark., where they arrived shortly before midnight.

Their next stop was at Memphis, Tenn., where they got in about daylight Tuesday. Going into a lunch room they sat down and ate as only famished men can. The waitress who served them was reading a paper when they entered, and was somewhat put out because she had to be disturbed in waiting on customers. Rudolph asked her jokingly what she was reading, and she told him to hurry up and give his order, as she was reading about the bank robbers' escape. This had the desired effect, and they nearly choked in downing their victuals, and hurried away as soon as they had eaten enough.

They began to feel easier, and seeing by the papers that the posses and bloodhounds were far away had the temerity to take a Pullman car to Cincinnati, where they only waited an hour before taking the train to Pittsburg.

Thursday, Jan. 29, they arrived in New York, and at 10 a. m. went to Hartford, where, with the exception of their trip to St. Louis, they remained until captured.

on a big debauch, starting New Year's day at Hot Springs, where they played the races and gambled extensively. Poker had a fascination for them and they won.

Robbers Were Robbed.

Collins has a hobby for shows. He expressed a desire to see a good performance and with this purpose in view they come to St. Louis. A room was rented on Pine street in the neighborhood where furnished rooms abound. One morning the two men arose and found the apartment and could use any portion of it to good advantage."

The truth of this statement is amply borne out in the fact that both prisoners have to exist on the same diet afforded the rest of the offenders incarcerated in the city bastile.

THE FIRST WIRELESS TELEGRAPH NEWSPAPER

Bornat Avalon, Santa Catalina Island on March 25.

Wireless telegraphy supplies all the news of the world printed in a 11x8 newspaper at Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal. The paper is called "The Wireless," and is the Avalon edition of the Los Angeles Times. The latter paper describes the birth of its offspring as follows:

"The only daily newspaper in the world publishing sure-enough dispatches transmitted by wireless telegraph had its birth yesterday morning at Avalon, Santa Catalina Island. The event is a unique one in the history of journalism, and marks the beginning of an epoch in the dissemination of news in isolated places.

"The name of the infant journal is 'The Wireless,' appropriately so called on account of the method by which it receives the news of the busy world.

"The unique sheet begins its career in the shape of a three-column folio, the exact size of the pages being 11x8 inches. In this convenient form is crowded, in addition to the local news of Avalon, an epitome of the local and general news appearing simultaneously in the Los Angeles Times, thus giving the residents of the island and visitors to its lovely shores a comprehensive synopsis of all the principal news of the world, hours before the arrival of the steamer from the mainland with the Los Angeles morning paper.

"'The Wireless' is a Times enterprise. It is published in Avalon by the Los Angeles Times for the benefit of the people of the island, who, previous to the installation of the wireless telegraph service across the channel, were cut off from all communication with the mainland save by steamer and sail boat, or carrier pigeon, the latter means of communication being of little practical service to the islanders and seldom used.

"The installation of a system of wireless telegraphy between White's Point, near San Pedro, and Avalon, was accomplished by the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Co. some months ago. Many messages, mostly private, have been flashed back and forth since the opening of the wireless 'line,' but the people on the island in general had no means of benefiting by the service so long as there was no medium for presenting the news to them after transmission to the 'Enchanted Isle.' It was to fill this 'long-felt-want' that the daily 'Wireless' newspaper was called into being.

"Tuesday night the news gathered by the Times local reporters and correspondents, as well as that furnished the Times by the Associated Press and by direct wire from its correspondents throughout the country, and the foreign dispatches that come by cable under the oceans and the overland wires of the Western Union Telegraph Co., was condensed in the Times office and sent by Western Union wire to White's Point and thence transmitted by wireless telegraph by the operator of the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Co. at White's Point station across the channel to the wireless station at Avalon. The operator at Avalon wrote it down as fast as it ticked off to him and forwarded it by messenger to the office of "The Wireless" newspaper, where the dispatches were edited, set up in type and printed in time to be distributed to Avalon readers shortly after breakfast.

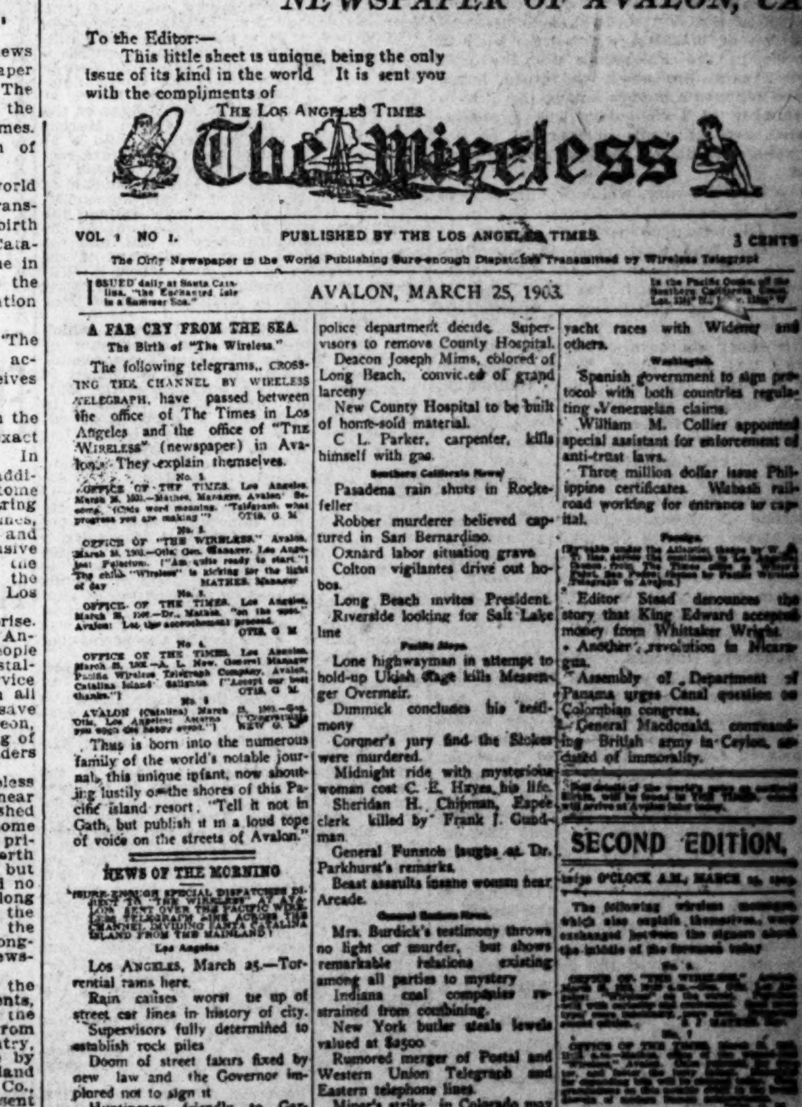

"This process will be repeated and improved upon from day to day to meet all the requirements of the situation.

"The first budget of news for "The Wireless" was filed with the Western Union in this city in the early morning. At 3:12 o'clock the whole of it had been received at White's Point. At 5:30 o'clock a. m. it had been transmitted to Avalon. Before 10:30 o'clock it was in print, and the first edition of the paper exhausted and a second already under way. This was quick work, considering the disadvantages under which the first edition was gotten out. As soon as everything gets to working smoothly, it will be possible for 'The Wireless' to go to press before breakfast.

"Surely Avalon will put on metropolitan airs this summer with its own morning paper. No event in the history of the island has created such a stir as the first appearance of The Wireless yesterday morning. The first edition of 1000 copies was disposed of in less than half an hour, and a second edition gobbled up with equal haste without succeeding in supplying the demand. As much as $1 was offered for single copies when the second edition was exha[illegible] the world, in successful operation and doing a regular commercial business, is that operating between White's Point and Avalon. The originator and owner of this system is the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Co., of which Gen. A. L. New of Denver is president and general manager. The Pacific wireless telegraph system has no connection with the Marconi system, and never has been. While the same general principles apply to the operation of each, the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Co. uses apparatus that is entirely different from that employed by Marconi. The practicability of the system for which the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Co. holds patents has been demonstrated by actual use, and the plans of the company are to establish a system of wireless telegraphy that will cover the entire Pacific coast and the islands adjacent thereto. The business of the White's Point station has grown to such proportions that the company is about to establish a more central station in San Pedro to co-operate with the Avalon station. The general offices of the company are in Los Angeles.

LIKE SOUTH AFTER THE WAR

Commissioner Ide Tells of Conditions That Exist in the Philippines at Present.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—H. C. Ide, a member of the Philippine commission, who has arrived here from Manila on leave of absence, en route to his former home in Vermont, said in an interview that when he left the islands peace blessed them, and he was happy to say that the health boards, under the immediate direction of the Philippine commission, had stamped out the Asiatic cholera, which caused the death of 100,000 natives.

The same conditions exist in the Philippines that existed in the south and southwest after the civil war. There have always been bands of ladrones, who roam over the country, robbing their own people, and the government is obliged to cope with them by constabularly. He said the insular constabularly numbered 6500 men, who were commanded by 500 officers. These men nearly always captured the lawbreakers.

Conditions in the Philippines are constantly improving. One meets with discouraging features, but after six months you will see marvelous improvements in the development of education, the acquisition of the English language, the construction of roads, the creation of public improvement and police and civil courts. When one looks at the progress that has been made it will be wondered that so much has been accomplished."

EXPERIMENTS WITH TOBACCO

United States Government Will Establish a Farm at Marion, Ala., to Try Out the Land.

MARION, Ala., April 4.—The United States government has secured lands and a barn from Charles H. Greer for the purpose of testing the tobacco lands located by the surveyors who completed their survey some two months ago.

The discovery of these tobacco lands which the tobacco experts say ought to produce a filler equal to that of Cuba, was a total surprise to the people. They were naturally looking for coal and iron, petroleum and phosphate beds. The latter was located and will prove a great profit to the county when developed.

The government officials were impressed by the report on the tobacco soil and through the influence of Congressman Underwood decided to make a practical test of growing the weed. Messrs. Henderson and Clark, expert tobacco growers, who have been stationed in Connecticut, will be in charge. They arrived last night and will begin Monday preparing the lands for planting. They say the indications point to a most successful crop and they have every reason to believe the soil will come up to the expectation of the surveyors. The map of the survey has not yet been published, but it is known that these tobacco lands begin around Marion and extend in a northeastern direction through the county, covering a large acreage.

THE LAW ABOUT TOBACCO

Construed by Attorneys for the Treasury Department for the Benefit of Revenue Officers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 4.—A construction of the law regarding the sale of tobacco by farmers has just been received by the local revenue officers, and clearly defines those who are exempt from the tax. The following from the circular construing the law is self explanatory:

"The difficulty of a lucid interpretation of the statutes relating to the sale of leaf tobacco by farmers has been that such restrictions have been coupled with with special tax provisions and not contained in any separate statutes. The tenth sub-division of section No. 3244, revised statutes, imposing special tax, exempted a farmer from paying the tax as a dealer in leaf tobacco, but he was required to confine his sales to tobacco of his own production and that received by him from tenants on his land. This statute also provided that nothing therein should be construed to exempt the farmer or planter from the special tax who, by peddling or otherwise, sold his leaf tobacco directly to consumers.

"Congress has never imposed a tax on natural leaf tobacco in the hands of farmers, but only upon leaf tobacco which they may have sold directly to consumers.

IOWA MAN WHO IS OFTEN TAKEN FOR WM. J. BRYAN

E. C. WALSH.

He Is E. C. Walsh and the Resemblance Is Most Remarkable.

E. C. Walsh, an attorney and prominent citizen of Clinton, Io., is stopping at the Planters' Hotel for a few days while in St. Louis on business, and is being much commented upon for his resemblance to William Jennings Bryan of Omaha, the silver leader.

Mr. Walsh's resemblance to Bryan was noted by his acquaintances as soon as the pictures of the famous presidential candidate were put out, and on his first trip away from home after that his amusing experiences began.

In Chicago, Boston, Newport, New York, Buffio and other cities Mr. Walsh has been accused by hotel clerks and reporters of traveling "incog" and his denials only met with the statement, "Well that is all right, but just let us in and we will keep it still until you are gone."

Last summer at New York and Newport reporters followed him until they became tiresome and he could not shake them off. He even had to produce documents to show that he was not the famous Nebraskan.

Several times Mr. Walsh has made speeches on trains to satisfy passengers who thought they were being slighted.

While a Democrat, Mr. Walsh was never very enthusiastic over the silver issue, but he did not let his lukewarmness keep him from voting for the man whom he resembles so closely.

MANY SOUTHERN OFFICERS RETURNING FROM ORIENT

The Three Cavalry and Five Infantry Regiments About to Return to the United States Embrace Many Southerners Who Entered the Service as Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Eight regiments of United States troops, three of cavalry and five of infantry, which have been in service in the Philippines for the past three years, are about to return home. These regiments include among the officers a number of Louisianians and Mississippians, some of whom entered the service as volunteers during the Spanish-American war.

The First Cavalry, which will be ordered to the department of Texas, has in it First Lieutenant Robert M. Nolan of Louisiana, who was appointed a captain in the Ninth immunes, and who subsequently saw service in the Philippines as captain of the Thirty-eighth Infantry of volunteers.

The other southern officers are as follows: Maj. Eben Swift, Texas; Capt. Oscar J. Brown, Georgia; Capt. William S. Scott, Texas; Capt. Rosey C. Cabell, Arkansas; Capt. Edmund S. Wright, Georgia; Capt. William G. Sills, Alabama.

First lieutenants—Robert C. Foy, Alabama; Henry R. Richmond, Tennessee; Charles O. Thomas, Jr., Tennessee.

Second lieutenants—Quartermaster and Commissary Horace N. Munroe, Georgia; Quartermaster and Commissary David L. Roscoe, Tennessee; and, lastly, John C. Pegram of Virginia, son of the late Gen. Pegram of the Confederate service.

Sixth Cavalry Southern Officers.

The Sixth cavalry, which has been ordered to the department of Dakota, has a Louisiana representative in the person of Albert J. Woude, who was, however, appointed from the District of Columbia, though a native of the Pelican state. First Lieutenant Woude was a captain in the Tenth immunes, and subsequently went to the Philippines as second lieutenant of the Thirty-eighth United States infantry.

Another lieutenant in this regiment is Beverly A. Read of Texas, a son-in-law of Senator Money of Mississippi, who was private secretary of the late Congressman Culbertson, father of the present Senator Culbertson. Lieut. Read was appointed in the volunteer army at the time of the breaking out of hostilities between this country and Spain.

The other southern officers are: Maj. John Pitcher, Texas; Capt. William W. Forsyth, Georgia; Capt. F. Steele, Alabama; Capt. Robert L. Howze, Texas.

The only officer from Mississippi in the Fifth Regiment of Cavalry, among the returning troops, which has been ordered to the Department of Colorado, is First Lieut. Albert D. Dockery, quartermaster and commissary of the third squad, Company G. Lieut. Dockery is a graduate of the military academy at West Point.

The other southern officers are: Capt. Roger B. Bryan, Tennessee; Capt. John M. Jenkins of South Carolina, son of Gen. Jenkins of the Confederacy; Capt. Lawrence M. Fleming, Georgia; Capt. George B. Pritchard, Jr., Georgia; Capt. Henry C. Whitehead, Texas; First Lieut. William S. Valentine, Texas; Hu. B. Meyers, Tennessee; Karion C. Raysor, Texas; Charles E. Martin, Arkansas.

Louisiana is represented in the First Regiment of Infantry, which has been ordered to the Department of the Lakes, by Capt. [illegible]gram Whitworth, a graduate of the [illegible]st Point Military Academy. The other [illegible]thern officers are: Maj. Frank D. L. [illegible]ington, Georgia; Capt. the Infantry and Cavalry school of Fort Leavenworth in 1895, having entered the regular army as a private in 1883; Capt. Americus Mitchel of Alabama, a graduate of the Military Academy, and Capt. George F. Baltzell of Florida; First Lieutenants Ezekiel J. Williams of Georgia, Henry A. Hanigan of Texas, John W. Wright of the District of Columbia, son of Gen. Marcus J. Wright of the Confederacy, who is at present in charge of the Confederate records in the war department; Joseph K. Partello of Georgia, William S. Sinclair of Texas, Paul W. Beck of Texas, Vincent M. Elmore, Jr., of Alabama, who entered the volunteer army as first lieutenant of the Second Alabama Infantry in 1898, and the regular army as second lieutenant of the Fifth Infantry in 1901, and Albert S. Williams of Alabama; Second Lieutenant Noble J. Wiley of Alabama, son of Congressman Wiley.

The Tenth Regiment of Infantry, which has been ordered to the department of Columbia, has as Mississippi's representative Second Lieutenant John M. Gilbert of that state, who is a graduate of the Military Academy. This is the regiment to which Lieut. Algernon E. Sartoris, grandson of Gen. U. S. Grant, was attached, but from which he has since resigned.

Louisiana is represented in this regiment nby First Lieutenant J. E. Morris, who entered the volunteer service July 8, 1898, as Captain of the Second United States Infantry, and was honorably mustered out June 22, 1901; was appointed to the position of first lieutenant, Thirty-eighth United States Infantry, Aug. 17, 1899, and went to the Philippines with his regiment; while there was advanced to the position of captain July 20, 1900, and was mustered out of the volunteer service June 30, 1901. He was appointed first lieutenant in the permanent establishment Feb. 2, 1901.

The other Southern officers are: Capts. William A. Phillips, Texas; James V. Heidt, Georgia; first lieutenants, Romulus F. Walton, Alabama; Koel R. Lee, Alabama; William Taylor, Tennessee; Robert C. Humer, Georgia; second lieutenant, Hiram M. Cooper, Georgia.

The highest ranking field officer in the regular army from the South is Lieutenant-Colonel George A. Cornish of Alabama of the Twenty-sixth Regiment of Infantry, that has been ordered to the department of Texas. He was graduated from the Military Academy July 1, 1869, and was advanced to his present position May 28, 1902. The state of Mississippi, in this regiment, is represented by Lieut. Goodwin Compton, who enlisted in the volunteer service a scorporal and sergeant of Company I, Fourth Tennessee Infantry, in 1898; was subsequently transferred to the Thirty-eighth Regiment of Volunteers, as sergeant of Company D, and went to the Philippines. Was promoted April 19 to second lieutenant of the regiment and was honorably mustered out June 30, 1901. Became attached to the permanent establishment as second lieutenant in February, 1901.

The other Southern officers are: First lieutenants, Frederick W. Benteen, Georgia; Mack Richardson, Tennessee; second lieutenant, Edwin P. Thompson, Texas.

Neither Louisiana nor Mississippi is represented in the Second Regiment of Infantry, which has just completed its term of service in the Philippines. The regiment has been ordered to the department of the Colorado.

AFTER OIL COMPANIES.

United States Government Will Investigate Some Big Advertisers.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The postoffice department will order an investigation into the character and operations of the oil companies and the mining organizations that are flooding the country with advertisements of stock at very low prices and a practical guarantee of liberal dividends and rapid increases in the value of the stocks.

It is charged that several companies are advertising Texas oil stocks in the East and have no property in the fields whatever and are purely swindling schemes, even more bold in their operations than the turf investment companies that were recently forced to the wall.

C. I. Hood Co.'s Office News

Office of C. I. Hood Co., Thursday, April 2, 1903.

To the Publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In looking over our mail, it occurs to us that the people of St. Louis and vicinity would be interested to see and read the testimonial letters we are receiving daily.

You would be surprised, not only by the number of these testimonals, but also by the inteligence of the writers. As to the former, it is absolutely as stated below. As to the latter, probably no other proprietary medicine is so generally used by all classes of people. It is the great reliance of the poor man and woman in the humble dwelling; of the more fortunate in the tidy cottage; of the thrifty and the shiftless farmer and laborer; and of the wealthy in their mansions and palaces. In fact all classes, of all ages and both sexes, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Its sales surpass those of any similar proprietary medcine; its tmedicinal merit is unapproachable; while its cures of simple ailments, and of diseases incurable by others, are best told by those who have taken it and been cured.

Following is an accurate tabular statement of the letters and testimonials we received last week:

We publish below a few of these recent letters taken at random, just as they came. They cover a wide range of complaints, and must impress upon you the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, as it is the best Spring Medicine that money can buy:

NOTHING LIKE HOOD'S IN SPRING.

Office of City Clerk,
Sedalia, Mo., March 4, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring for the last three years. When I first commenced taking it my system was run down so that I could scarcely do my own work. I would have to lie down in the morning before I could finish my work and take a rest, then get up after about an hour and finish. Now I am feeling a great deal better and do all my own work without feeling badly at all. There is nothing in my estimation that could take the place of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a nerve tonic and for general debility.—MRS. W. H. PAUL, 228 S. Missouri avenue.

"THE HOOD OF HEALTH."

Clinton, Mo., March 7, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sirs: I will gladly tell you of my personal experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cured me of that dreadful eruption known as Herpes, more commonly known as shingles. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and took only two bottles. It seemed to cure me until the following spring when the eruption made its appearance again. I then took four bottles with splendid results, and I think a permanent cure, as it has been five years with no sign of Herpes. It has not only cured me but no doubt prolonged my aged father's life. I always call it "The Hood of health."—EMMA D. REDFORD, Clinton, Mo.

SURE CURE FOR ECZEMA.

"Humphreys, Mo., Mar. 15, 1903: Gentlemen—I consider that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a sure cure for eczema. I had it on my hands so badly I could not use them. I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and in one week was so much better that I could get along without help. Now at the end of one month I don't see any symptoms of it. I even do my washing. Hood's Sarsaparilla is all they claim it is."—MRS. E. A. ABERNATHEY.

TAKES HOOD'S EVERY SPRING.

Galveston, Tex., Feb. 13, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sir: I was a constant sufferer with my stomach and was advised to try Hood's Pills. I did so. It was in the month of April. I had entirely lost my appetite and would get up from the table disgusted. I started with the Pills, and in a few days commenced on Hood's Sarsaparilla. By the time I had finished the first bottle I was a new man. By the end of that summer I felt better and stronger than I had done for years. From the time I started on your medicine I had gained 24 pounds in weight, even though it was a very hot summer. I have been married now ten years, and every spring my wife, myself and my little boy take a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This has always kept us in good health all through the summer. Any one who suffers the way I did, take my advice and give this medicine a fair and square trial, then I am sure they will always be ready to say a few words in praise of Hood's Pills and Sarsaparilla.—J. G. SMITH, 418 Tremont St.

WAS ENTIRELY CURED.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 5, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sirs: By personal experience I know Hood's Sarsaparilla to be the best medicine for catarrh. My head and nose were all stopped up. I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after a few bottles I felt much better. I took a few more bottles and was entirely cured. Thanking you for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me.—FOREST E. DORSEY, 2012 So. 10th st.

ONE OF THE MOST WONDERFUL.

Butler, Mo., Feb. 27, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla one of the most wonderful blood remedies in the world. I can't praise it enough for the good it has done to suffering humanity the world over. It purifies and strengthens the system as no other medicine has done or can do.—LEE SMITH, R. F. D., No. 5, Butler, Mo.

RECOMMENDED TO EVERY ONE.

Newton, Kansas, March 1, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sir: I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla considerably and find it to be an excellent medicine to purify the blood and tone up the entire system. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to every one.—NONA DIMELING, 103 Main St.

FROM REV. MR. McADOO.

Topeka, Kan., March 6, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Sirs: I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla a wonderful medicine. For years I suffered from kidney complaint. One day a friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so with the best of results. After I had taken one bottle I felt better. I continued until I had taken five bottles, and today I am a well man. I can gratefully say that I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have told several of my friends about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and they have tried it, and they give it a great name. I always keep a bottle in my house. It builds up the system, purifies the blood and gives a good appetite.—REV. GEORGE McADO, 1318 Madison St.

The Only

Spring Medicine

That Keeps on Selling

Because It Keeps on Curing, is

Hood's

Sarsaparilla.

WAS TOLD SHE COULD NEVER WALK AGAIN.

Leavenworth, Kan., March, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Please allow space in your testimonials for this letter. I can most assuredly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as a positive cure for rheumatism. Seven years ago I had rheumatism in the worst form and nothing seemed to give me permanent relief. Was told that I would never be able to do my housework or walk again. For six months I kept my bed only to be carried to a chair to sit up awhile, not more than one hour. My little boy had been to the druggist to get a prescription filled and brought me one of your books. I was reading the testimonials and noticed one signed by a friend of mine. That very evening I sent to the druggist for a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. By the time I used the one bottle could stand and by the time I used six more bottles I could do my own housework and have never had a severe atack of rheumatism since. In the spring I generally get a bottle of your medicine. I advise all who are afflicted as I was to just give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial and they will surely be made thankful and happy. I feel I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla. MRS. LOUISA BUMPS, 606 Shawnee street.

THE TRIAL OF MOTHERHOOD.

Abilene Texas, March 12, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

I am the mother of nine children, now in age from babyhood to manhood and womanhood, and all through the trials of motherhood I have found great relief from Hood's Sarsaparilla.—MATTIE DULANEY.

HIGH PRAISE.

Butler, Mo., Feb. 24, 1903.

C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sirs: We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla every year and I think there is no medicine as good for purifying the blood and we can highly praise it.—ANNA COPELAND.

FIGHTING THE SAND DEMON

Picturesque Efforts Undertaken by United States Government Forest Bureau.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The business of fighting the sand demon is at present engaging the attention of the government forset bureau, which has newly undertaken this picturesque work in certain parts of the United States, along the sea coast and on the shores of the great lakes, where the dry land flows literally like water, engulfing houses, swallowing farms and doing a vast amount of other damage, which, once accomplished, is wholly beyond remedy.

Along the coast of southern Virginia and South Carolina a chain of immense sand dunes stretches for scores of miles, endangering the life-saving stations and threatening destruction to much valuable private property. Steadily, though slowly, they are moving away from the shore over the land.

Various contrivances have been tried for fighting the monster, but up to the present time the only one found effective has been the planting of beach grass, by which the threatening dunes are transformed into grass-clad hills, stationary and immovable. This process is now to be supplemented, under the supervision of Uncle Sam's foresters, by tree planting, which under favorable conditions, will oblige the reformed and domesticated sand mountain to make itself useful as a producer of fuel.

The scene of the first experiment was Currituck County, N. C. About 50 acres of dunes were planted with beach grass in the spring of 1902, and already there is a fair growth. This spring trees will be planted over the same area, and there will be nothing further to be done except to await results. It is believed, however, that with a judicious selection of species the trees will thrive and that within a few years the sand hills will be covered with forests, productive of supplies of wood, which are much needed in that part of the country.

Meanwhile the government experts are doing similar work at various other points in the same region along 30 miles of coast, and in due time all of that shore line presumably will be protected by a fortifica[illegible] of tree-planted dunes, the once dan[illegible]us sand hill bei[illegible] firmly anchored by [illegible] to do duty as [illegible]

DEAFNESS CURED

Louisville Man Originates a Simple Little Device That Instantly Restores the Hearing—Fits Perfectly, Comfortably and Does Not Show.

190-PAGE BOOK FREE TELLS ALL ABOUT IT.

Since the discovery of a Louisville man it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for any one to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and cannot be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. George H. Wilson of Louisville, who was himself deaf and now hears as well as any one. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, is built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in every respect. It is so small that no one can see it, but, nevertheless, it collects all sound waves and diverts them against the drum head, causing you to hear perfectly. It will do this even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed, or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and, aside from the fact that it does not show, it never causes the hearer irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person, no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typhoid or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery, or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring and buzzing noises. It does this in a simple, sure and scientific way. The effect is immediate.

Let every person who needs this at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bonafide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station of life—clergymen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, society ladies, etc.—and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device; you will find among them the names of people in your own town or state, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write today and it will not be long before you are again hearing. Address, for the free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co., 681 Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

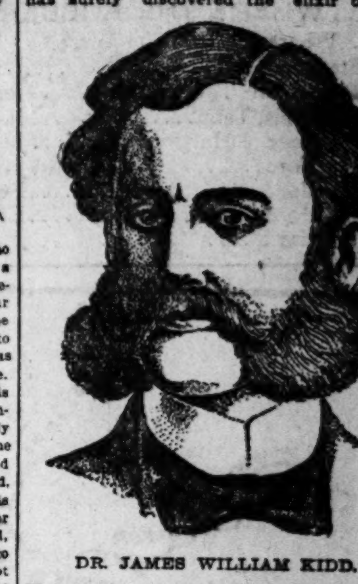

SICK MADE WELL WEAK MADE STRONG

Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered by Famous Doctor-Scientist That Cures Every Known Ailment.

Wonderful Cures Are Effected That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

The Remedy Is Free to All Who Send Name and Address.

After years of patient study, and delving into the dusty record of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 156 Baltes building, Fort Wayne, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has surely discovered the elixir of life.

DR. JAMES WILLIAM KIDD.

That he is able, with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seem to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free, to anyone who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs, or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of and the sure remedy for it will be sent you free by return mail.

How to Cure Blood Poison.

By a secret new way—Trial treatment and essay free to all—Send for it this very day.

If there be any man or woman who has blood poison, whether transmitted by parents or acquired by contact, they should write Prof. Fowler of New London, Conn., for a free trial treatment of his very remarkable new discovery that has caught like wildfire even going so far as to restore the bones of the nose and ears when they had rotted away by the terrible poison. It is no mercury, or iodide of potash, nothing to rub on and no simple liquid, tablet or pill but an herbaline compound entirely different from anything heretofore known. In magic-like fashion it cures blood poison in the primary, secondary or tertiary stage, copper colored spots, swelling of the glands, sores on the parts, pimples, sore throat, swollen groins, aches, old sores, ulcers, mucous patches in the mouth, loosening of the teeth, hair or eyebrows falling out and all the other signs of blood poison. It removes every blemish in a few days and cures permanently in a few weeks not only the blood poison itself but restores the stomach, liver, kidneys and heart to their normal condition thus again opening to you the gates of society, marriage and parenthood.

Do not put it off; do not experiment. Satisfy yourself that what the professor says is true by sending name and address today to Prof. F. C. Fowler, Box 691, New London, Conn., and he will send you at once (sealed and free from all marks) a full trial treatment of his discovery absolutely free, together with a valuable treatise "All About Blood Poison and its Cure." He asks for no money, simply the privilege of convincing you that what he has discovered will cure you, so lose no time in sending your address. Do so today and you will soon be cured.

MUTE CHILD HAD NARROW ESCAPE

A Farmer Had His Gun Raised to Fire Upon Her.

QUINCY, Ill., April 4.—Thomas Proctor of Newton tells an interesting story of the finding of his daughter Edna, a deaf mute, who ran away from the state institution. From Quincy he went to Jacksonville and inquired of the chief of police what was known of the missing girl. He was somewhat surprised to learn that the chief knew nothing about her.

It was 7:30 Saturday evening when Edna climbed out of a window on the first floor and dropping eight or ten feet started away into the night. She ran through the school premises in a southwesterly direction and made her way along the tracks that she thought was the Wabash, but which were street car tracks. When she arrived at the end of the line and saw her mistake, she retraced her steps and finally reached the Wabash tracks. Sometimes running and sometimes walking, but always pushing on she left the city and its lights behind and wandered down the lonely tracks bound for home. At first there were lights in the occasional houses she passed, but soon these evidences of life were no longer to be seen. And the little girl plodded along. From her starting point and counting the retraced steps that had to be taken in Jacksonville she covered 18 miles and it was 2 o'clock Sunday morning when she reached a point a mile and a quarter east of Bluffs.

She could go no further. The limit of her endurance had been reached. She had been compelled to take to the side of the tracks several times when by vibration she felt the approach of trains and her gown was torn and there was a rent in the sleeve of her cloak. Her feet were cold and her hands were numb. She could go no further.

Jacob Northcott and Mrs. Kate Vannier live a mile and a quarter east of Bluffs. They were awakened by a timid rapping on the door at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Northcott inquired who was there and received no response. The tapping was continued. A second time the question was asked from the interior. Still there was not response. Then a brick was thrown at the door.

"If you won't tell I'll see who you are and what you are doing here at this hour," declared Mr. Northcott as he arose and took down his shotgun. Then there came a rapping and a tapping on the window. Mr. Northcott threw the gun to his shoulder and his hand was on the trigger. At that moment a child of the family ran up to him and begged him not to shoot, that it was not a man but a girl who was seeking admission. The gun was dropped and the door was thrown open. Edna Proctor, deaf and dumb, tired, hungry and cold, staggered in and found herself among friends.

"That is just how near we came to losing our little girl," said Mr. Proctor this morning in reciting the story.

After being warmed and fed and rested Edna wrote all about herself and of how she could not remain longer at the school and was going home. She was treated with the utmost kindness by the family and was made to feel herself among friends. Mr. Northcott told Mr. Proctor that Edna might have lived at his home the rest of her life had it not been possible to locate her relatives.

Monday Edna wrote home telling where she was and the fact was communicated to the Quincy police yesterday. In the meantime Mr. Proctor had gone away from this city and was notified at Jacksonville by the officers here where Edna might be found.

...ISH CAUGHT ...N THE MEXICAN GULF

Being Divested of His Interior This Fish Weighed 738 Pounds, and Weight Broke Block and Tackle.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, April 4.—A monster jewfish is hung up in the French Market and today the fish famine in the market will not be as much in evidence as it was last Friday. Then only rich men's fish—red snapper and sheepshead—could be had, and only in limited quantities because of the high water, rains and resultant bad fishing.

Old fishermen estimate the age of the fish at from 15 to 25 years. The only scale in the market which had a capacity large enough to weigh the monster showed his weight to be 540 pounds after he was cleaned. Before he was cleaned he weighed 738 pounds.

A carpenter who lived in the vicinity measured the fish. The length was eight feet two inches from tip to tip. Around the belly the fish measured six feet five inches. The open mouth was two feet one inch up and down and two feet three inches across. The opening was as large as the head of a sugar barrel, and a small boy could have crept in without touching the sides.

This monster fish was captured in a seine on last Wednesday in the Gulf of Mexico, off Last Island. Julian Crosby, master of the lugger Flora, was the fortunate captor, and this morning he took great pride in his good fishing luck. Crosby said he had caught many large fish, but this Promicrops Itaiara was the largest fish he had ever seen except sharks and whales. Certainly this was the largest he had ever caught.

MADE AND LOST FINE FORTUNE

Indiana Man Who Could Not Refuse When Friends Asked for Aid.

WORKS HARD AND LIFTS HIS HEAVY BURDEN

Charles E. Wile of Howard County Paid All Creditors in Full—Will Begin Life Again on Small Tract of Land.

KOKOMO, Ind., April 4.—After amassing a fortune amounting to $50,000, Charles E. Wile, a farmer, in the western part of Howard County, six years ago found that he was confronted with a heavy mortgage on his farm and with a debt of over $10,000, represented by 43 promissory notes. With the same determination that characterized him when he was a youth, Mr. Wile began to retrieve his lost fortune. Last week he paid off his last dollar of indebtedness and bought five acres of ground in the Wild Cat neighborhood, where, with his wife, he will spend the rest of his life.

For 38 years, with the help of his wife, he toiled to build up his fortune. He had but one failing. He could be easily induced to become surety for his friends. He went security for near relatives under the belief that many of th new obligations were made to discharge old ones.

Then came the crash. Wile realized that he was penniless. He made a voluntary assignment of all his property to William Waugh, a neighbor, for the benefit of his creditors.

Rapid changes followed. Personal and real estate were sold at private sale and public auction, and when nothing remained but 100 acres of the home place, Mrs. Wile, from a personal friend, secured a large sum of money, became the highest bidder and bought and mortgaged the land for a sufficient sum of money to pay every creditor.

After the final settlement, in March, 1898, Wile and his wife, both over three-score, began life at the bottom of the ladder, with $6000 yet to pay. Two years afterward Mr. Wile was compelled to go into voluntary bankruptcy in order to keep some of the threatening creditors from interfering with his plans. Last week the old home place, which Mrs. Wile bought and mortgaged, was sold to a Benton County farmer for $13,000.

The mortgage had been paid and the place was free from incumbrance. The money was deposited in a bank and every creditor received 100 cents on the dollar. On their little plot of ground in the Wild Cat neighborhood the old couple will make another try at life. They say that they will be just as happy as if they had the enjoyment of the fortune which has slipped away from them.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK IN WHEAT BELT

All the Fields Have Come Out of the Winter Looking Well.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ABILENE, Kan., April 4.—Practically not an acre of the large area sown to winter wheat last fall has been plowed up for corn or oats. This fact must be taken along with the facts that a year ago, by the government's May report, there was a 4,868,000 acres decrease in area from the autumn estimate, and that in 1901 there was a similar decrease of 2,015,000 acres. The state of things this season is evidence that the farmers are satisfied with the situation. Last year hundreds of thousands of acres were plowed up long before this date. Then the subsoil was dry and dust blew from the fields until late in April. Now the fields are wet on top, and the subsoil is soaked from the rains of last fall. This condition is general from Nebraska to Oklahoma and gives excellent promise throughout the wheat belt.

More snows this week, falling without drifting, and melting as they fell or soon thereafter—in some cases being little more than gentle rains—have given the wheat area the best possible treatment for this time of year. The plant has come through the winter with good vitality, and in an even stand that promises well. In Central Kansas the danger from fly that was present last fall seems to have passed away. The western Kansas fields are moistened to a greater degree than in 10 years, while those of the northern tier report little winter killing, even under heavy pasturing.

Oklahoma is further advanced than is Kansas, and has had much good rains during the winter that the crop, now covering the ground, is given a promise of the best in the territory's history. In southern Kansas the best authority on crop conditions is C. Wood Davis, American representative of the London Trade Journal. He says: "The wheat in this section of Kansas, though late and small, has come through the winter without injury, and the soil being in excellent condition, is now making rapid progress, with every probability of its making a good crop if atmospheric conditions are hereafter fairly favorable."

SEEKING HIS FAMILY.

Luther E. Grider Would Like to Get a Trace of His Father, Mother and Sister.

Luther E. Grider has just returned from the Philippines after nearly three years' service and is unable to locate his family, which has moved from Springfield, Ill., since he has heard from any member of it.

When Mr. Grider came back from the Philippines he went directly to Springfield, in which place he enlisted, and learned that his parents and sister had moved away from there some months ago and come to St. Louis. After some search he found the place where they were living on Morrison avenue, only to be told by the neighbors that they had moved away from there about three weeks ago. They left no statement of where they were going, except the sister had said to one of the neighbors that they were thinking of going to New Orleans.

Mr. Grider is now advertising for them and a letter addressed to him in the care of the Post-Dispatch will reach him.

KILLED HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Fatal Shooting at Ballard, Ky., Has Peculiar Features.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ky., April 4.—Ezra Kays was shot and killed by John Strange, at Ballard, about ten miles south of this place.

Telephone messages from Ballard gave conflicting stories of the tragedy. Strange was a brother-in-law of Kays, and it seems that hard feeling had existed between the two for some time.

After Strange had retired, Kays came to the door and demanded admittance, threatening that if the door was not opened he would break it in, which he did. When Kays broke the door down and came into the room, Strange seized his shotgun and fired, shooting Kays in the abdomen and killing him instantly.

Kays was 25 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child. He was well thought of in the community.

PRISONER WAS SPIRITED AWAY

Mob of Friends of Louis McBride at Greenville Was Arranging to Set Him Free.

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 4.—Louis McBride, one of the most desperate characters of Muhlenburg County was brought to the city and placed in the county jail for safe-keeping. A mob composed of McBride's friends was being secretly organized to make an attack on the Muhlenburg County jail one night this week and give the prisoner his freedom. A negro prisoner, who was to assist in the delivery if he was freed, gave the plot away.

Sheriff Dallas Blackwell and Deputy Sheriff John Smith of Muhlenberg County, arrived in the city over the Illinois Central from Greenville, having McBride in custody. McBride was being held in the Muhlenburg County jail for maliciously cutting and wounding Marshal A. P. Grady of Greenville two months ago. He was trying to arrest McBride for disorderliness when he was cut. He was given an examining trial and held over to the grand term of the Muhlenberg County grand jury, which convenes April 27. He has several very grave charges against him. In addition to spending many months in jail he was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum several years ago.

McBride's home is at Drakesboro, where his wife and father reside. He is 31 years of age.

Test for Yourself the Wonderful Curative Properties of Swamp-Root

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the World-Famous Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of the "Post-Dispatch" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

I wrote to Dr. Kilmer & Co., at Binghamton, N.Y., for a free sample bottle of Swamp-Root, and its effect upon me was so noticeable that I bought a supply and after taking a few bottles of Swamp-Root I had entirely recovered, and in six months I became the man you see me now. I had kidney trouble. Was obliged to pass water often day and night, had back ache, and was run down generally. A few bottles of this remedy did more for me than a dozen physicians could.

Hugo Hutt

865 Stillman St.,
Philadelphia (Pa.) Fire Dep't.

I am a firm believer in that wonderful remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It's a great medicine when a man is not feeling well; after exposure or loss of sleep and irregular meals. It is also a great medicine to tone up and regulate a man. There is such a pleasant taste to it and it seems to go right to the spot. I use it and recommend it. There is more Swamp-Root used by Kansas City firemen than any other medicine twice over. Yours truly,

Assistant Chief,
Kansas City, (Kansas), Fire Dep't.

I cheerfully give my endorsemem to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which I sincerely believe, from my own experience, stands at the head of all known curatives for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

My own cure and also my personal observation during years of service in the Toledo Fire Department, have convinced me that Swamp-Root is a medicine of wonderful merit. I have seen many who had been pronounced incurable, speedily restored to health by Swamp-Root.

Yours Respectfully,

J. W. Fraser

No. 1 Engine House,
Toledo (Ohio) Fire Department.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles, makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy that science has ever been able to compound.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder remedy, is so remarkably successful that a Special arrangement has been made by which all of our readers who have not already tried it may have a sample bottle absolutely free by mail. Also a book telling all about kidney and bladder troubles and containing many of the thousands thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured by Swamp-Root. In writing, be sure and mention reading this generous offer in the St. Louis Sunday Post-Dispatch when sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Why Don't You Get Well?

If you'll ask for health you can have it.
I'll supply the treatment—all the risk is mine.
I am curing thousands while you are waiting.
It is your turn to get well—write me today.

My Remarkable Offer.

I am making an offer to sick ones which no other physician will make.

The offer proves that I have wonderful faith in myself—and in you. It proves that I have learned how to cure, for the offer would ruin me if I did not succeed.

The offer is this:

Simply send me this coupon or write me a postal, stating which book you need. I will then mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

I do that to convince you who hesitate—you who doubt all men's claims. I have what millions need, and I want the sick ones to have it. So I make an offer so fair that the sick can't neglect it. That offer has been accepted by nearly 550,000 people, and 39 out of each 40 have paid gladly because they were cured.

The Remedy That Cures.

My Restorative differs from all other treatments. It is the result of my lifetime's study in learning how to strengthen the inside nerves. This remedy always brings back the nerve power which alone operates the vital organs. The result is like giving an engine more steam; the organ has power to do its duty.

The common way is to treat the weak organ—to tide over the difficulty till Nature restores the nerve power. But if the trouble is deep-seated, those methods fail. And in any trouble—whether trifling or severe—the right way and quickest way is to rectify the cause—to bring back the nerve power that is weak.

My Restorative always does that.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON

DON'T PAINT YOUR HAIR!

When you buy a Hair Restorer look out for the sediment. If you HAVE TO SHAKE WELL BEFORE USING don't use it. It may color the hair dark, but after a few days it will show white again at the roots. And you will have to keep on using it as long as you live, that is, if it will leave any hair on your head to color, which is doubtful.

Any treatment that colors the hair is a dye, and dyes are always unsatisfactory, for the reason that it matters not what is the natural color of your hair—you may be blonde or brunette—these so-called Hair Restorers color everybody's hair the same; for they all contain either lead, sulphur or silver, and sometimes the whole three. Preparations of lead and silver turn black on exposure to the light. Hence the head is covered with dark hair for a time, but it soon fades out leaving the hair in worse condition than ever. Besides, it soils the clothes, gets into the finger nails, makes them black and unsightly and stains the skin; in fact, no self-respecting person that prizes an elegant personal appearance can afford to use these treatments, as many have found to their sorrow.

The one RATIONAL treatment is LORRIMER'S EXCELSIOR HAIR FORCER which is really A HAIR FOOD; it contains no coloring matter of any kind. Nor does it soil the hands, skin or clothing. It is as much a Dressing as a HAIR FOOD, and you do not have to wait till you are bald headed or your hair is faded to use it. It will prevent these troubles, as well as cure them. It is a Hair Food, pure and simple; and actually restores the hair to its natural color by causing a complete new growth of hair.

It is a positive cure for dandruff, baldness, hair falling, faded and gray hair, scanty partings, weak eyebrows and eyelashes, and all scalp humors, and contains nothing whatever of an injurious nature. This is positively guaranteed. It is a perfectly clear liquid, and you do not have to shake the bottle before using.

LORRIMER'S SKIN AND SCALP SOAP WILL KEEP the head in a thoroughly healthy condition, cleanses the scalp, cures all irritations and scalp humors, and renders the hair beautifully soft, pliable and manageable; it is remarkably good for the skin and toilet, and as an antiseptic treatment it cannot be equaled.

FREE! TRY FIRST—BUY IF SATISFIED. FREE!

THE PRICE OF LORRIMER'S EXCELSIOR HAIR FORCER IS $1.00 PER BOTTLE; LORRIMER'S SKIN AND SCALP SOAP, 25c. PER BAR, AT ALL DRUGGISTS; but we will send a trial bottle of this elegant preparation, and a bar of the Skin and Scalp Soap, free by mail, prepaid, on receipt of only 5c. to cover charges of mailing, etc.

Don't put this thing off. Write us to-day. We are at your service, and if we can do you as much good as we have done thousands of others, you will live to bless the day that you saw this announcement.

MAKE NO MISTAKE ABOUT THIS. These grand treatments, Lorrimer's Excelsior Hair Forcer and Lorrimer's Skin and Scalp Soap, are sent to you by mail prepaid, on receipt of only 5c. for postage, etc. We want you to try it at once, especially if you have tried others and do not feel satisfied. We have no conditions whatever attached to this offer. You get the treatments at once by return mail, on receipt of 5c. for postage, etc.

ONLY $5 A MONTH

Doctor Jonathan R. Powell will give all persons applying before May 1 an opportunity to be treated by the Bi-Chemic Treatment for the nominal sum of $5 a month, medicines included. He wishes to impress upon the minds of the people that this offer positively expires on the 30th day of April. Many cases are cured in one month's time. The medical profession amazed at the wonderful cures being performed.

Hundreds of people have been unable to pay Doctor Powell's regular fees. Many have written requesting Dr. Powell to treat them at a lower rate. It is Dr. Powell's desire to give all the benefit of his treatment, and as it would be manifestly unjust to treat a few at a special rate and charge others more, he has concluded to treat all persons applying before May 1 for the nominal sum of $5 a month, medicines included. This includes all diseases, and no matter what you may be suffering from you will receive as careful care and attention as you would if you were paying his regular fees. He wishes further to state that many cases are cured in one month's time, but if it should take any longer to complete a cure this low rate will apply until the desired result is reached.

His offices during the past few months have been a veritable Mecca for those suffering from Deafness, Blindness, Lameness and all other Chronic Diseases that human flesh is heir to. Hundreds of homes have been made happier and the people today are sounding the praises of his name. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual offer it is important for you to call as early as possible in order to avoid the rush that will naturally occur during the closing days of this phenomenal offer.

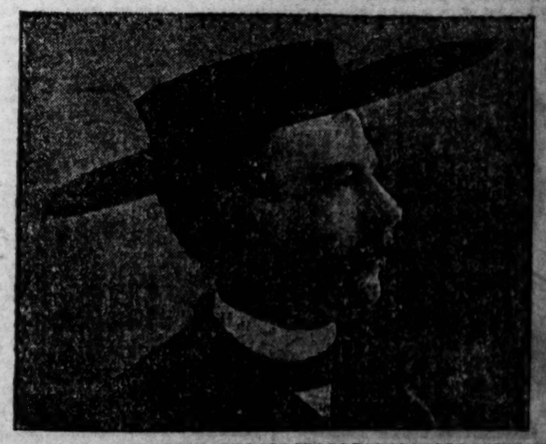

He wishes to impress upon the people that this offer includes consultation, examination, treatment, including his famous X-Ray examination, and all medicines, and no further charge will be made, but in order to get the benefit of it it is absolutely necessary to start treatment on or before the 30th of this month.

DEAFNESS.

Mr. John Brennan, 3921 Folsom street, St. Louis, says: "My deafness started about seven years ago. It gradually grew worse, and finally got so bad that I could not hear the alarm of my clock. I could not hear people talk without great difficulty. The noises in my head almost drove me frantic. Strange as it may seem, the Bi-Chemic Treatment has completely restored my hearing. The noises are gone and I can now hear my clock tick across the room."

STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mr. John Mace, East St. Louis, Ill., says: "I suffered for years with Catarrh of the Stomach. Everything I ate caused me pain and distress. My appetite was poor, and I was weak and debilitated. What I ate would not digest and, consequently, did me no good. I gradually grew weaker until I had to give up work. In this pitiful condition I placed myself under the care of the Bi-Chemic Physicians, and today I am a new man. I have gained 30 pounds, I digest my food perfectly, my pain is all gone and I am able to work."

LUNG TROUBLE.

Mrs. Bertha Hoppman, 3440 Illinois avenue, St. Louis, says: "It gives me great pleasure to recommend the Bi-Chemic Treatment for lung trouble. I was in a very much weakened condition when I began their treatment. I would cough constantly, raise mucus, and, in fact, my lungs were almost destroyed. I lost flesh rapidly and was in great fear that my lungs would collapse. The Bi-Chemic Treatment has completely cured me. I now feel like a new woman."

CATARRH.

Mr. Fritz Winkleman, Venice, Ill., says: "I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for many years. I have tried all forms of remedies and a great many physicians and got no relief until I began treatment with the Bi-Chemic Physicians. I fail to find words to express the gratitude which I owe Dr. Powell for establishing his famous Bi-Chemic treatment in this city."

BI-CHEMIC TREATMENT.

The different tissues of the body are made up of minute cells, and when these cells become disarranged for the lack of proper nutriment the disease is the result. By applying the proper nutriment to the diseased cells perfect health can be obtained. All diseases, no matter how chronic, can be cured by bringing the cells back to their normal condition. Doctor Powell's Bi-Chemic treatment is not allopathic or homeopathic. It is a treatment directed at the diseased cells of the body and such other remedies as each individual may require.

HOME TREATMENT.

Dr. Powell's Bi-Chemic Home Treatment is the most perfect system ever devised. By this method the percentage of cures by mail is fully equal to the number of cures in the office. Write for Home Treatment Symptom Blank and book of testimonials, which will be sent free of charge.

The special $5 offer applies to the Home Treatment as well as to those who call at the office in person.

BJORNSEN'S NEW PLAY FAILS.

"On Storhove" Unanimously Rejected by the German Public.

BERLIN, April 4.—Bjornsen's new play, "On Storhove," which had had its first performance Thursday evening at the Deutsches Theater, is a failure. The critics and public have unanimously rejected it.

Materlinck's "Pelleas and Melisande" was produced for the first time here at the Neues Theater yesterday evening and proved moderately successful.

Henry Arthur Jones' "The Liars" had its first performance in Germany at Hamburg yesterday evening. The audience found the play tedious owing to its lack of action.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few people realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of the lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

They send the most complete book ever written on the Diseases of Men, fully and fully illustrated with 40 engravings of the human body. Everything is confidential, and sent in plain, sealed wrapper. They merely ask you to inquire what they have got that will cure you, and what every gentleman reader of this paper should write them at once as above, and they will send you Ten Days' Trial Treatment and book free.

"GABRIELLE," MRS. MACKAY'S DRAMA, IS A STARTLING PIECE OF WORK

It Tells the Story of the Great and Wondrous Love of a Woman.

MAN WAS NOT UP TO HER LUMINOUS IDEAL

Wife of the Son of the Bonanza King Has Produced a Literary Wonder That Is Attracting Much Attention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Katherine Duer Mackay, wife of Clarence H. Mackay, has written a drama which she has called "Gabrielle." In the title is an explanatory note, stating that it is a dream contained in the letter in Abelard and Heloise. The period of the play is late in the eleventh century and the time is one year.

Mrs. Mackay, before her marriage, was Miss Katherine A. Duer of this city, daughter of one of the oldest families. Her ancestry runs back to the days of the revolutionary heroes. She has always been considered a very talented young woman. Her home at Rosslyn, L. I., is said to be the most palatial in America. It cost $5,000,000. She is the daughter-in-law of John W. Mackay, the Bonanza king.

The play is published and copyrighted by the North American Review, by whose permission the following synopsis and extracts of the drama are presented.

There are three characters in the drama: Gabrielle, Theophile and Gergoire. The latter is the father of Gabrielle. The opening scene is in the library of Gregoire, a room set in somber red. The glow of sunset is over all, but this changes to darkness, except for the ruddy glow of the fire as the act advances. Gabrielle is seated in a chair near the fire listening to Theophile read the last portion of a letter covered with papal seals.

Theophile (reading): Transgressed the limits of his forefathers. * * * Because I have questioned the rationality of the doctrine of the Trinity! So if I continue my work, it must be in secret. Freedom of thought frightens the church so much, she forbids philosophical speculation. All my years of work have brought me this, a reprimand, a warning from His Holiness. By what right does he say I shall go no further? Does he think I am terrified by the power of the throne in Rome?

Gabrielle: Established custom fears the questioner. You, who have been brave enough to think without its empty books, strong enough to work without its help, tall enough to look over its limitations into pure nature beyond, must expect rebuke. The tolerance of the church has meant nothing to you. Work on without it, grow into achievement in spite of its disapproval.

* * * * * * *

Theophile: I will use my power from within to speak so that all may understand. Think of the Church of Rome as you do of the town-crier. If I leave it, if I start again alone, I shall have to strain every particle of energy to gain followers one by one, whereas now my audience is innumerable, reaching from ocean to ocean. They will all stop to listen, and nearly all must learn. I shall be the leader of mankind; I will teach our gospel to humanity.

Gabrielle: Not thus can we see the infinite. Not looking up from decaying and crumbling superstitions, but abreast with the foremost workers, unhampered by ties or obligations; letting our souls guide us to the accomplishment of the task our capacity has set for us.

Theophile: You are so young, I am so old. * * * Perhaps I love you all the more because of your earnest view of life, your ambition, your youth-given impetuosity.

Gabrielle (kissing him gently on both eyes): Our souls live in the firmament, walking among the stars.

Theophile (kissing her passionately upon the mouth): Our bodies live in the city of Paris, walking among strangers.

Gabrielle: The Greeks led a beautiful, thinking life, learning of a peaceful, dreamless sleep to follow. Let us walk with them for a little way; breathing the cool, calm air of Athens, looking in their ruined temples. Friendship and Love are there, so close entwined we cannot tell the difference.

The dialogue develops that the priest for a year past has been Gabrielle's teacher, and that they have been lovers in all that the word implies. He beseeches her to marry him, and she refuses. He beseeches her in the name of the child about to be born. She refuses because she loves him more than herself, and because the church would excommunicate him. She declares: "This child is mine; it is the crystallization of our love, and if I am ever left alone with it, I will see in it a living memory of my dearest hours, and my heart shall find an answer to all its puzzling questions."

Theophile: You have a heart of which I cannot see the depths, a will as strong as mine. You wish it, my friend; come to the hills today. There we shall find our happiness, outside the world, within our own laws.

Gabrielle: The dusk is creeping even now over the country. When the night comes, I will go out with you in its shadows to look for the sun rising over the seas. Sit close to me, dear love, I dreamt a dream last night. Let me tell it to you while you see my vision in the fire. (Theophile sits at her feet and listens to her with his hands in her lap.)

The Story of the Real Lovers.

The roar of the passing worlds deafened me. It seemed as if I was in the harmonies of a thousand organs rolling by. I felt the rhythm with exquisite pleasure. The spirit of life filled space. The melody of the stars was the stream of its thought. The spirit of life is consciousness. The stream was a million million particles which flowed on, until each reached the star where in a human body it becames a soul and lived the span of its capacity.

One of these particles was stronger than the rest, for it was pure love. As it floated on the stream, because of its strength the spirit of life felt it and knew its power. So the spirit said, in speech which was not words, but which I understood: "I am eternity. I am the hall of his father's house." For such I seemed a dream, watching the mirage of my starved imagination; presently I would awaken in my father's house to read my fancies in some ancient book.

One day the sound of the waves awoke me, driving away all weakness, showing me myself. I lay there thinking, compelling my heart to feel that I might doubt God and his creations; but one thing is sacred, real, true, my love for Theophile. Come to me soon, bring me back those clear eyes, those strong hands, that tender heart. Come, my love.

Theophile (speaking from the door): I am here.

Gabrielle (turns at sound of his voice, sees him; her hands drop to her sides, for a minute she stands speechless. Then moving her lips only, she speaks softly). You heard the waves on the rocks, you felt the cold winds blow, you knew I was waiting for you?

Theophile (kissing her face passionately, holding her in his arms). A dreary winter work, nothing but work. But the Eve of Promise shall soon be the Morrow of Achievement.

Gabrielle. You look so weary, Theophile, the light has gone from your eyes. Where is your youth?

Theophile: I was born old . . . youth I never had. The semblance of it you lent me has vanished in the hours of study. Do not stand there with all your soul questioning me from your eyes. Put your arms around my neck and kiss me.

Gabrielle (without moving): Something has left you with a strange line written across your forehead in its stead. Have you found philosophy by losing love?

Theophile: I have lost nothing. Where is the boy?

Gabrielle (going over to door, points within): There. How soon shall we begin writing on his soul? (Theophile walks into room and closes door. Gabrielle sobs deeply once without a tear). Is there nothing real in life?

A Touch of the Melodrama.

Gregoire enters and upbraids Gabrielle for what she has done. Tells her he has searched for her everywhere. Declares Theophile must marry her. She tells her father that is just what Theophile wishes, but she will not consent. Theophile enters and adds his entreaties to that of the father.

Gregoire: As his wife, you can help him in his career; and if he achieves success, you will have the right to share in his triumph before all. You are fitted for the highest place. Take it. Marry Theophile.

Gabrielle: Rather than be the Emperor's wife, I would be my love's mistress.

Gregoire (sternly to Gabrielle): Choose; you can either give Theophile his career and his life, or his degradation and his death. Choose; it rests within your words.

Gabrielle (to herself): Bitter-sad reality! (To her father): I will marry him to save the wreck of all his hopes, but on one condition; our marriage shall be a secret. No one can know but we three. His life and mine shall seem the same, and you will let him accomplish his duty towards himself, unhindered, unharmed.

Gregoire: It shall be as you desire. We will go back to our library, our books, our real life. I have missed you sadly, I need your companionship again. Theophile shall go his way to climb his road and find his goal. If his capacity will guide him straight.

Gabrielle (goes to Theophile, speaks close to his ear): Love me, my love! Let the future bring more than the past, proving me right in granting you rwish.

Theophile: Dreamland is behind us; we have at last opened our eyes to the realities of life!

Gabrielle (very sadly): I know but one reality.

Theophile: And that is?

Gabrielle: The future may tell you, I will not. (She goes to the window, a flight of swallows pass quite near her, disappearing in the horizon.) The swallows are carrying all my sweet memories to dreamland, they will await my coming into the end of time. (She stretches her hand toward them).

The third act finds Theophile asleep on a bench in a monastary. In his dreams the voice of Gabrielle calls upon him out of the blossoms, the pool and the sky. He awakes with a start. His soliloquy develops that he has broken his word and has told of his marriage and then fled to a monastary for refuge from the father. Gabrielle enters clad in the white robes of a novice. Theophile recognizes her and they sink into each others arms.

Gabrielle: Living! living! my love lives! Theophile (as if awakening from a trance, leads her to the bench): No, dear sister, your friend lives.

Gabrielle (very tenderly): I am not your sister; this is but a disguise to hide me from my father. I thought of you, dearest, as I lay with my dying child. When his tiny heart beat its last throb against my breast, and the bitterness of death filled my soul, that thought prevented me from following this dread memory into eternity. It seems as if the living child had stretched its arms between us, as if his little life pushed you out of mine. * * * His soul has gone on its way without one word upon it. There is nothing now between you and me. Let us turn a new page of life and seek the fullness of love.

She Is Not Understood.

Theophile: I loved you with all the feeling I had to give you. You fancied it was endless, forgetting that every human emotion runs its course to its limit. Eternity is forever, but there is nothing born of mind or body on this earth which is stronger than death. Knowledge teaches us appreciation; more than that we have not the power to understand. (Looking at Gabrielle.) I know how beautiful you are, I love your eyes with their emotional depths, your lips with their messages from your soul. You seem the emblem of the passion of all ages; the touch of your hand warms my heart again. * * * I want your love once more.

Gabrielle: What you are looking for is found in many dreary hearts wandering hopelessly beyond the river in yonder streets. Go! Take it from them! (Theophile takes her in his arms, and kisses her passionately on her face and hair. Gabrielle tears herself from him.) You are seeking one sort of love and I only give another. We are not striking the same chord; but neither has any man or any woman ever loved in the same way at the same time. You are giving me one part of you, from which I must feed all the cravings of my soul and heart.

Theophile (having regained his composure): Each proof which I have asked your love to bring me has been given generously and freely. Now I ask the final test, for you are strong enough to give it. Leave the world completely, take the vows, come to yonder nunnery; from this oasis we shall step into eternity hand in hand, able to vanquish heaven and hell, because we shall both make knowledge master love. Sharing work, abreast in endeavor, we shall live in peaceful friendship, while our souls grow together into one perfect human whole.

Gabrielle (after a silence): This moment is pregnant with destiny. You fear the result of your capacity, and you thrust the responsibility upon my shoulders. (With the intensity of compressed emotion.) You are not a part of nature's harmony, you are a passing discord. You are a lie, for you ask me to crush my soul by living a deception. (More gently.) I came to you th's morning, as I have always come, with my heart overflowing with the sweetness of love, and you degrade yourself by asking me to lie in my inmost being.

I thought we could walk together up the road leading to our star, with Love and Courage traveling with us and Truth lighting us on ahead. You might have been the Voice: I, the Inspiration. But you have never looked up to the skies and beheld Truth glowing over all. I might have dreamed on into Eternity, had not your real self revealed the coldness of your soul, which has frozen love from my heart. I have dreamed my dream and left it beneath me in the shadows of the dusk. You! You! to whom I freely gave my youth, my freedom, my love, you are craven enough to demand the murder of my soul!

Some Startling Utterances, These.

I live without the aid of any God.

I believe in Nature, the universal intangible originator of spiritual and physical being.

I believe in Truth, which shows us our way over the Earth.

Whole, unconscious of the individual sparks which people worlds. This particle is entire and it is worth a test. It shall separate into two parts, and live two different earthly lives. If it be pure love, the parts will grow together again, proving me to the world, making another era on the earth."

The particle dissolved in two, as the spirit spoke. One fragment was the larger; it dropped to earth with great velocity, and, reaching here, was born in the body of a boy. Perhaps its rapid flight had wearied it, for, no sooner did it touch the child, than it sank into the uttermost recesses of his heart and slept there peacefully. The lighter part was longer falling, and when it reached the earth it kissed the brow of a tiny maid and grew into her soul and filled it. The boy became a man. He worked and thought and lived. His fragment of eternity had slept so soundly for so many years that neither his brain nor his heart knew it was there. He accomplished much and became the philosopher of the day.

The baby girl grew into maidenhood through many stormy years. The little fragment in her heart absorbed her nature and made her will its own. She looked for happiness by loving others. Several times she thought she loved, but the spirit in her drew back and said, "Not this one, he is a stranger." So the maid lived quietly with her father, learning with him from his books much of the world's knowledge, deriving real pleasure from his intellectual companionship, growing into womanhood alone. One day the famous scholar was to speak in the church to which her father took her every Sunday. A beautiful spring morning it was, all nature seemed aglow with life. She knelt before the altar, and, kneeling there, her eyes turned to the pulpit. A man stood in it with flashing glances and a voice of gold, which seemed to enter into her whole being, and play on each string so intensely, she knew not if it was with pain or joy. On the instant the spirit in her beat the blood through her veins into a raging torrent; what words this stern grayhaired man spoke, she knew not, for the spirit made her heart beat so wildly that all she heard was her soul throbbing the thought: "I have found him; it is my stronger self."

From that day a great wave of peace drowned all her troubled questionings. The spirit was waiting for its other part. The preacher had seen the girl and her auburn hair and her strange eyes. Beautiful he thought her, but only in his mind. The stone in his breast was untouched. Time passed. The girl was twenty. The preacher past forty; their lives were far apart. One day he passed her garden gate as she was coming out. The spirit in her looked at his from her gray eyes with so much power, that something in his breast melted, and from under its icy cover his fragment of eternity raised its tendrils and felt its other self. In that woment the man and the girl knew love.

Then the vision of their human forms grew dim, and I felt again the vast roar of the ever-travailing universe, and I saw again the spirit of life, and I heard again that speech which was the melody of the heavens. But what the spirit spoke I do not know; for I awoke, and behold! it was the dawn of another day in which you were to come to me.

A Sort of "Tamed Butterfly" Finish.

(A long pause. They sit in silence. Theophile looks into the fire, while Gabrielle gently strokes his head, and sighs. Night has come. The fire lights their faces. The sound of distant church bells, ringing a deathknell, comes through the open window.

Theophile (rises, walks to the door, opens it. The bells sound louder. The terrace and street are hidden in darkness. He goes back to Gabrielle and takes her hand). Come, my love, our hour is here. Come, before the moon rises.

They cross the threshold and vanish in the darkness.

The fire burns low. The moon rises and floods the empty room, the church bells ring on solemnly.

Act two is a scene in Theophile's home in the North. The time is eight months later. What has happened during that time is told in this soliloquy by Gabrielle:

Gabrielle: Eight months ago he brought me here. For 30 days we lived and lived as we had said we would. The joy of that short time proved love is life—to women. One morning I awoke alone. In that instant, a thousand years of anguish I knew. My enemy, his other self, had taken him away from me. They brought me a letter of words, not feelings, in which I read of work, the church, his duty, with a terrible clear knowledge of the real meaning. They told the days rolled by, that on Christmas night my son born "in the

for free trial on their next fishing trip. Write today. Send your name and address and the name and address of the leading sporting goods dealer of your city to Wm. Shakespeare, Jr., 264 Shakespeare Bldg., Kalamazoo, Mich. The Shakespeare Reel is especially designed for accurate and long-distance casting, and it is without doubt the best reel in the world, and you will say so when you see it. The metal used in the manufacture of the Shakespeare Reel is hard-drawn brass and the finest English Stubbs steel—the best obtainable. Painstaking care is used to secure perfect accuracy in every detail. In beauty of design, and simplicity of construction it is unequaled. Its easy, silent running suggests perpetual motion and it is fitted with the most perfect drag and click ever invented. Words will not describe its beauty, its usefulness and its many advantages over all other reels. My reels and baits are for sale by all first-class dealers and I want you to see them and try them for yourself and if you will write me personally I will be glad to arrange it so you can have them for a free trial on your next fishing trip. The Shakespeare Baits are really marvelous. With them the fisherman is sure of a good catch, no matter where the fish are, in the lake or stream. If they are in deep water, Shakespeare makes the bait that attracts them. If they are in shallow water Shakespeare makes the bait that catches them. If they are hidden in the lily pads or moss, Shakespeare makes the bait that makes them strike. And Shakespeare offers $100 in prizes for the photograph and authentic dimensions of the biggest large or small-mouth bass caught this year. Write today for particulars. His little booklets, "How to Catch Bass," "Fine Points About Tackle" and "The Art of Bait Casting" are free to every angler. Write today and send your name and address.

HE THOUGHT IT WAS A BIRD.

A Story That Is Told of a Bailie of Glasgow.

From Tit-Bits.

A story is told of a Glasgo bailie whose knowledge of natural history was limited. One day, when on the bench, the following case came before him:

A man who had a squirrel, on going to the country for a short time, left the squirrel in charge of a neighbor. The neighbor, when attending to the animal, accidentally left the door of its cage openâ and, without being seen, it made its escape.

On his return, the owner of the squirrel was very angry at the man for his carelessness, and brought an action against him, demanding compensation for the loss of his pet.

The bailie heard both parties, and then gave the following as his decision. He said to the neighbor:

"Wae deed ye did wrang to open the cage-door; but"—turning to the pursuer—"ye was wran, too, for ye should hae clippet the beast's wings."

"It's a quadruped, yer honor!" said the man.

"Quadruped here or quadruped there, if ye had clippet the wings it couldna hae flown awa'. I dismiss the case."

DRUNKENNESS CURED IN 3 DAYS AT HOME. MORPHINE CURED IN 6 DAYS.

"I will pay $500 for any case of Liquor or Drug Habit I cannot cure."

F. WARREN LANOIX, M. D.

Dr. Lanoix's new cure for the liquor and drug habit, which has created such interest in medical circles, has stood the test in every case, and after numerous tests on cases that had been termed incurable and were given up as hopeless, never failed to effect a perfect cure. It cures the liquor habit in three days, and the morphine, cocaine or any drug habit in six days, without sickness, pain or any bad after effects. No hypodermics are used. It is a vegetable compound, taken by the mouth, and is a nerve tonic and blood builder. It antidotes and eliminates the poison, revives the dormant nerve cells, builds up the entire nervous system, restores the patient to perfect health, physically, and mentally, increases and strengthens the vital powers which other cures impair. It strengthens every organ of the body, and what is more, it cures right in your own home. Every cure is permanent.

Wm. U. Lee, 2103 Pine street, St. Louis, Mo.: "Used morphine and liquor for 17 years, using 40 to 60 grains morphine and one quart of whisky per day. Was cured in five days without the least pain."

Mrs. Kate Bennett, 906 Washington street, Kansas City, Mo., says: "Used morphine 10 years, used 60 grains per day; was cured in one week."

W. J. McKee, 1026 Dillon street, St. Louis, Mo., says: "Used liquor nine years. Could not quit its use; was cured in three days."

C. H. Schomp, Paola, Kan., says: "My wife was given morphine to allay pain; became addicted to the habit; was cured in a few days."

It cures where every other treatment has failed. A perfect cure is guaranteed in every case. No money accepted until a cure is effected to all applying in person. Those addicted to the liquor habit who are unable to go to the sanitarium can be cured at home without detention from business. Write or call on Dr. F. Warren Lanoix, or Lanoix Medical Co., 2130 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo. The doctor will send his booklet explaining this wonderful cure free of charge to every person writing for it.

O. K. BUCKHOUT.

Chairman Kalamazoo Tuberculosis Remedy Co. (Ltd.); Member of British Tuberculosis Congress; Member International Association for the Prevention of Consumption.

Consumptives need not worry about their future any more, as the long-looked-for cure for consumption has at last been found, and a cure is now just as sure as in the ordinary disease. To satisfy yourself of this you have only to write the Kalamazoo Tuberculosis Remedy Co., (Ltd.) 548 Main st., Kalamazoo, Mich., of which the chairman is Mr. O. K. Buckhout, a noted member of the British Tuberculosis Congress and also of the International Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, composed of world-famous men who have made consumption—its cure and prevention—a life study. The cure is something entirely new and is called "Antidotum Tuberculose," or "the Copper Cure, and is the only discovery we know of that absolutely kills all tuberculosis germs which cause consumption, as, unless this is done, the disease cannot be cured. As the name of the remedy tells, its chief ingredient is copper, which metal has at last been found to be the deadly enemy of the consumption germ. "Antidotum Tuberculose" is the original copper cure.

You can tell if you have consumption by the coughing and hawking, by continually spitting, especially in the morning, when you throw yellow and black matter, by bleeding from the lungs, night sweats, flat chest, fever, weak voice, pale, liver flushed complexion, pain in chest, wasting away of the flesh, etc. Find out how the Copper Cure kills the germs, then builds up the lungs, strengthens the heart, puts flesh on the body and muscles on the bones until the consumption is all gone and you are again a strong, healthy, robust man or woman.

Don't doubt this, for the very same discovery benefited A. H. Dingley, a son of Congressman Dingley of Dingley Tariff Bill fame, who went West and South for relief and didn't get it, and came back with death staring him in the face, and was benefited by Antidotum Tuberculose after all else had failed.

So don't give up hope and don't spend your money in travel. Attend to it right away, for consumption spreads to other members of the family. If you have consumption or fear you are predisposed to it write straight to the Kalamazoo Tuberculosis Remedy Co., (Ltd.) 548 Main st., Kalamazoo, Mich., and they will send you illustrated and scholarly books free of charge telling you fully how the Copper Cure will cure you if you are home in a very short time.

PAPERS SIGNED BY RULERS NOW DEAD

William McKinley and Queen Victoria Endorsed Watson Requisition.

Deck Watson, charged with the embezzlement of $1800 from the Campbell, Reed & Watson Sales Co., of East St. Louis, was brought back to St. Clair County Saturday morning, after evading the officers for almost two years.

Watson's extradition was notable, because the death of the two rulers signing the papers has occurred since they signed the paper.

Watson was employed as a horse buyer and the indictment charges him with appropriating to his own use $1800 that was given him for the purchase of horses.

He fled after the charge was made and was known to be in Canada. Application was made at once for the papers necessary to return him, in case of his arrest. William McKinley was then President of the United States and Victoria the Queen of England. The papers which were not used until this week bear their approval.

When the extradition papers were looked up, after the arrest of Watson at Guelph, Ontario, a few weeks ago, it was found that Constable Louis Marsh of East St. Louis was the only man to whom the Canadian officers were instructed to deliver the prisoner, and Marsh was at once made a special deputy sheriff and sent after Watson.

The issuance of international extradition papers before the whereabouts of the person wanted were known is an unusual feature of the case.

Watson is the first man extradited from Canada to East St. Louis on the charge of embezzlement.

Pimples and Blackheads.

A Home Remedy that Cures Pimples, Blackheads and Acne Quickly and Permanently, Has Been Perfected by a Distinguished Chemist.

Full Information Together With the Method is Mailed Free to All Who Write.

A method of treatment that can be used by any person in their own home, for the cure of pimples, blackheads and acne has been perfected by a well-known Cincinnati chemist. The remarkable effects of this treatment are said to be the instant relief from burning and itching and the almost instant removal or disappearance of the pimples and blackheads; and it is stated positively by those who have used it that the cure is permanent—that the pimples are cured to stay cured—and the skin is left as soft and clear and smooth and free from any marks or traces of the pimples or blackheads as could be desired. It cures boys and girls, men and women, whether old or young, quickly, permanently and positively.

For years skin specialists and doctors have tried to produce a face lotion or wash, or skin food or some sort of a cosmetic or face lotion that would cover up or cure pimples, but all failed. The Cincinnati chemist who has at last solved the problem states positively that after many years of experience in the special study and treatment of thousands of patients suffering several from pimples, blackheads and acne he has found a scientific combination treatment that removes the pimples and eruptions, restores the skin soft and smooth and clean. And he announces through the public press of the country that he will gladly give his method free to all sufferers who write. The readers of this paper may address the Dermal Institute, 268 Wex building, Cincinnati, O., with a certainty that their request will receive prompt attention, as he is the head of that well-known institution and can be relied upon. The method, while based on the soundest medicinal principles, is so simple that any person can use it and cure themselves in their own home.

GREEDY CORPUSCLE, WHO LIVES ON GERMS, AVERTS A GREAT DEAL OF BLOOD POISONING

But There Are a Good Many Cases, Due to Slight Injuries, at That.

Rarely does a day pass at the City Dispensary without a patient coming in to be treated for blood poisoning. In almost every case the disease is due to an injury so insignificant that it was neglected.

The arm of Miss Mamie Blanchard of Granite City was dressed on Monday afternoon by Dr. E. H. Henckler. Two weeks ago she scraped her knuckle against the jamb of a door, causing a slight abrasion of the skin. The wound was so slight that it seemed to need no attention. A few days ago the wound became inflamed.

The swelling which resulted was opened with a needle Sunday, but this gave no relief. Then a thin red line was noticed, starting at the injury and running up the arm to the elbow.

All night Miss Blanchard was in great pain and she came to the dispensary Monday.

"No disease proceeds with more regularity than blood poisoning, or septicemia, as we call it," said Dr. Henckler. "Take this case for example. The wound did not heal, but suppurated and the suppuration was relieved by pricking it with a needle. This irritated the wound and probably introduced the germ of blood poisoning, although some authorities claim that this bacterium is a regular inhabitant of even healthy bodies.

"After the irritation the trouble began—the redness about the wound spread over the whole hand and the narrow red streak up the arm shows that the lymphatic system became affected.

"It met with a check" near the elbow. That is one function of the lymphatics, to retard the spread of an infection through the body. At each of these nodes, which seem like little seeds, a halt is called on such a disease as blood poisoning and until one node is saturated the infection cannot proceed.

White Corpuscles Devour the Germs.

"Blood poisoning is a germ disease that shows in no small degree the wise provisions of the creator in our behalf.

"I can show you better what I mean by a slide in the miscroscope here. In the middle of the slide is a large white body, a white blood corpuscle. Near it are several germs. The ones which look like a set of tenpins are the cause of blood poisoning. Now the corpuscle is about to eat a germ."

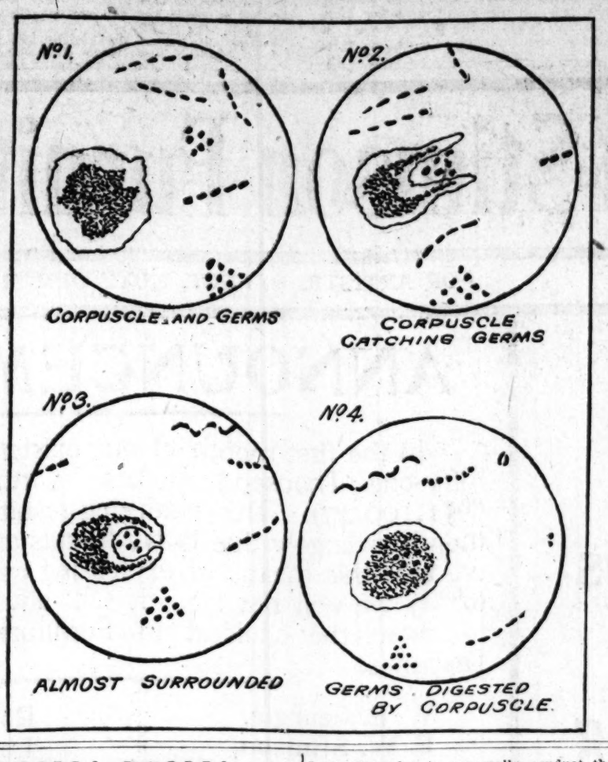

Slowly the circular body began to change its form. Two finger-like projections appeared on the side nearest the germ. Soon they surrounded it and inclosed it in the mass of the corpuscle. The germ was clearly visible through the transparent substance which enveloped it, but it gradually faded and the corpuscle set out in search of more germs to devour.

"Now you see why the human race exists despite the germs," continued the doctor. "Of the millions taken into our bodies every year very few escape the corpuscle. In every drop of blood are found some of these wonderful organisms and as long as they do not get too much to eat we stay healthy. They know where they are needed and as soon as an injury to any part of the body occurs the white corpuscles crowd there to wage war with the germs that seek to enter the system. While they are victorious we live; when they are conquered we will die unless we aid them with antiseptics.

"The treatment for blood poisoning is a comparatively simple thing. Prompt application of a recognized antiseptic will conquer all but the worst cases if the patient keeps quiet and does not worry. The injured part should be kept quiet and the dressing renewed as often as necessary so that the corpuscle may be aided in its fight.

"That battle of the white blood cell against disease is one of the most wonderful disclosures that the miscroscope has given to the science of malicine."

FROHMAN FOR MUSICAL COMEDY

He and Edwardes Are Arranging a Scheme Covering Europe and America.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.)

LONDON, April 4.—Charles Frohman has just returned to London from Paris and with George Edwardes is pushing ahead extensively with a musical comedy scheme for London, New York and the continent of Europe.

Already five musical plays have been selected to be produced between May and November. More than 300 English performers have been engaged and 50 will be brought from America.

The rehearsals of Edna May in "The School Girl" are in progress. In this play Pauline Chase has been engaged by Mr. Frohman for London next season. When Mr. Frohman produces "The Billionaire" here she will appear in it.

"Three Little Maids," which has also passed its 250th performance here, is taken to New York next September. Marie Studholme will be added to the cast. She appeared in New York at the Knickerbocker Theater.

Connecticut, says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican in an article on Indian names, "is from quonne, long; tuk, tidal river; qut, at; that is, quonnetuckqut, "at the long tidal river."

BOOM! BOOM! BING BANG A-A-H!

World's Fair Fireworks Likely to Startle Residents of Mars.

THEIR EQUAL HAS NEVER BEEN SEEN IN THE WORLD

Flags of All Nations, Saluted by 495 Guns From Balloons, Will Follow Set Piece Showing Main Picture.

"The greatest display of fireworks the world has ever seen. Pyrotechnics have never been attempted on so magnificent a scale before," is the announcement of the World's Fair officials rgarding the celebration by fire which will accompany the dedication ceremonies.

Fireworks unparalleled will burn on the nights following the three days' pageants of April 30, May 1 and 2. The display will take place west of Skinker road and south of the administration building. The "firing area," as it is called, embraces that part of the grounds allotted to the agricultural exhibit, that of the French government, part of the Philippines exhibit ground and all the land lying between Forsyth avenue and the tracks of the Clayton and Forest Park line.

This plat of land was chosen on account of several eminences which afford natural display grounds. It embraces Skinker hill, Tesson hill, Agricultural hill, Philippine hill and the eminence graded for the Trianon Garden of the French exhibit.

In front, to the north, lies the enormous grandstand, capable of seating 30,000 persons, while numerous eminences in the neighborhood, including the various buildings devoted to administration purposes, will afford room for thousands of spectators.

Immediately in front of the grandstand the set pieces will be fired. These will be on a scale more elaborate than ever before attempted. Henry J. Pain arrived in St. Louis Thursday to personally conduct the building and firing of the pieces.

"Main Picture" Will Blaze Out.

The greatest set piece ever seen will be fired on the night of April 30. This will be an exact reproduction in fire of the center of what is called the "main picture" of the Exposition, that is, Festival Hall and the Cascades. The framework for the piece will be 600 feet long and 100 feet high. All the colors in the building and surroundings will be reproduced in colored fires, and the Cascades will be pictured in liquid fire tumbling and splashing over the steps of the falls.

The Cabildo, the ancient Spanish building facing Jackson Square in New Orleans, in which the Louisiana Purchase treaty was signed, will also be reproduced in fire on a framework 100 feet long by 50 feet high.

There will be four enormous portraits in fire, representing President Roosevelt, ex-President Cleveland, Jefferson and Napoleon, on the night of April 30, and on the succeeding nights other portraits will be displayed of the rulers of the world.

The most startling display will be the aerial explosion of fireworks from captive balloons anchored a mile above the earth. There will be 15 balloons in all. They will hang over the ravine through which the tracks of the Clayton and Forest Park railroads run east and west at the southern border of the firing area.

Salute of Guns in Firmament.

The pyrotechnic display from the balloons will be on a stupendous scale. At a signal an electric spark will be sent up the cable to a bar swinging below the balloon in the center, which will be the largest. Immediately a scarlet streamer 1000 feet long will drop from the bar, followed by a white streamer, then another of scarlet, until an American flag 1000 feet long and 750 feet wide, blue field, white stars and all, of colored fire will sway in the breeze. Simultaneously a salute of 21 guns will be fired from the balloon. As soon as the boom of the guns has died away the flag of Great Britain will be released from the balloon on the left and a 21-gun salute will crash out from it. The balloon on the right will drop the flag of France with a national salute, and so the balloons will drop their flags to the left and right, honoring all foreign nations. In all 294 guns will be fired by electricity from the balloons.

Sunk in the ground in various parts of the firing area are batteries of mortars for firing bombs. Many of these mortars are large enough to fire bombs 60 inches in circumference, containing 50 pounds of explosives. hen these are fired into the air the explosion covers the entire firing area with fire. Each bomb releases seven other large bombs, which, in turn, shower smaller bombs, until the sky is filled with explosions of multi-colored fire.

The Exposition company will pay the Rains $55,000 for the three nights' display, which, it is said, represents only the cost of the production and handling.

BY COL. GEORGE S. M'GREW.

President St. Louis Golf Association and Glen Echo Golf Club.

Golf will be played by more St. Louisans this summer than ever before, in my opinion.

Not only will more young men play the Scotch game, but more business men will indulge in its pleasures and fascinations.

At least, I know a number of business men who never before played regularly and who are enthusiasts now. Some of them say they are going to play golf regularly every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon.

There is Mr. Noblee, the secretary of the Brown Shoe Co. He says he will not be at his office any Wednesday or Saturday afternoon this summer, but instead will spend it on the links.

Mr. Gorse, treasurer of the Missouri Trust Co., is another gentleman who has made the same resolve. He is going to do without a regular vacation, he says, but even up by taking two afternoons a week chasing the little ball.

Mr. Stickney, the father of the boys who play golf so well, is going to play regularly himself this summer. So is Mr. C. W. Gauss.

I am glad to know that business men of St. Louis are taking up golf and coming to realize the advantages of the game.

More of them should do so. It is a very healthy exercise. And what we want in this country is health. In Scotland every gentleman plays golf all his life, and you never see a delicate-looking Scotchman.

You can't get a business man to quit his desk and walk for four hours, even though the exercise would be very beneficial.

But, if you get him out on the links after the little ball, he walks just as much and doesn't realize it, for the fascination of the game makes the player forget the exertion.

The membership list of the Glen Echo Club is full. That is an idication that golf is popular in St. Louis.

The St. Louis links are in a generally good condition and the rain of Friday will help them, instead of doing any harm, as I heard some persons say.

The courses have recently been seeded and the rain will help the grass to grow.

The St. Louis links will be in good condition to show the visitors to St. Louis April 30.

Girl Known as Human Pincushion in Surgeon's Care.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MAHONY CITY, Pa., April 4.—Mary Fessler, 16, the "human pincushion," had 119 sewing needles extracted from her arms and legs by hospital surgeons this afternoon.

Three years ago the girl took a dislike to school, and restored to sticking needles into her arms and legs, so as to render herself unfit to attend the sessions.

Great crowds went to see a Manchester Salvation Army man who was advertised to preach "in sackcloth and ashes." His "makeup" was a khaki-colored dressing gown with a sprinkling of ashes on top of his cap.

Dr. M. C. Gee, of San Francisco, Says, "Pe-ru-na is of Especial Benefit to Women."

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert E. Roberts.

A CONSTANTLY increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their regular practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession today. Catarrh, as every one will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.

F. H. Brand, M. D., of Kokena, Ill., uses Peruna in his practice. The following case is an example of the success he has through the use of Peruna for catarrh.

Dr. Brand says: "Mrs. 'C.,' age 25, had been a sufferer from catarrh for the past seven years; could not hear plain and had watery eyes. She came to me almost a physical wreck. She had tried the Copeland cures and various other so-called specialists, and had derived no benefit from them. She told me she did not want to spend any more money on medicines unless I could assure her relief.

F. H. Brand, M. D.

"I put her on Peruna and told her to come back in two weeks. The effects were wonderful. The cast-down look she had when I first saw her had left her and a smile adorned her face. She told me she felt a different woman, her hearing was improved and her eyes did not trouble her any more.

"This is only one case of the many I have treated with your valuable medicine."—F. H. Brand, M. D.

Catarrh may invade any organ of the body; may destroy any function of the body. It most commonly attacks the head, nose and throat, but thousands upon thousands of cases of catarrh of the lungs, stomach, kidneys, bladder and other pelvic organs have been cured by Peruna.

Peruna is able to cure catarrh wherever it may be located by its direct action upon the mucous membranes. Catarrh means inflamed mucous membranes. Peruna acts at once to cleanse and invigorate the catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane no matter where it may occur in the body. Its action is the same on the mucous lining of the nose as on the mucous lining of the bowels. It cures the catarrhal inflammation wherever it may occur.

Dr. R. Robbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes:

"Peruna is the best medicine I know of for coughs and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Besides prescribing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not a patient but said it helped him. It is an excellent medicine and it fits so many cases.

"I have a large practice, and have a chance to prescribe your Peruna. I hope you may live long to do good to the sick and suffering."

We say Peruna cures catarrh. The people say Peruna cures catarrh. Prominent men and women all over the United States from Maine to California do not hesitate to come out in public print to say that Peruna is what it is recommended to be, an internal systemic catarrh remedy that cures catarrh wherever it may be located.

Dr. M. C. Gee's Experience.

Dr. M. C. Gee is one of the physicians who endorse Peruna. In a letter written from 513 Jones street, San Francisco, Cal., he says:

"There is a general objection on the part of the practicing physicians to advocate patent medicines. But when any one medicine cures hundreds of people, it demonstrates its own value and does not need the indorsement of the profession.

"Peruna has performed so many wonderful cures in San Francisco that I am convinced that it is a valuable remedy. I have frequently advised its use for women, as I find it insures regular and painless menstruation, cures leucorrhoea and ovarian troubles, and builds up the entire system. I also consider it one of the finest catarrh remedies I know of. I heartily endorse your medicine."—M. C. Gee, M. D.

Women are especially liable to pelvic catarrh, female weakness as it is commonly called. Especially in the first few weeks of warm weather do the disagreeable symptoms of female weakness make themselves apparent. In crisp, cold weather chronic sufferers with pelvic catarrh do not feel so persistently the debilitating effects of the drain upon the system, but at the approach of summer with its lassitude and tired feelings, the sufferer with pelvic catarrh feels the need of a strengthening tonic.

Peruna is not only the best spring tonic for such cases but it persistently will effect a complete cure. Write for a copy of "Health and Beauty," written especially for women by Dr. Hartman. If you want to read some cures also, write for a copy of "Facts and Faces." That will surely convince you that our claims are valid.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

NATION WATCHES CITY CAMPAIGN

Remarkable Municipal Contest Holds Cincinnati's Attention.

TWO BIG MEN ARE CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

Struggle Between Ingalls and Fleischmann Has National Bearing and Result May Reach Far.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, April 4.—This city is experiencing one of the most remarkable political contests in its history. It is a municipal struggle between the regular Republicans on one side and an alliance of the Democrats and independent Republicans on the other side, for control of the city offices when the new code goes into effect on May 1. The campaign has attracted attention all over the state and is being watched by the national leaders of both great political parties. The result may be of far-reaching consequence politically should either side receive a decisive majority.

Julius Fleishmann, the present mayor, is the Republican candidate, and his opponent is Melville E. Ingalls, president of the "Big Four" Railroad. Mr. Ingalls is running as the "Citizens' Municipal Party" nominee, the Democratic name and emblem having been abandoned for this contest and the names of the candidates going on the ballot by petition.

The Republicans allege that the present candidacy of Mr. Ingalls is the first step of a plan to make him the Democratic nominee for President, or at least to have him presented by the Middle West Democrats in the national convention.

They also say it is part of a scheme to send a Democrat to the United States Senate to succeed Marcus A. Hanna. They have sounded a warning cry to the Republicans of the city, and even Senator Foraker, in an authorized interview, has warned the Republicans of the danger.

On the other hand, the leaders of the Citizens' Municipal Party have denied any purpose beyond a reformation of Cincinnati, and, as an ultimate object, the separation of municipal and natonal politics. Republicans associated with the movement say they will return to their party and support the candidacy of Senator Hanna for re-election this fall, regardless of the result of the present contest.

The present struggle began months ago, although the tickets have been nominated less than three weeks. The Republican organization here, under the leadership of George B. Cox, is absolute in its power over the party, and has been so for many years. It has often been said that it surpasses in compact strength Tammany in her best days. In order to defeat it fusion of some sort is necessary.

The character of the two candidates is such that it was thought the campaign would be free of personalities, and on a high plane. Mr. Fleischmann is the head of the vast Fleischmann estate, with interests in almost every large city in the country. It is a sacrifice for him to accept such a position as mayor of Cincinnati, and during his term, now coming to a close, there was created especially for his benefit a law establishing the office of vice-mayor, so that his secretary would have full power while the mayor was absent from the city. That was wiped out by the provisions of the new municipal code, soon to go into effect, but is replaced by a clause making the president of the Council mayor in the latter's absence.

Mr. Ingalls is also making a personal sacrifice that stamps him a man so devoted to the welfare of Cincinnati that he is willing to give up almost anything in its behalf. As president of the Big Four railroad he receives a salary of $50,000 a year, almost ten times as great as the salary of the mayor's office.

He, like Mr. Fleischmann, has long been one of Cincinnati's foremost men. Claiming always to be a Democrat, he supported McKinley in 1896 and 1900, and in one of the campaigns stumped the state for the Republican nominee for President. He announces now he is not running as a Democrat, but as a citizen.

The contest has become bitter, and party lines are being obliterated to a great extent. Mr. Ingalls has attacked the motives of Mayor Fleischmann in the appointment of a chief of police to succeed the late Col. Phillip Deitsch, and has also charged that saloon keepers have been forced to purchase whisky, the product of the Fleischmann distilleries. Mayor Fleischmann will begin his campaign in person within the next day or two. He is, of course, a creature of Boss Cox.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, April 4.—Jules Simon, one of France's greatest political figures during the second empire, will shortly be commemorated by a monument. Simon, the inveterate opponent of Napoleon III, hurled his opinions like so many thunderbolts from his chair in the Sorbonne, always wounding and often routing the enemy.

The statue is being modeled by Denys Puech, the sculptor.

It will be placed in the square of the Madeleine and will be unveiled during the month of May.

CHICAGO'S BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Two in Lead Are Sisters-in-Law, Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor and Mrs. Farwell.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The two most beautiful women in Chicago are sister-in-laws. They are Mrs. Walter Farwell and Mrs. H. C. Chatfield-Taylor. Such is the verdict that has gone out from the compiler of the Rice Cameron book of American beauty. Mrs. H. C. Chatfield-Taylor owes her beauty as much to her wonderful color and the freedom and grace of her carriage as to the outlines of her features. She is as well known for her proficiency in athletics and her skill with the craftsman's tools as she is as a society leader.

Mrs. Walter Farwell was married to Mr. Chatfield-Taylor's brother last summer in Washington. Previous to her marriage she was Miss Williams, daughter of Colonel Williams, United States army.

TALK ON COLLEGES CAUSES A STIR

President of Leland Stanford Would Drop Social Butterflies.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Terse, striking statements on "University tendencies," made by President David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University, in an address before the teachers from the college and secondary schools at Kent Theater of Chicago caused a stir. He said:

"Co-education is better than segregation for four years. Co-education is not a matter of sexes, but a tendency of mind.

"Men excel in originality, women in dexterity. It is better to have them thrown together so that each can get the benefit of the other's type of mind.

"If we could drop the social butterflies and do-nothing dandies off from the campus, most of the evils of the university system would disappear.

"Too many students go to Harvard for social preferment. They go to do nothing in studies and then coach up for examinations.

"The small colleges should content itself with doing junior college work.

A HUMAN X-RAY

Your Body An Open Book to Zemindar, the Human X-Ray

MEDICAL CLAIRVOYANCE FREE
To the Weak, Ailing and Sick

Endorsed by Scientists, Doctors, the Press and 60,000 cured.

Wonderful strides have been made in the science of medicine, and there are thousands of able men who are an honor to this noblest of professions. But every physician knows that his work would be tenfold more fruitful of good results if CORRECT DIAGNOSIS could be made. When the CAUSE of your disease is clearly seen it is easy to find a positive and permanent remedy in some simple flower, herb or oil.

ZEMINDAR SEES the seat of your ailment, no matter how far you may be from him. With a connection established, by means of even a lock of hair, he tells you exactly where and what the trouble is and gives you explicit directions leading to a SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE.

The great Zemindar possesses a profound knowledge of the human body, the weaknesses and susceptibilities of its every organ and tissue: he knows that Nature has provided a remedy for every ill and his life-work has been finding these remedies. But most important of all is his wonderful gift of CLEAR VISION IN DIAGNOSIS.

Zemindar is a true adept of the Tammil Teslague Brotherhood of Southern India. The son of a high-caste, wealthy merchant, surrounded by every luxury, he in early manhood renounced a most brilliant worldly career to learn the wonderful secrets of life and nature, revealed to him by a wise man who had miraculously cured him of suffering as a child and passed on his way. A chance meeting with this great teacher several years later changed the entire course of Zemindar's life. Twenty-five years' study and devotion to ideals above and beyond the world have brought to him this marvelous clairvoyant and healing power.

CONSULT ZEMINDAR WITH THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE. Superhuman though his powers may appear, they are absolutely genuine, as is amply attested by the files of our great newspapers and magazines. He simply has acquired a knowledge as much higher than that of our educated men as theirs is higher than that of the totally illiterate.

Write today, with lock of hair and description of leading symptoms, for FREE DIAGNOSIS.

YALE ATHLETES ARE AILING

Glass, Hyatt and Moulton, Three Members of the Blue Athletic Squad, Now in the Hospital.

NEW HAVEN, April 4.—Edgar T. Glass, Yale's big football guard, who was being coached for the weight-throwing events, has been taken to the Yale Infirmary, suffering from inflammation of the throat. The doctors have not been able as yet to make an accurate diagnosis of Glass' case further than to discover symptoms of mumps. Glass has been doing splendid work in throwing the weights and was rapidly developing into a crack weight thrower.

Capt. Thomas has also suffered the loss of a good quarter-miler in R. B. Hyatt, the captain of the basket-ball team, who strained a tendon and will not be able to run again this year.

Another member of the hospital list is Fay R. Moulton, upon whom Yale places all her hopes for points in the sprints this spring. Moulton bruised his foot severely last week and has been running in very poor form. He has been obliged to stop training temporarily.

Englishmen Honor Henry White.

LONDON, April 4.—Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, was one of a trio of distinguished men elected yesterday to membership in the Anthenaeum Club under the rule empowering the annual election of nine persons "of distinguished eminence in science, art, literature or the public service." Mr. White was proposed by Sir Leonard Lyell, and was seconded by Premier Balfour.

BUILDING WILL BE TWELVE STORIES

Important Change Made in the Plans of Nelson Chesman & Co.

TWIN STRUCTURE TO THE PONTIAC BUILDING

Spring Real Estate Revival Is in Full Swing — Transportation Plans Stimulate Property in Cabanne District.

Of the numerous important realty transactions consummated during the past year none has been of more import than the announcement that Nelson Chesman & Co., in lieu of a five-story building on its site at Nos. 1127 and 1129 Pine street, as was originally proposed, would erect a 12-story structure to cost upward of $225,000. A building of this magnitude will be phenomenal at this point on Pine street. It will also be right in line with the movement of the Pine Street Improvement Association to secure for Pine street a more representative class of buildings and to advance its importance as a retail street.

The new building will be of steel frame construction and strictly fireproof throughout. It will occupy 44 feet frontage on Pine street by a depth of 109 feet, resembling in outlines the Holland building, though much more imposing in design. A 30-foot alley skirting on the west will always insure an abundance of light for the structure. The Pine street facade will be most ornamental in treatment, being a combination of cut stone, buff brick and terra cotta.

The interior will be handsomely finished in marble, tiled flooring and hardwood, and will be equipped with every convenience and appearance in vogue in the modern sky-scraper office building, including both electric passenger and freight elevators.

Owing to the inability to secure structure steel, the owners will take possession of their new home upon the completion of the first five stories of the building, which will be carried to 12 stories as the steel may arrive.

The building will be occupied exclusively by Nelson Chesman & Co. as its general offices. St. Louis was selected as headquarters by the concern, which is one of the oldest advertising agencies in the United States, and which has branches at every important point in the country, because of its central geographical location.

The work of razing the present buildings of the site to make room for the new big building has already begun.

Pontiac Building Is to Have a Twin.

The northeast corner of Seventh and Market streets, according to reports on Chestnut street, will shortly be graced with a structure similar to the Pontiac on the northwest corner.

The suit brought by attorneys Rassieur & Buder, to enforce a contract for a 99-year lease of the premises executed by the Burns estate to a syndicate headed by P. P. Herrman, Jr., is understood, has been compromised and the proposed new improvement for the corner will proceed without further delay. The building will be 12 stories high and will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000. Occupying 125 feet on Market street by 118 feet on Seventh street. It will be a twin sister, it is said, to the Pontiac building, which incidently was also built by the Herrman syndicate.

The bonds for the enterprise, it is reported, will be underwritten by the American Central Trust Co.

Mr. Buder stated that he thought there would be definite information along this line in a few days.

McNair, Harris & Jones are the real estate men in the deal.

Architect F. A. Bonsack of the Columbia building, representing the Burns estate, previously to the leasing of the Pontiac to the Missouri Pacific Railway Co., designed a 12-story structure for the corner. The Missouri Pacific Railway Co. entered into a contract with the Burns estate for a lease of the building at a net rental of $50,000 per annum.

The heirs of the estate afterward became imbued with the idea that the railroad was not paying rental enough and withdrew from the arrangement.

Mr. Bansack was paid $5000 as a compromise.

Nies, the rich merchant tailor, it is also understood, has a big improvement in contemplation for his property at the southwest corner of Eighth and Market streets.

Real estate men declare that the location of the Pontiac building at Seventh and Market streets, by John "Gould" Herrman, has given an impetus to building on Market street that will only end with the transformation of the street into one of the most imposing thoroughfares of the city.

Spring Revival Has Arrived.

"The spring revival in real estate is upon us in full sway," said H. L. Haydel, a prominent director of the real estate exchange, yesterday. "The abundance of money put into circulation by the railroads in buying rights-of-way and in construction work has been generously supplemented by the sale of the Laclede Gaslight Co. to Eastern capitalists and of the Frisco road to the Burlington not to mention the increasing volume of World's Fair disbursements.

As a consequence, a decided impetus to real estate investment and speculation may be looked for, and it is, indeed, already under way.

There is a steady and widening demand for central business property on the part of local and outside capitalists, although but little of that kind is being offered for sale, downtown owners appearing to realise fully that they have a good thing, and to be determined to keep it for themselves.

There is no cessation in the demand for property on Olive street, Washington avenue and Pine street, east of Jefferson avenue; and the rapid progress of the new million-dollar hotel and other Twelfth street structures has caused a considerable enhancement of values on that splendid thoroughfare. Olive street prices from Fourteenth street to Jefferson avenue, and especially between Eighteenth and Jefferson, have greatly advanced in the past six months, owing to the sustained demand on the part of conservative investors, stimulated also by the operations of far-seeing speculators.

Broadway, too, north of Franklin avenue, and indeed as far north as Cass avenue, is receiving more attention than for many years past, and a number of costly modern buildings have been erected between Franklin avenue and Carr street, and several new buildings are contemplated in the same locality.

The outlook for an increase in residential accommodations, such as flats, dwellings and apartment houses, is not bright, owing to the increasing cost of building. This is a want that will be even more keenly felt next fall, when the city will be yet more crowded with strangers, attracted to St. Louis by the close approach of the World's Fair opening. Despite the high cost of building materials and labor, it would handsomely repay capitalists individually or in corporations to build this spring several hundred modern 8 to 10 room dwellings and a score or two of large apartment houses, in well-chosen localities. Apartment houses on the best streets of the West End and dwellings of the above description distributed throughout the same section and in the vicinity of Compton Heights and Tyler place, would be easily rented before completion, and would prove paying investments for many years to come.

Hamilton and Delmar a Focus of Interest.

Manager Jenkins of the Suburban Railroad announced last week the intention of his road to seek an entrance to the World's Fair grounds. This will doubtless be south from Maple avenue on De Hodiamont over the route viat which property owners at the intersection of Von Versen, Clemens and Cates avenues have already signed their approval. S. M. Kennard, president of the Suburban and vice-president of World's Fair company, will arrange, it is expected, for this public convenience which will probably be opposite the heart of the Exposition grounds.

In this connection it is understood that the transit company will send their Delmar, Easton and Page line cars over Delmar boulevard and south over their double track on Skinker road to what will be the nearest car entrance to the World's Fair Midway, thus relieving the congestion of their Olive and McPherson lines to their present terminus, Lindell pavilion.

These transportation plans have given a great impetus to the property prices west of Hamilton avenue in Cabanne. The bona fide $830 per foot transaction at the southeast corner of Delmar and Hamilton evidences this, and those who have had an eye on the properties north of Delmar and west of Hamilton have found a material stiffening of prices. Purchases can still be made on streets with all improvements at $50 and $60.

Coincident with this is the talked of change of name of Von Versen avenue to Morgan street, of which it is a virtual extension. The new Cabanne Christian Church has located on Von Versen avenue and Union boulevard, just opposite where Morgan intersects Union. The street department have shown their disposition to simplify street finding by reducing the names for the same street and it sextensions. Von Versen is a popular street not only for residence but for institutions, the Washington University having located one of its departments there and the Girls' Industrial Home is also there.

Good Inquiry for Good Houses.

C. R. H. Davis, president of the Royal Investment Co., states that the purchasing inquiry for good houses was better last week than for many years. Sensible people are fast becoming educated to the fact, he says, that experienced men can plan and build better for the people than inexperienced individuals can for themselves.

"The much-talked-of and much advertised fallacy," said Mr. Davis, "that something for nothing can be obtained after the World's Fair is fast losing even casual consideration among thinking, reasoning men. It seems, however, to be a part of human nature with some people to want to profit by the misfortune of others. These people are and still will be paying rent many years after the World's Fair is past, and values of property will still be going higher and higher.

"All building operations are very much unsettled. The fever of unrest is everywhere. Taking into consideration the fact that the building operations were less in St. Louis in 1902 than in 1901, that the population was increased in 1902 at least 25,000; that almost all of the available residence property today is occupied; that a conservative estimate for increase in actual permanent growth in population for 1903 and 1904 will be 100,000, where are we?"

Site for New $50,000 Church.

The new church, to be built by the Central and Mount Cabanne Christian congregations, will be at the southwest corner of Union and Von Versen avenues. The two congregations are to unite, and will form one of the largest religious bodies in the city.

The site for the new church has been bought at a cost of $30,000. The property was owned by the Brannek Realty Co. The location is one of the most desirable in the West End. On it the united congregation expects to build a edifice that will cost $50,000. Howard Gambrill & Co. made the deal.

Another Protective Association Formed.

The organization of the Kenmore Protective Association is right in line with the public-spirited movement in St. Louis for beautifying the city. This association has been organized for effective work in preserving the high-class residence character of Kensington avenue and Morgan street between King's highway and Union boulevard, and to protect the district from nuisances. It will also co-operate with the St. Louis Civic Improvement League, and materially assist in making and maintaining New St. Louis.

Lucas Avenue Dicker.

Jack Reardon is reported to have a deal pending for the sale of the northwest corner of Nineteenth and Lucas avenue, 27x153, at $10,000. It is diagonally opposite the St. Luke's Hospital.

AGENTS' REPORTS.

MERCANTILE TRUST CO.

The Mercantile Trust Co. reports that the magnificent list of sales published last Sunday was followed this week by a very satisfactory business. During the last week this company closed contracts on two important pieces of downtown property, details of which will be announced on passing of deeds during the next few days.

This company also sold the northeast corner of Franklin avenue and Leffingwell, being the triangular-shaped piece of property fronting Franklin, Leffingwell and Wash street, on which substantial brick stores and flats are erected. The property was sold for the account of Thereso O'Meara, who was represented in the transaction by Gov. John B. O'Meara. The property was sold for $27,000 and was purchased by Singer & Halbrohr, merchants, now located on Jefferson and Lucas avenues. The property is splendidly located and rents for nearly $4000 per annum, at present rentals, and forms the purchasers an excellent rate of interest.

Also sold house No. 5101 McPherson avenue, a modern and very attractive three-story red brick and sandstone residence. This house contains 12 rooms and every convenience, and occupies lot 62x185 feet, immediately adjoining the private walk leading from McPherson avenue to Delmar boulevard, sold for the account of Fidelio C. Sharp, the well-known attorney, for $13,000, the purchaser being Archibald W. Douglass, assistant secretary of Simmons Hardware Co., who bought for a home. This property had been in the hands of the Mercantile Trust Co. only about ten days when the sale was effected.

Mercantile Trust Co. also reports having effected sale of two prominent West End lots, names of purchasers being withheld by request until deeds are passed.

Also Nos. 3628-3630 Cass avenue, one large two-story brick house of 10 rooms and small frame cottage adjoining. Sold for the account of L. G. C. Miller for $6500 cash. Mr. Miller disposed of this property as he has built a handsome new home on a lot on Maryland avenue, purchased through the Mercantile Trust Co., several months ago. The property rents for $780 per annum and was purchased as an investment.

Also report the sale of another one of the handsome houses in Lindell place, being No. 4216 Greer avenue, a two and one-half story brick residence of nine rooms, bath and all conveniences, erected on lot 28x187. Sold for the account of Lindell Real Estate Co. for $6500, the purchaser being Charles Schlieting and wife, who bought on the attractive balance paying offer of the Mercantile Trust Co., with a view to paying for their home rather that continue paying rent.

Also lot on the north line of College avenue, between Florissant and Warne, in St. Louis University addition, lot being 30x124 feet sold for the account of the University for $30 per foot, or $900 cash, the purchaser being George Brincker, who bought for the purpose of improving.

The Mercantile Trust Co. reports that during the last week they effected a sale of a piece of downtown property and before the deeds had been passed the purchaser was offered a very handsome bonus for his earnest money receipt, which goes to show the healthy and improving condition of the real estate market.

Also sold lot 25x126 feet on the west line of Granville place, between Wells and Ridge avenues in Rose Hill. The lot was sold for the account of Richard Shields for $400, the purchaser being N. C. Hays, who contemplates erecting a house.

Also lot on the north line of Sullivan avenue, between Glasgow and Garrison avenues, in Lindell Park, fronting 50 feet on Sullivan avenue, by a depth of 154 feet. Sold for the account of Lindell Real Estate Co. for $40 per foot or $2000, the purchaser being Charles J. Boehn, who bought with a view of erecting a house on same.

The Mercantile Trust Co. reports that during the past week they rendered an appraisement to the trustee of a large St. Louis estate covering all the property of the estate, which embraces large downtown properties, as well as residences and lots in the outlying districts. The appraisement of real estate has proven to be an important department of the Mercantile Trust Co.'s general real estate business.

This company also reports having negotiated about the usual number of real estate loans and to have had a very healthy business in their leasing and rent departments, noting a particular increased inquiry from parties who are evidently strangers in the city.

LINCOLN TRUST CO.

The Lincoln Trust Co. reports the following sales:

House No. 5005 Kensington avenue, a modern two-story brick dwelling, with lot 30x167, from Mr. M. J. McCormack to Fred Gruseniger for $4500. Mr. Grueninger bought for an investment.

Also 5007 Page boulevard, a nine-room rock-front dwelling, lot 30x150, containing bath, furnace, etc., from Edwin Carey to Albert N. Collins for $6300. Mr. Collins bought for a home.

Also 6083 Maple avenue, modern two-story nine-room brick dwelling, with lot 50x160, from Lily A. Tweiker to John R. Newcomb for $4000. Mr. Newcomb bought for a home.

No. 2201 Madison street, arranged in one store and flats, with lot 25x100, from James K. McGrath to Peter Young for $17,000.

Also lots 11 and 12, Woodbine avenue, Tuxedo Park, and lots 8 and 14, Clark street, $400 each, from Kent Jarvis to Joseph Swift.

Also 1440 Clara avenue, four and five room flats, containing bath, etc., with lot 28x125, from Asbury R. Rosalo to Madge E. Parker, who bought for an investment.

Also 50 feet south side of Ridge avenue, east of Arlington, to a client for $1750.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY TRUST CO.

The real estate department of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. report a very satisfactory week's business, having closed sales amounting to $75,000.

They report the sale of 48 feet 8 inches on the east side of Main street by a depth of 108 feet 8 inches on the south side of Washington avenue, from Charles Green Real Estate Co. to a client, for $30,000.

They also report the sale of 42 feet 8½ inches on the west line of Front street by a depth of 111 feet, from Anna Burke to a client, for $35,000.

The Mississippi Valley Trust Co. report that the demand for residence property is steadily increasing, and report the sale of the two-story brick residence at 2227 Rutger street from Mary B. Sladek to Emily Bardenwerfer, for $3000, Mrs. Bardenwerfer having purchased this property for a home.

The Mississippi Valley Trust Co. also report the sale of 62 feet 8 inches on the east side of Commercial street, by a depth of 96 feet, from J. Gilman Chouteau to a client, for $15,000.

JOHN S. BLAKE & BRO.

Report the following sales during the week, aggregating $38,250:

Nos. 1328-28A and 1330-30A and 1328-32A Bayard avenue, six flats, renting for $1200 per annum, on lot 62 feet 6 inches by 127 feet, to William F. Sheehan to a client, for $10,000. Mr. Sheehan was represented by Giraldin Bros. & Cates.

Also 6040 West Cabanne place, handsome 11-room brick dwelling, on lot 65x200 feet, from Thrasher and Fannie E. Hall to Thos. C. Hennings, vice-president and manager of the American Bonding Co., for $10,000. Mr. Hennings will occupy this property as a home, having already taken possession.

Also 5603 Chamberlain avenue, 10-room frame residence, with lot 81x150 feet, from Joe. Winkle to Ida Whelan, for $8000, who acquired the property for a home.

Also 4656 Washington boulevard, modern 10-room dwelling, lot 34x167 feet, to Gordon Willis, for $10,250. The purchaser bought for a home.

JOHN A. WATKINS & CO.

John A. Watkins & Co. report the following sales:

2827 Russell avenue, six-room brick, with lot 30x130, from Mrs. Hallie G. Billups to Mrs. Frances Anhauser, for $3300. Mrs. Anhauser will improve the property by expending $1000.

Also 4284-86 and 4288 Cook avenue, consisting of six flats, with lot 60x160, renting for $1548 per year, from Chas. J. Daly to Emilia Peters, for $11,000.

HENRY HIEMENZ REALTY CO.

Home plot on South side of Connecticut street, west of Bent avenue, just south of Tower Grove Park, 50x334 to alley, for $600. Paul Walker took title from A. L. Buchanan of San Jose, Cal.

This means another cosy home will be added to the many that the Henry Hiemenz Realty Co. has sold there.

No. 5018 Meramec street. A large mansion with stable, carriage house and handsomely improved grounds, fronting 200 feet on Meramec street, extending from Minnesota avenue to Pennsylvania avenue and running northwardly to the alley. This property was known as elevated position Homestead, and occupies an elevated position overlooking an extensive district. It was owned by the successors of the F. W. Meister estate and was sold to H. J. Scheele, who will occupy it.

No. 5046 Magnolia street, 2-story, 5-room dwelling with lot 73x125 feet to alley, from John McNamara who conveyed to Charles Pairn of the east side, who will occupy it.

NICHOLLS-RITTER.

Sold lot 50x176 in Westminster place on the south side, between Lake and Union, for F. C. Bonsack, for $120 per front foot to A. K. Humphrey.

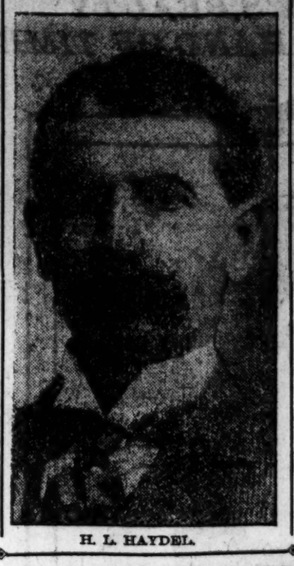

Also sold to Mr. C. R. Elliott for A. K. Humphrey, 5-room, brick dwelling, 4209 Maryland avenue, lot 25x140 feet for $7600.

They also sold for A. K. Humphrey to W. H. Barnett, 10-room, light brick residence, No. 4323 Washington boulevard, with lot 30x150 feet for $12,000.

Also sold for J. W. George to Charles B. Brown, the 6-room, brick house, 6116 Wells avenue, with lot 25x176, for $2160.

SUBURBAN HOME.

Mr. Edward Wymann has been appointed agent for the sale of the country residence of the late J. H. Crum at Glendale, near Kirkwood, Mo. This property should find a ready sale, as it possesses all the desirable features of a gentleman's country residence near a large city. Among the main desirable locations near St. Louis none excels this place in natural advantages. Situated on a very high and commanding site, amidst naturally beautiful surroundings, the late owner brought it to a high degree of excellence as a country residence. It has a fine orchard and the house is supplied with sanitary plumbing and heating arrangements not usually found in suburban homes. The fortunate purchaser will possess an unusually desirable and comfortable home. For further particulars see Mr. Wyman's announcement in another column.

H. L. HAYDEL.

LOVE & SONS.

Love & Sons report sales as follows:

N. S. WOOD.

N. S. Wood reports having sold No. 5079 Maple avenue, 9-room brick residence, lot 40x138, from A. J. James to a client for $6500.

ROYAL INVESTMENT CO.

The Royal Investment Co. to Mrs. Clara Hopkins Hayward, wife of Louis J. Hayward, 4637 Berlin avenue, a beautiful new 12-room house with lot 50x155, for $18,000. Mrs. Hayward purchased for a home. The house adjoins on the west the home recently built and sold by the Royal Investment Co. to Mr. S. S. De Lano, treasurer of the American Car & Foundry Co. Mrs. Hayward's home will be one of the most attractive on Berlin avenue. It was designed and built by the Royal Investment Co. and is now being finished to meet the wishes of the purchaser.

The house is what is known as a double house, having a very attractive entrance hall with darwing room on one side, library and dining room on the other, all finished in quarter-sawed white oak, stained Flemish, panelled wainscoting and beamed ceilings with very attractive bookcases built in the library; a large triple window in the dining room with a very comfortable seat about 12 feet long; a very handsome mantel with plate rail all around the room adds much to the beauty of this room. The kitchen and butler's pantry are large and light, finished in curly yellow pine. The entire first floor is finished in hardwood, hardwood polished floors. The second floor has four bedchambers and dressing room with two very elegant tiled and marble bath rooms.

The Royal Investment Co. also sold house number 4416 McPherson avenue for $10,000 to Dr. Joseph W. Charles. This house was also designed and built by the Royal Investment Co. having ten comfortable rooms, heated with hot water; all the latest conveniences; hardwood floors and hardwood finish; nickel-plated pulmbing; porcelain bath, tiled floors, cemented cellars, etc. In this house is one of the famous old Dutch dining rooms, designed by Mr. Davis, photographs of which appeared some time ago in both eastern and western papers.

COMMONWEALTH TRUST CO.

The Commonwealth Trust Co. sold the northeast corner of McPherson and Euclid avenues, with an average of 77x150 feet, from S. M. Kennard and others to the Joseph Lindenschmidt Grocer Co., for $105 a foot.

The Messrs. Lindenschmidt will at once improve the corner with a handsome modern store building, and occupy it with one of the finest grocery stores in the city.

WEBSTER GROVES.

Charles A. Baker in an interview reported as follows:

"The increased demand in St. Louis for residences is reflected in Webster Groves, where it is now very difficult to find houses to rent.

"Lots and residences are selling more freely, for pipes are being laid now to furnish filtered water from the Missouri river.

"Webster Park shows increased activity. This is no longer a new subdivision; it has successfully passed through the experimental stage of its career, and is recognized now as the best residence property in the suburbs of St. Louis.

"Eleven years ago a landscape architect of national repute was employed to lay out the property in true park style and with a liberality entirely new to the suburbs of St. Louis. The hills and valleys were not reduced to level but utilized to enhance the beauty of the landscape. The avenues are made to conform to the lay of the ground, and sweep around the center of the tract in graceful curves, many of them crossing at right angles, while at their intersections in some cases, are private parks. The lots in some cases, are private parks. The lots in Webster Park are not equaled in the views in Webster Park are not equaled in the vicinity of St. Louis.

"This property appeals to those who want room for lawns, shrubs, trees and flowers, and to those especially who have a taste for landscape gardening, as it offers ample room for these as well known St. Louis business and professional men located here."

THOMAS CARLIN'S MANEUVER.

Thomas Carlin, for several years connected with the Rutledge & Kilpatrick Real Estate Co., has opened an office on his own account at 108 North Ninth street. Mr. Carlin is a young man of wide experience in the business and has promise of success.

MRS. BATES IS IN DIRE DISTRESS

Wife of Missing Doctor Is Suffering in Paris.

ANXIOUS TO GET BACK TO THE UNITED STATES

Says Consul-General Gowdy Refused Her Assistance, but He Says She Deliberately Told Him a Falsehood.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.)

PARIS, April 4.—Mrs. William H. Bates, wife of the eye specialist who disappeared so mysteriously from his apartments at New York on Aug. 30 last, and who has since engaged in a fruitless search for him, is here destitute. With her are her mother, Mrs. Seaman, and Mrs. Bates' 12-year-old son, Halsey.

The three are living in great distress at 9 Rue Notre Dame des Champs. Mrs. Bates despairs now of ever finding her husband. As a last resort she has appealed to the Post-Dispatch to state her case, so that she may secure money enough to return to the United States, where she believes she can earn a living.

She complains bitterly of her treatment by Consul-General Gowdy, and declares her friends have deserted her. She says when she asked for financial assistance a deaf ear was turned to her. She says she has resources in New York which could be realized on if she could obtain sufficient money to get back.

Consul-General Gowdy told the Post-Dispatch correspondent today: "Mrs. Bates called for assistance with which to return to New York. She told me her mother was in America, and I learned later that Mrs. Seaman was in reality waiting for her at the door of the consulate. I have helped many to return to the United States, but I will do nothing for a woman who lied to me. I believe the woman's mind is affected and I think her son should be taken from her and cared for."

Americans here declare that if the woman's mind had been affected by the strain she has been under it would be all the better reason for the consul-general to have aided her in returning home.

A writer in a morning newspaper signing "Incognito, Hotel Continental," offered to pay the expenses of Mrs. Bates and her family to the United States. Inquiries at the hotel fail to show the presence of anyone making such an offer. For a time it was thought the writer might have been the missing Dr. Bates, the husband of Mrs. Bates, but no one answering his description has been near the hotel.

BATES WAS FOUND BUT WENT AGAIN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Considering the awful strain which Mrs. Bates has been under since the disappearance of her husband last August, it is not to be wondered that she is in a distressed frame of mind. She has spent every dollar she could obtain in a search for her husband.

Six weeks after his disappearance she found him at the Charing Cross Hospital in London. Although a graduate of several medical colleges, Dr. Bates had been entred as a student and told his wife he intended taking a post-graduate course. He could not explain his disappearance, but remembered writing his wife a letter telling her he was going away with a "Dr Fonchet" to perform some operations. He said he went aboard a sailing vessel and remembered nothing further.

On the day following his discovery Dr. Bates disappeared again. Before leaving New York Mrs. Bates enlisted the sympathies of the Masonic fraternity, of which Dr. Bates is a member. They sent out pictures and descriptions of him throughout the world, and it was largely through these that Mrs. Bates found him in London.

Mrs. Bates now believes he has been killed or has committed suicide.

Not only have Mrs. Bates' personal funds been exhausted in the search, but the doctor's father, Charles A. Bates, a government employe in Washington, has almost bankrupted himself in his efforts to find his son.

LIANE DE POUGY'S BEAUTY EFFACED BY HAND OF TIME

LEANE DE PAUGY

Once She Was the Most Captivating Woman in All Europe.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, April 4.—That beauty is but skin deep is a trite adage, which one sees exemplified every day.

A case in point is that of Liane de Pougy, who was one time admittedly one of the most beautiful, if actually not the most beautiful, woman in Europe, and whose hosts of admirers, or rather devoted slaves, represented men in almost every walk of life.

The ethereal beauty that laid almost a continent captive at her feet is now fast fading away, and no one who saw the fascinating woman some years ago and was dazzled by her charms could recognize in the Liane of the present day the Liane of the past. Then Liane de Pougy was a slender, splendid figure of the Greek type, a perfect brunette, with a languorous expression and the finest hair in the world.

She was the wife of an French naval officer, from whom she had a stormy separation when he discovered her in the apartment of one of his friends. Then she launched upon the gay world of Paris, where for years she has led many men to deeds of prodigality and some to death. From having taken a small part at once of the theaters she called herself an actress and later, spurred on by the taunts of Otero, the Spanish dancer, who actually was on the stage and pretended to regard her with disdain because of her equivocal position, she studied and qualified herself in a way for the music hall stage.

The De Pougy had for associate stars in the rapid life of the French capital such widely-known characters as Cleo de Merode, Otero, Nellie Neustretter, Yvonne de Treville and Nanette Stanley, and she was regarded as the chief of this galaxy of feminine loveliness. She was undisputed queen of Monte Carlo, where she went every year and where the season could not be said to have begun until the newspapers chronicled her arrival at the beautiful villa provided for her there by a fabulously rich German banker, with whom she long ago quarreled, but whose costly presents she keeps.

Liane was the favorite at different times of the King of the Belgians, Prince Napoleon Bonaparte, Gen. Boulanger, the Duke of Cambridge, Prince Henry of Orleans, Lord Onslow, Jean Lorraine, the poet, and of many other men of eminence.

After captivating all these she went to London, where Kind Edward is said to have become a victim of her charms.

UNITED STATES EMBASSIES RIVAL OTHERS IN SPLENDOR

Tower at Berlin Gets a Real Palace, While at St. Petersburg McCormick Impresses the Russians With His Mode of Living.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1904, by the Press Publishing Co.)

BERLIN, April 4.—Much criticism has been heard in diplomatic circles because the embassies of the United States in Europe were not housed in accordance with the importance of the country.

It has been explained that pretentious houses were not leased because the ambassador had to pay the rent from his own pocket, but it has been hard for Europe to understand that the United States makes no allowance for its diplomatic corps to entertain.

For the first time the embassy of the United States here is to be in a palatial residence belonging to a nobleman of high rank, now in reduced circumstances. The new ambassador, Charlemagne Tower, because of his great wealth, has been able to fit up an embassy worthy of his country.

Ambassador Tower's new home is one of the finest private buildings in Berlin. It is being decorated in a most artistic manner under his supervision. He is planning to make the embassy at Berlin the most brilliant in all Europe.

His palace windows overlook the stately Reichstag building and the colossal Bismarck statue. The new ambassador intends entertaining on a most lavish scale. He regrets that the reception and dining-rooms are not large enough for entertainments on a scale to meet his ambition.

BETTER TREATMENT AT ST. PETERSBURG

ST. PETERSBURG, April 4.—That the manner in which a United States embassy is housed has much to do with the importance attached to the ambassador is shown by the attention given Ambassador McCormick at St. Petersburg.

Mr. McCormick, being a man of much wealth, secured new and elaborate quarters for the embassy, and at his first reception the Czar instructed both his masters of ceremonies, Count Hendrikow and Prince Scheremetjew, to make all the arrangements for the ambassador and to officiate at the reception, introducing all the high functionaries of the court, the member of the government and the diplomatic corps to the United States representative.

By appointing the masters of ceremonies the Czar conferred a special distinction on Mr. McCormick.

When Ambassador McCormick called upon the Grand Duke Constantine Constatinowich he was received with great ceremony in the marble palace. After being presented the grand duke talked long with Mr. McCormick, expressing great admiration for the American people.

LONDON, April 4.—The English commission for the St. Louis Exposition is not expected to be gazetted for about 10 days.

Until then it cannot commence actual work, but so far as is possible, preparations are being rapidly pushed forward.

Circulars are being sent out to industries throughout the United Kingdom.

Col. Watson, the secretary of the commission, probably will sail for the United States at the end of April.

Easter Hat That Is Very Stylish

A stylish hat is just as important as a stylish gown, but thick, glossy hair is more important than either. It does not cost as much now to have nice hair as it does to get a nice hat, for the hair and scalp have of late been the subject of scientific research and study, in which all their little defects and disorders have been found out and a remedy discovered to correct them. Danderine is the name of this discovery, and it never fails to make the hair grow abundantly, thick and beautiful without changing its natural color a particle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage. NOW, at all druggists, in three sizes, 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

Four Ships Now Being Constructed by the Navigator, Who Says He'll Be Ready to Come to St. Louis if Proper Prizes Are Offered.

PARIS, April 4.—"So the Post-Dispatch is curious about my new airship," remarked Santos-Dumont to the Post-Dispatch correspondent who called today at his sumptuous apartments at 114 Champs Elysees, where electricity is employed everywhere about his premises. "I have made nothing public about it yet.

"It will carry 14 persons, and the machinery will be nearer the balloon than I have ever before had it. It will have a 40 horse-power petroleum motor. I shall be in the upper section and the passengers will be below as ballast—or, rather, as a center board, as I can't throw them out.

"My new shed at Neuilly is of canvas, 230x150 feet, the largest ever built.

"In the shed are places for my four airships. One will be entered in the race for the Deutsch prize. The second is the one to carry fourteen. The third is my 80 horse-power speed machine. The fourth is a runabout, having less than four horse-power, the smallest ever made.

"My new machine for fourteen is all ready, but the pieces are scattered in different factories. I hope to have it available in a month. I shall make excursions with the ship constructed to carry fourteen passengers—short trips, at a fare of 10 cents a pound. Thus 'papa,' weighing 200 pounds, will pay $2, while 'baby' and 'mamma' will pay at proportionate rates.

"With the present arrangement of the machinery to prevent pitching, I believe there is no more danger than in an automobile. There will be no trees, no quarries, no police, no fire apparatus in the way.

"The airship for fourteen costs only about twice as much as one for myself.

"I shall be ready to go to St. Louis if the proper prizes are offered."

STRANGLER'S WORK STARTLES PARIS

Miser Victim's Safe Contained Codfish Wrapped in Thousand Franc Notes.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.)

PARIS, April 4.—The strangling of defenseless victims as practiced by Eyraud more than a decade ago, is startling Paris at the present moment.

The latest victims are two women.

One of them, Mrs. Mervelet, was found dead after midnight, strangled, in a hall behind the cafe she kept at Charenton.

Passers-by heard voices.

Some say the voices spoke German, English, French, Italian, Russian and even Greek. It is thought the strangler was an escaped lunatic, who chattered while he was killing.

The only person arrested is a woman who is addicted to morphine and alcohol. But the victim was a powerful woman and as no outcry was heard it seems impossible that the prisoner could have perpetrated the murder.

The other victim was named Lagezi, who lived alone in a fashionable quarter of Neuily. She was rich, but miserly.

The thieves missed $14,000 in securities which was hidden in a pile of rags, and $8000 concealed in a tomato can.

The safe was not opened. In it was found a codfish, wrapped in a roll of thousand francs notes. Altogether the police found about $200,000.

The house, which had always been kept closed, was found to be in the utmost disorder.

LONDON, April 4.—News has reached London that beautiful Gladys Deacon has been very ill at her mother's residence in Versailles.

She has taken a prolonged rest cure, and is said to be very much better now, though it will be some time before she can go into society.

Her sister, Audray, who is thought by many to be even more beautiful than Gladys, is to be brought out this year in London.

The Marlboroughs are much interested in her, and will place her to the top rung of the social ladder from the start.

BETTER TIMES FOR IRELAND ASSURED BY NEW LAND BILL

Favor With Which it Has Been Received Indicates That it Will Become a Fact and Better Transportation Is Also in Sight for the Farmers.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.)

LONDON, April 4.—Ireland again occupies the center of the political stage in the United Kingdom. All eyes are concentrated on the unprecedented situation created there by the British cabinet's complete change of policy. The King's plan to visit Ireland next August is regarded as signal evidence of his satisfaction at the turn affairs had taken.

Largely owing, as the Post-Dispatch dispatches explained months ago, to his direct influence, the land bill, though needing extensive amendments to make it workable, is regarded by Irishmen as the strongest evidence of the ministerial good intention.

Then the grant for Irish development of $350,000 a year is intended to be the foundation for the home rule edifice. An Irish authority representative of all sections and classes to be created later on to manage this money is to be followed by the forming of a national legislative council—a parliament in all but the name—to manage exclusively Irish affairs.

The munificent offer of W. J. Pirie and Lord Iveagh to establish a system of transportation without profit to themselves throughout Ireland in order to enable the farmers to get their produce cheaply to market is made by them in recognition of the improved state of feeling throughout Ireland between the hitherto hostile classes. The idea of the scheme is to feed the railways by motor vans from the country districts to free existing canals and to canalize certain rivers.

Lord Iveagh, a multimillionaire, is prepared to sink $20,000,000 in these projects. Nothing could be more significant of the condition of Ireland than the announcement that all recruiting for police is stopped, the police being the mainstay of the evil system now abandoned.

Of course, accidents may happen to prevent the fruition of the new policy. The government may be defeated on some English measure. The Irish convention may (though this is improbable) adopt a cautious attitude toward the land bill. In the latter event the government would drop the bill, Chief Secretary Wyndham, Viceroy Dudley and the under secretary, Sir Antony MacDonnel, who are personally identified with the new regime, would throw up their offices and affairs would fall back into the old rut. But the outlook is vastly more hopeful now than when Gladstone introduced home rule. Then the Unionists were savagely hostile. Now the Liberals are willing to help the Unionists in the work of pacification.

Syphilis or Blood Poison

A Wonderful New Discovery has Been Made that Cures the Blood Poison that Makes Ulcers and Copper-Colored Spots and Eats Flesh, Bone and Hair.

The Illustrations Above Plainly Show What This Grand Discovery Will Do in From 10 to 20 Days.

No matter how bad your case of blood poison may be, no matter in what stage of syphilis you may be, we can cure you quickly and permanently. We have treated cases with the legs drawn up over onto the chest, the body covered with ulcers, the hair gone, the internal organs badly damaged, the brain affected, and the bones of the nose and throat involved. In two weeks the sores were dried and healed, the limbs had become flexible, and in a very short time the patient was completely cured.

DAISY LEITER BREAKS HEARTS

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.)

LONDON, April 4.—Before "Daisy" Leiter reached London it was falsely reported that she was betrothed to Lord Kitchener.

It was Capt. Marker of Kitchener's staff who fell a victim to "Daisy's" charms during the "Durbar Days," but Mrs. Leiter now indignantly denies that there was any engagement.

Another gallant soldier, Capt. Meade, a son of the Earl of Clanwilliam, is ever at her beck and call in London. Every morning at 8:30 he waits for her with a horse and his escort, and both canter across Grosvenor Square into the Row, where they ride until 10 o'clock.

So regular is the meeting, regardless of the weather, that comment is unavoidable, particularly as he is well known in "smart" circles.

Mrs. and Miss Leiter will go in a week or two for a short stay abroad, probably to Biarritz. They will return in May, and remain for the early entertainments of the season.

"Daisy's" energy puts her in contrast to the English girls. No matter how late she seeks her couch, the next morning she is astir at 8.

WILL CHANGE THE COURT DATE

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.)

LONDON, April 4.—It is thought probable that King Edward will change the date of his next court, May 8, in order to avoid interfering with the great fancy dress ball which Mrs. Adair, formerly of New York, is to give to inaugurate the London season. Each quadrille, consisting of 10 persons, will represent some picturesque period of dress.

Lady Barrymore, her sister, is arranging an Irish square dance, in which the costumes worn will be those of the Irish queens and the princes of Tyrconnell, copied from ancient manuscript in the Hibernian Academy at Dublin. The countess of Warwick will lead the pompadour quadrille.

PARIS MAY HISS ALL INDECENCY

Senator Beranger Is Planning a Brigade for That Purpose.

THINKS OF CUTTING OFF PAY OF THE CENSORS

He Has Spies to Keep Him Informed of the Character of Performances and He Means to Adopt Vigorous Measures.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, April 4.—"If we had in Paris a great newspaper like the New York World to champion the purity of the stage a hissing organization against indecent plays would not be necessary," said Senator Beranger to the Post-Dispatch correspondent today in talking of the hissing brigade which he is contemplating and the prospect of which has caused a commotion here.

Senator Beranger is the father of the measure known as the Beranger law and the president of the Society for the Purity of the Public Streets. He is known and revered throughout France.

"I am glad of the opportunity to make clear through the Post-Dispatch," the senator continued, "the real sentiment of France on the subject.

"True stage censorship has become such a mockery that I have favored organized hissing. But there is no farmal organization yet. No law permitting hissing is needed. Buying a ticket gives the right to hiss. The privilege is undisputed. But one man's hissing starts a riot and he is ejected as disorderly. Right-minded men and women must act together. Then the police will not dare to interfere.

"There is a sort of freemasonry among authors, journalists and actors here, and often the latter produce the worst plays, so no help comes from that direction.

"The small theaters are the worst offenders, and the nudity is as bad as the words, even in the children's spectacles. At the Chatelet there is the Bacchus ballet, and at the Opera the new 'Orphee au Enfers.'

"The play 'L'Hommes L'Oreille Casse,' at the Theater Athenee, was the worst violation of censorship in recent years, but I have secured a change in the lines. I have young men now who will report stage indecency, and on their reports being verified, if no relief is obtained from the censor, I may resort to organized hissing measures.

"The present tendency of the stage is against morals. Marital infidelity is joked about. It is impossible to take children to the theaters, and foreigners are given a false impression of home life of France.

"I have thought about introducing a bill in the Senate cutting off the salaries of the three censors, but I shall reserve that action."

Yale's $450,000 Buildings.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 4.—President Hadley of Yale has made public some of the plans of the corporation for a large rebuilding scheme, involving the older buildings on the campus. The plan contemplates the expenditure of $450,000, which it is hoped will be given by graduates within a few years. President Hadley said that of this amount it will be planned to use $75,000 for building the second section of the library, $30,000 to build the South Middle College, at the angle of the library between it and Dwight Hall and 10,000 to move Alumni Hall a little back from its present position.

NEW TRAINS BUT FARE IS HIGHER

Tuxedo and Webster Groves Citizens Object to Paying More for Tickets.

IT COSTS NO MORE TO RIDE THROUGH TO KIRKWOOD

Price of Ten Tickets Increased From 75 Cents to $1 and Commuters Say It Is Discrimination and Is Unfair.

Webster Groves and Tuxedo are paying at the rate of $7500 a year for improved suburban train service which the Missouri Pacific Railroad inaugurated Thursday.

Kirkwood is getting the same improvements without paying anything additional for them. As a result there is dissatisfaction among the residents of Webster Groves and Tuxedo, who use Missouri Pacific trains twice a day between their homes and their places of business in St. Louis.

Until Thursday the fare between Tuxedo and Webster Groves and St. Louis was 7½ cents when 10 tickets were bought at a time. Since Thursday it has been 10 cents. Kirkwood paid $1 for 10 tickets before Thursday, and has been paying no more since then.

The improvement in the train service consists of three additional trains daily into St. Louis and four additional outward bound. The new trains arrive in Union Station at 7:40 and 9:40 in the morning and 7:40 in the evening. They leave the station outward bound at 7:50 and 11.20 in the morning and 6 and 11:15 at night.

The additional trains were put on at the request of committees from Kirkwood, Webster Groves and Tuxedo, of which Mayor Ryan of Kirkwood and Mayor Young of Webster Groves were members.

There are between 400 and 500 residents of Webster Groves and Tuxedo who use the Missouri Pacific every day. They pay 5 cents a day more for the round trip than they did before Thursday.

"Of course 10 cents each way is the same that the street railway charges," said a Tuxedo resident, "but they take us to Sixth and Olive, whereas the steam railroad leaves us at Eighteenth and Market streets, and we must pay another carfare to get downtown. The 7½-cent rate was in effect before the street cars were running to the country.

"Anyway, why shouldn't Kirkwood pay part of the increase?"

"As a result of the additional service," said H. C. Townsend, general passenger agent for the Missouri Pacific, Saturday, "we have had to employ an additional train crew. The committees from the suburban towns asked for an additional train each way daily. The suburban crews under the old arrangement had all they could do, and so when we hired another crew we decided to put on three trains one way and four the other instead of the one which was asked. This has increased the cost.

"The plan was talked over with the committee which conferred with Vice-President Harding, Manager Cotter and myself. It was considered satisfactory. The charge from Tuxedo and Webster Groves should always have been $1 for 10 tickets instead of 75 cents for 10 tickets. The electric lines charge $1, and we should too."

LONDON, April 4.—"Smart" society is still eagerly discussing the trouble between Mrs. George Cornwall West (Lady Randolph Churchill) and the Irish viceroy and vicerine. It seems that the Dudleys are very ceremonious when in Ireland, and even Lord Dudley's mother has to curtsey to him when she enters a room where he is. Young George West, unmindful of these royal formalities, asked an aid-de-camp to tell "Eddy"—that is, the viceroy, the Earl of Dudley—"to come and play golf."

LONDON, April 4.—Ellen Terry will begin an entirely new line of business at Mrs. Langtry's theater April 14, producing a series of Ibsen's plays, beginning with "The Vikings."

Her friends are aghast at this enterprise, which is due entirely to the influence of her son, Gordon Craig, who holds most advanced views on the drama and art, and is an enthusiastic Ibsenite. He has declared war on the dramatic stars with big salaries and maintains that a theater company should be formed on the same principle as a first-class orchestra with good average pay all around.

HAVE YOU GOT RHEUMATISM?

YOU CAN BE CURED, FREE

A Scientific Discovery Which Will Revolutionize the Treatment of Rheumatism.

Deformity of the hands in general Chronic Articular Rheumatism. Type No. 2.

Deformity of the hands in general Chronic Articular Rheumatism. Type No. 1.

It is now possible to be cured of any form of rheumatism without having your stomach turned upside down or being half choked to death and made to vomit, and every sufferer from rheumatism should welcome this new and marvelous discovery with open arms and give it an honest trial. This new remedy was discovered by John A. Smith, Milwaukee, Wis., who is generous enough to send it free to every sufferer who writes at once. It is a home treatment and will not keep you from your work.

As you know, if you've tried them, every so-called rheumatic remedy on the market today, except the genuine cure, will cause you violent stomach pains and vomiting, and some of them are so dangerous they will cause heart-trouble. And the worst of it is they never cure. When a person has rheumatism the constitution is so run down that he should be very careful what he puts into his stomach.

It therefore gives me pleasure to present a remedy that will cure every form and variety of rheumatism without one single unpleasant feeling. That remedy is

"GLORIA TONIC."

Before I decided to tell the world about the discovery of "Gloria Tonic" I had it tried on hospital patients, also on old and crippled persons, with perfect success. But some people never will believe anything until they know it from experience, so that the best and quickest way is for you to write me that you want to be cured, and I will send you a box of "Gloria Tonic" free of cost. No matter what your form of rheumatism is—acute, chronic, muscular, inflammatory, deformant, sciatic, neuralgia, gout, lumbago, etc.—"Gloria Tonic" will surely cure you. Do not mind if other remedies have failed you, nor mind if doctors say you are incurable. Mind no one, but write me today sure. "Gloria Tonic" will stop those aches and pains, those inflammations and deformities, and cure you so that life will again be worth living. This offer is not for curiosity-seekers, but is made to rheumatics only. To them I will send a trial box of "Gloria Tonic" free.

Never before has a remedy been so highly indorsed as "Gloria Tonic." It has been indorsed by such world-noted men as Dr. Quintero of the University of Venezuela; Hon. E. H. Plumacher, United States Consul, Maracaibo; Prof. Macadam of Surgeons' Hall, Edinburgh; the famous magazine "Health," London, and a column of others.

If you are a sufferer cut this advertisement out and send it to me with your name and address plainly written and by return mail you will receive "Gloria Tonic," and also the most elaborate book ever written on the subject of rheumatism, absolutely free. This book contains many drawings from actual life and will tell you all about your case. You get "Gloria Tonic" and this wonderful book at the same time, both free, so let me hear from you at once and soon you will be cured. Address JOHN A. SMITH, 1884 Germania bldg., Milwaukee, Wis., U. S. A.

RUPTURE

St. Louis has some of the most skilled physicians and surgeons in the world. Some of them have no superior in general practice. Rupture, however, has been frightfully neglected by regular practicing physicians. The previous imperfect method of coping with rupture and the continued spread of that malady should arouse the ambition and humane indignation of eminent medical men everywhere to avail themselves of the means of effectively removing so dreadful an evil. While a regularly graduated physician possessing the highest qualifications of the general practitioner, Dr. W. A. Lewin, located in the Lewin building, 604 Washington avenue, has preferred to invest his talents in the perfection of his treatment for rupture and the practice of that specialty. His phenomenal success, more remarkably instanced in cases of long standing and involving complications of seemingly impossible eradication, has been to fully justify his claims to the discovery of the only absolutely effective and proper basis of treatment for rupture. He believes in discarding the truss. It is aggravating and retarding instead of contributing any salutary effect, and, proceeding by tested remedial agencies, entirely relieved of any surgical operation, he quickly overcomes the conditions of rupture and effectually and permanently removes them. The spring season is the time to receive the best and most speedy results and in a few days you will be enabled to pass through the long heated term without being burdened with a heavy, cumbersome, chafing truss. The enlightened methods of Dr. W. A. Lewin have long impressed the medical fraternity as the only ones worthy of universal recognition in curing rupture. To what extent the practice of this eminent physician has proven successful within late years is truly attested by the numerous cases of rupture he has cured, even in the most desperate forms, with little or no inconvenience to the patient.

He does not require a penny until the patient is cured. A lady attendant is associated with the doctor, thus relieving every embarrassment to ladies calling for treatment. Send for a pamphlet on the subject of rupture. Call or address

WIRELESS SYSTEM ON CHANNEL

PARIS, April 4.—The Northern of France Railway Co. has decided to install wireless telegraphy on its Dover-Calais cross-channel steamships Nord and Pas de Calais. A land station will be erected at the harbor station, Calais.

Some time ago an effort was made to introduce wireless telegraphy on all the packets running between Dover and Calais, but the obstructive tactics of the English postal authorities prevented a receiving station being erected on their side of the channel. Even now the French mail packets, like the Belgian boats, will not be able to communicate with Dover, however necessary a message may be.

WIVES WATCHED DEPUTIES

One Frenchman Wanted a Note to Show His Wife Where He Had Been.

PARIS, April 4.—When the Chamber of Deputies closed its record session of 27 hours this week a member from the Gironde who is said to be a model husband went to the president and hesitatingly asked for a line certifying that he had passed the night in the legislative chamber.

Several wives who had spent the night in the galleries accompanied sleepy deputies home.

The chamber was considering the budget, and long before the debate closed the legislators were overcome with fatigue, and many snored audibly. When a vote was taken ushers were dispatched for deputies slumbering in easy chairs in the committee rooms or on benches in the corridors. All night the budget played shuttlecock between chamber and Senate, the latter refusing to pass clauses inserted by the deputies.

When the budget was returned from the Senate at 6 a. m. with amendmnets, the savage deputies shouted, "Down with the Senate!"

One forgetful deputy was awakened at 7 o'clock by an usher who said a cabman had been waiting for him since 11 o'clock the previous evening.

YOUNG'S FATHER SILENT.

He Refuses to Talk of Case of Mormon Murderer.

NEW YORK, April 4.—John W. Young, father of Hooper Young, who is now serving a life sentence in Sing Sing for the murder of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer, has returned from his long sojourn abroad.

Concerning the rumor that he had married Miss Lillian Judge of this city, and the report that financial trouble had overtaken him as a result of his connection with the United States shipbuilding combination, Mr. Young was silent. His answer to all questions invariably was:

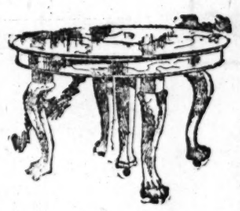

"I have no statement to make. By and by, perhaps."

There was nothing in the appearance of Mr. Young that would hint of the illness that was said to have menaced his life in Paris. He looked well, and said he felt very well.

He shook his head when his son's name was mentioned and refused to talk of the case.

A COMMON MISTAKE—IS IT YOURS?

You and I, and nearly all of us, were early taught that the Spring was the time to cleanse and otherwise overhaul our physical being, and in pursuance of this plan many make the mistake of lashing weakened kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels with some drastic drugs, forcing them to increased activity—but not removing the cause of their diseased condition.

An item of interest concerning three leading St. Louis physicians who are taking Vibratory treatment:

Here are three men of high standing, men versed in medical knowledge and experience, who realizing that they were powerless to help themselves by methods of treatment which they were masters of, first investigate, and then place themselves under my vibratory treatment. Now can you afford to contemptuously pass by when these men, who know infinitely more than you do concerning diseases and their cure, agree in saying with the London Lancet (the great medical authority) that the vibratory methods used by me mark a new era in the treatment and cure of disease?

VIBRATORY TREATMENT

for the kidneys, liver and all the organs of digestion, has been and is daily being proven to be the most remarkable treatment ever devised for the permanent cure of all their affections—going right direct to the seat of the trouble, absolutely destroying all germs, and giving to those organs renewed vitality and the permanent strength which will enable them to KEEP YOU IN HEALTH.

Bright's disease, always following any neglected diseased condition of kidneys, is cured by my Vibratory Treatment.

Read the accompanying voluntary and genuine testimonial from a man who was pronounced dying. There is no other physician in the world who can point to such a remarkable case. If I could accomplish so much in so serious a case, do you not believe that I can do as much for you?

The Letter of Mr. J. C. Ward of 2110 Olive Street.

I undoubtedly had Bright's Disease when you took my case. As you saw, I was greatly emaciated; was suffering nervously—and as your tests, as well as two other physicians' tests, showed—I had tube casts.

Dr. S—— could only hold out the promise of easing me what little time I might live. I was as good as a dead man when you started to cure me three months ago. I now weigh 38 pounds more than when I commenced. I have none of the symptoms and feel perfectly well in every way.

Very sincerely yours,
J. C. WARD.

And I can show you equally remarkable results in all of the following diseases:

Catarrh,	Paralysis,	Hemorrhoids (Piles),
Deafness,	Epilepsy,	Consumption (first stage),
Bronchitis,	Nervous Debility,	Diseases of Heart,
Asthma,	Stricture,	Diseases of Kidneys,
Dropsy,	Varicocele,	Diseases of Liver,
Goitre,	Lost Vitality,	Diseases of Bladder,
Dyspepsia,	Blood Poison,	Diseases of Women,
Rheumatism,	Ulcers,	Diseases of Skin,
Stiff Joints,	Neuralgia,	Diseases of Men,

Do you wonder, then, that I guarantee you an absolutely permanent and speedy cure, no matter what condition you are in or who has previously treated you?

Consultation is free and invited. If you can not call, write me and your letter will be promptly and personally answered.

100 PERSONS FALL IN RIOT AT MONTEREY

Clash Between the Reyes and the Anti-Reyes Factions in the Streets of the City.

ONE SIDE LED BY A GIANT

Over 500 Shots Were Fired and Many Persons Were Wounded by the Bullets Which Filled the Air.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 3.—According to an American resident of Monterey, Mexico., who reached here this afternoon, the number killed in the riot yesterday will never be known. He says the number may be 50 or it may be 100.

He witnessed the whole affair at close range and says at least 500 shots were fired.

He will not permit his name to be used, for he is an American manufacturer in Monterey, and his business would be imperiled if it were known that he had given information. He said:

"Gen. Bernardo Reyes is a candidate for re-election and is supported by the progressive, decent element, because he is honest and will permit no grafting. He is opposed by a party headed by a lawyer named Pancho Reyes.

"The leaders of this party want to get in for the sake of the graft. Both parties arranged demonstrations yesterday, which was the anniversary of the battle of Puebla.

"The anti-Reyes faction started their procession at the Alameda plaza, on the other side of town from the Zarogozza plaza. The Reyes faction started their parade from Zarogozza plaza. This party was unarmed, while I saw arms on most of the anti-Reyes men.

"The Reyes parade avoided the other party and dispersed quietly when its demonstration was over. The anti-Reyes faction continued its parade until it reached Zarogossa plaza. At the head of it was a giant on horseback who, when he reached the front of the place, wheeled his horse, blocking the street. The crowd naturally marched up quickly, being pushed by those behind.

"The mounted police lined the streets and plaza to keep order and were aided in this by the foot police.

"I was standing on the sidewalk watching the scene. I looked for trouble because most of the men were drunk and carried arms.

"Suddenly a big fellow threw his arms across the sidewalk and shouted 'Death to Reyes.' This was taken up on all sides.

"The police paid no attention to the cries, having been instructed to bear everything except actual assault.

"An officer stepped to this fellow and told him to move on, as he was blocking the way. The man struck the officer. The latter grasped him around the body, and, as he did so, another in the mob sprang forward and, pressing his revolver to the officer's side, fired.

"The gendarme dropped dead. Then and only then did an officer fire and kill the man who had fired the first shot.

Man Shot at Random Into Crowd.

"Then I saw a man step up on the sidewalk and shouting 'Death to Reyes,' fire promiscuously into the crowd. He was killed by the police. By this time others in the mob were shooting.

"I watched closely to see the demeanor of police. They fired only when fired upon and then only at those who were shooting. By [illegible] the shooting was general and bullets were flying all about me, so I ducked into the office of the Sonora News Co. and barred the door.

"I climbed up and watched the riot from the transom. I saw the big man on horseback, who had been leading the procession, fire point blank at Chief of Police Sarogoza, who was also on horseback.

"Then ensued the most thrilling duel I ever witnessed. Both men were giants and, while bullets were flying all about them from those in the mob, they calmly emptied their weapons at each other.

"The chief's first shot struck the other in the breast. I saw him wince, and then straighten up and keep firing.

"When he had emptied his weapon, he toppled over and fell dead on the pavement. So far as I could see, the chief of police was not hurt.

"Shooting was going on all over the plaza and in the side streets. The anti-Reyes people carried their wounded and dead away as quickly as possible, and, for this reason, the number of killed and wounded will probably never be known.

"In the meantime, the police, with admirable discipline, had been closing in on the crowd, pushing them to side streets and breaking up the dense mass in the plaza and finally succeeded in clearing it, and the riot was stopped.

"From my vantage point I saw many bodies, whether only wounded or dead, I could not tell, being carried away, and, when I came out, I found that the plaza was literally running with blood. Houses all around were mu[illegible]ked with bullets.

"My wife was on a street car which was caught in the mob when the shooting began. She jumped off and ran into a building. When she came out she stepped four dead bodies piled almost at the [illegible]

[illegible] Reyes gave orders that no news be allowed to go out, this being [illegible]e of the government. I left Mon[illegible] last night and shooting was still [illegible] on in a scattering way all over the [illegible]ut, of course, I do not know whether [illegible]e was killed.

[illegible]was an awful affair, but, from what [illegible] I don't see how the police could [illegible]done anything but what they did. [illegible]bore the most outrageous insults [illegible]hout without retaliating.
